

One Is Killed And Three Critically Injured In Crash

One person was killed and three others critically injured when their speeding car failed to make a curve on South Grand Street, plunged into a tree on a triangular stretch of ground separating South Grand and St. John Drive, and overturned.

The car, demolished in the accident, caught on fire but the flames were extinguished before much harm was done.

Dead was Otis Franklin (Frank) Lightner, 27, of 1908 Riverside, Monroe. He was a printer in a West Monroe printing shop and was formerly an employee of the Monroe News-Star—World. He was driving the car.

Injured, and all on the critical list, are:

C. L. Lowery, 26, of Boas, Ala., a passenger in the left rear seat of the car. He suffered a broken back, two fractures of the right leg, and severe lacerations.

Leroy E. Brinker, 23, with the navy at Memphis, Tenn. He suffered a broken leg, cuts about the head and face, and bruises.

R. D. Holloway, 37, 1615 South 6th street. He suffered a broken nose, broken upper jaw, broken face bones, and severe lacerations of the face.

The attending physician said all of them were being held in St. Francis Hospital, and were under observation for possible internal injuries. He said all suffered from shock.

According to Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, Lightner was killed instantly as a result of a traumatic brain injury and a crushed chest.

His body was taken Saturday to the family home in Elba, Ala., where funeral services are scheduled to be held Sunday.

Dr. French said his investigation of the case is being delayed because of the condition of Lightner's passengers, since they were the only witnesses.

Investigating officers W. J. Runnelt and Jim Standard said the accident occurred about 2:30 a. m. Saturday, while Lightner's car was heading north on South Grand street.

They said the car was heading north "at a very high rate of speed" when it reached the curve where St. John Drive opens onto South Grand street.

Instead of taking either South Grand or St. John drive, the car went straight. It leaped the curb, traveled over several bushes and crashed into the tree, then flipped to the right and overturned.

Some witnesses said all three of the men were thrown from the car. While others said one of the men had to be taken from the back seat because of the flames.

All of them were taken by ambulances from Mulhearn and Hixson Brothers Funeral Homes to the hospital.

The fire department was called out and quickly extinguished the fire. The car was removed by a wrecker company.

Lightner is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. C. Lightner of Elba, Ala., and one sister, Mrs. J. V. Smith of Montgomery, Ala.

Solon Predicts Cotton Acreage Allotment Hike

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 16 (AP)—Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.) said today U. S. Department of Agriculture officials told him the department would approve a 1955 national cotton allotment of about 20 million acres.

Eastland declined to reveal the names of the "high officials" but said he conferred with them by telephone.

He said the department "realizes the reduction to 18,113,000 acres from the 21,300,000 this year is too drastic and will injure the economy of the cotton growing states."

This is a matter which must be agreed on by the cotton growing industry so it can pass the legislature speedily in January, he said. Then he added, "I believe the matter can be worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned."

The senator said he plans to confer with senators from the western states within a few days. "This procedure was highly satisfactory in January," he said, "and I am confident that common sense will prevail and we can work it out again."

Lodge Assails 8 American UN Employees

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. Oct. 16 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief of U. S. delegate to the United Nations, charged today that eight American employees of doubtful loyalty were being kept on the UN pay roll by Dr. Luther Evans, American head of the organization.

Lodge strongly criticized Evans, former Librarian of Congress, for an action which he said frustrates U. S. efforts to insure high integrity among American staff members of international organizations.

Evans has headed the U. N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, a specialized agency of the U. N. with headquarters in Paris, since July 4, 1953. A native of Texas, he had since 1949 been a member of the executive board of UNESCO and was chosen as a compromise candidate for the top post to succeed Mexico's Jaime Torres-Bodet.

Lodge, who set up new loyalty quizzes for Americans employed in the United Nations shortly after he became the permanent U. S. delegate in 1953, noted in a statement issued through the U. S. mission here that UNESCO was outside his jurisdiction. He added:

"I have a responsibility as U. S. representative to the United Nations to see that fair play exists. It should, therefore, be crystal clear that there have been no such problems in the U. N. itself."

"Such matters have been well solved, without impairing the independence of the secretariat," he did not elaborate on this point, and a U. S. spokesman said he did not know whether the U. S. procedure turned up any new loyalty cases here.

But in UNESCO, Lodge charged, eight U. S. citizens employed by the organization have had loyalty reports from the U. S. International Organizations Employees Loyalty Board. He did not identify them but described them thus:

"Concerning these eight persons the board found reasonable doubt as to their loyalty to the United States. Only one of these eight persons concurred to accept the board's invitation merely to meet with it when it was in Paris last summer. The seven others were in such contempt of the whole procedure that they did not bother to appear at the board's meeting."

Lodge said Evans had stated he would not renew contracts of four of these but noted that Evans had taken no steps to suspend any of the eight and said this act frustrates the attempt to set up integrity standards.

Lodge added: "Dr. Evans' policy also clearly implies a belief on his part that U. S. citizens, by virtue of their employment by UNESCO, somehow obtain a status different from that of other U. S. citizens who are employees of other international organizations."

A spokesman identified only one of the eight, David Left, who defied several U. S. court orders to return to the United States to testify on loyalty questions raised about him.

Last Old-Time Political Boss, E. H. Crump, Dies

MEMPHIS, Oct. 16 (AP)—E. H. (Boss) Crump, the nation's last oldtime big city political boss, died today. He was 80.

His Memphis "Machine" made or broke Tennessee governors, senators and representatives for more than 20 years.

Death was due to a heart ailment. He died at home.

Neither Crump nor his candidates were ever beaten in his own backyard—Memphis and Shelby county (pop. 520,000).

But he lost much of his statewide influence in the 1948 Democratic primary. He never gained it back.

The bushy-browed, white-haired politico, wealthy head of a real estate and insurance firm, died after a gradual decline in health first noted last August.

His smooth machine was considered a model by organization politicians throughout the nation.

QUITTING — Prime Minister Daniel Malan, of the Union of South Africa, announced he will retire from office Nov. 30. As head of the Nationalist Party he has been the leading fighter for white supremacy in South Africa.

U. S. Information Office In Amman, Jordan, Burned

DAMASCUS, Syria, Oct. 16 (AP)—Syrian press reports said a state of emergency was declared today in Amman, Jordan, following disorders in which several persons were wounded and the U. S. Information Office burned.

The reports said Jordan's army has occupied crossroads and important centers in Amman and placed Western embassies under heavy guard.

Clashes between the army and demonstrators took place after six candidates in the Amman constituency withdrew from the parliamentary election, accusing the government of partiality, the newspaper reports said.

No one was in the USIS building when rioters set fire to the structure and no American casualties were reported.

While telephoning his story to Damascus, Syria, the Associated Press correspondent was cut off, apparently by government censors. The rioting began when opposition parties in Amman withdrew from the Jordan elections, complaining of government interference.

The voting was for 40 members of a new Chamber of Deputies under a new system permitting authorized groups to campaign for the first time as political parties. The street battles lasted more than five hours. At the library the demonstrators stoned the building for half an hour before breaking in. Then they held police back for another hour while the library and roof burned.

The government communique reported the clashes were between security forces and "members of extremist unlicensed parties." It added, however, that the elections "proceeded in a regular way in the capital and quite smoothly in other parts of the country."

Reds Accused Of Fomenting Dock Walkout

Head Of British Union Appeals To Striking Workers

LONDON, Oct. 16 (UP)—Arthur Deakin, chief of Britain's biggest union, accused the communists Saturday night of inciting the wildcat dock and bus strikes that threaten Britain's post-war recovery.

"This is not trade unionism," he said in an appeal to the men to return to work, "it is an attempt to create anarchy."

Deakin, a one-time steelworker who rose to head the 835,000-man Transport and General Workers Union, made the appeal in a speech at Birmingham soon after the British cabinet met in emergency session for the third time in three days to consider the strike.

The cabinet was expected to call on troops to unload ships if the strike is not settled this weekend. Already more than 1 million tons of food were rotting on the dockside and Britain's thriving export business faced a crisis.

At the Port of London, where 22,500 dock workers are on strike, 133 ships waited to be unloaded. A strike of 8,000 ship repair men tied up another 100 ships.

London's transportation was in a chaos with 20,313 bus drivers and conductors on strike halting half the city's 7,600 busses.

The 4,500 tugmen and barge men who man the Thames River barges will strike at 6 a. m. Sunday. Their work stoppage will shut off fuel and coal for London's major utilities.

In Liverpool 17,000 dock workers vote Sunday whether to strike. Strike leaders left London Sunday to appeal to the men to join their walkout.

Deakin's power and prestige were at stake as he spoke before a TGWU festival at Birmingham that was anything but festive.

Many of the strikers were from his own right-wing union and defied previous appeals by him.

New Income Tax Forms Unveiled; One Is A Card

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The government today unveiled its new income tax forms, including a simple 15-line card for wage earners receiving less than $5,000 a year.

Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews estimated that 25 million of the more than 60 million U. S. taxpayers are eligible to use the card form—a stripped down version of old 1040A—but he said a lot of them will stick to the more complicated 1040 form instead.

Under the general tax revision law enacted this year, all returns must be in by April 15, one month later than the previous March 15 deadline, but the tax collector will welcome them any time after Jan. 1.

The new law overhauling the tax structure made no change in general rates, although it provided cuts for millions of individuals and nearly all corporations. A 10 per cent reduction in personal taxes went into effect last Jan. 1 under previous legislation.

Most of the new forms were merely revised to fit changes in the general tax structure, but the 1040A card form is something brand new. Andrews said it may be the first step toward relieving taxpayers earning under $5,000 a year from filing any return at all.

Those using this form may not take more than the standard 10 per cent deduction, or itemize their deductions.

In the past it has been a full sheet of questions, front and back. This has been reduced to a card about the size of a bank check, with 15 lines of information to be filled in. An accompanying sheet of instructions gives detailed directions, and also serves as a guide to whether the taxpayer would be better off to use the simple 1040A form, or the more complicated 1040 form.

Andrews told newsmen experience this year with the card will help determine if next year the Revenue Service could put into practice a plan whereby taxpayers eligible to file the simple tax form would not have to file at all. In effect, he said, they would give the same information as now required on the card to their employer, who would pass it along to the Revenue Service with the employer's record of income tax deductions.

The Revenue Service would then bill the taxpayer, or send him a refund.

"But the card may be so successful," Andrews said, "that we might continue using it."

Adlai Pictures U. S. As Torn By Wild Dissention

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson tonight pictured the Republican party as being torn internally, and with increasing "worldwide fears of America's belatedness while steadily reducing America's effective strength."

Speaking at a Democratic rally in the Civic Auditorium, the 1952 presidential nominee said the Republicans were more concerned with appeasing their right wing members than with the welfare of the world.

He jibed at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Sen. William F. Knowland, and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

"Mr. Nixon expresses his views on foreign policy, and everything else, freely and frequently, and changes them in the same manner," Stevenson said.

"Sen. Knowland tells off President Eisenhower and denounces Secretary Dulles, also freely and frequently, and loudly, which is the more remarkable considering that he is the President's leader in the Senate."

"While the President talks about peaceful coexistence with the Communists, Sen. Knowland talks of war with Red China. When he publicly demands that we sever diplomatic relations with Russia the President has to issue a quick and angry 'no.'"

"In the current Republican parlance this is what is known as 'team play.'"

"In March Mr. Nixon, the administration's chief spokesman these days, took to the television to tell us that massive atomic retaliation is the key to peace and we want no more small wars, no more Korea; we are not going to be 'bribed to death.'"

"Yet the following month he was in favor of sending American forces to fight in Indochina. Then after the Communist triumph, he told political meetings that the Truman administration was 'to blame for the French disaster in Indochina.'"

"But meanwhile the President was talking amiably about bipartisanship. This, I understand, is known as the smile and smear technique of campaigning: The President smiles while the vice president smears."

CAA officials at the Selman Field station last night reported the maximum temperature in Monroe yesterday was 71 degrees, while the low for the day was 40 degrees.

Teamsters Go On Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—More than 23,000 AFL teamsters struck today in a wide area in and around New York City, seeking a 25-cent hourly wage-welfare hike.

They threatened to throttle the multimillion-dollar daily flow of commerce.

Before the day was out, however, the union said that about a third of the drivers were slated to be back at work after the weekend as a result of employers agreeing to union demands.

There was no immediate comment from the truckers on the union claim.

Food, fuel and other necessities generally were not involved in the tie-up, confined to so-called general trucking except in the case of a number of big supermarket chains.

Three of these chains — A&P, H. C. Bohack and Grinstead Bros. — were listed by the union as among firms signing up today. They had been threatened with picketing.

GOP Solon Repudiates Own Stories Of Combat Adventures With OSS

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 16 (AP) — Rep. Douglas Stringfellow (R-Utah) tonight repudiated his story of wartime service with the Office of Strategic Services.

Appearing on a television program, the congressman admitted he had seen no service with the OSS.

Tears running down his face, he substantiated a story published by the Army Times which questioned his service record.

He also said he has told Utah Republican leaders he will step aside as nominee for reelection from the Utah 1st Congressional District if they wish him to do so.

With him in the studio when he made the broadcast was Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah).

The announcement by the 32-year-old disabled war veteran from Ogden stunned his Utah listeners. He was chosen one of the top 10 men in the United States by the Junior Chamber of Commerce last year. His nomination for this honor pointed to World War II activities which it said resulted in the capture of German scientist Otto Hahn and the unbalancing of the Reich's timetable in trying to perfect the atomic bomb.

"Stringfellow, who still walks with braces as the result of a wound suffered while clearing a mine field in France, is married and has two children. He was first elected to Congress in 1952."

Stringfellow said his story of cloak and dagger operations just grew as he embellished it during the course of more than 200 speeches.

"I fell into the trap, which in part had been laid by my own glib tongue . . . I became a prisoner of my own making," he said.

"I never participated in any secret-behind-the-scenes mission or our government."

"I never captured Otto Hahn or any other German physicist."

"I came before this radio and TV audience tonight a humble, contrite and very repentant individual. I have made some grievous mistakes for which I am sorry."

Welch Quits School Job, Armand Lewis Is Named

The resignation of George W. Welch as principal of the Ouachita parish grammar school was announced Saturday morning by W. Ward, superintendent of the parish school system. The resignation, written Friday, became effective immediately.

Welch is being replaced by Armand L. Lewis, principal of the Swartz school, who will assume duties at the grammar school Monday. A member of the parish school system for the past six years, Lewis received his master's degree from Louisiana State University in the summer of 1953.

In turn, Ward announced Lewis' place at the Swartz school is being turned over to Joseph Davis, industrial arts instructor at the A. L. Smith school in Sterlington.

In his letter of resignation, Welch told the board, through the superintendent, his reason for resignation was "that I am unable to give sufficient time and attention to my private business affairs. In order that I have the necessary time for my personal business affairs, I hereby submit my resignation as principal of the Ouachita Parish Grammar School."

"My services," the letter continued, "will be available to you until such time as you can make satisfactory arrangements for someone to replace me."

"Please accept my thanks for the cooperation and assistance which you and the members of your staff have given me in carrying out the school program."

Full Report Of Vicious Storm Is Yet Lacking

Worst Damage In Carolinas; Floods Hit Pennsylvania

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nightmare of Hurricane tonight turned into a horror sequel of floods. Wind-stricken communities in the eastern United States, and particularly southern Canada, floundered amid stampeding waters.

At least 107 persons were dead. Hundreds of others were injured or missing in the rubble-strewn wake of Hurricane Hazel. And nature conjured up new vengeance in the surging flood tides.

Across a dozen states was a savage, 200-mile-wide swath of ruin and tragedy. As the big storm receded into northern Canada, dumping its torrents, rivers and streams leaped their banks.

The million people of Toronto, Ont., were virtually isolated by water. Overflowing rivers swept into suburbs, inundating streets, homes and automobiles. One adjoining area of 6,000 acres, normally dry land, was a huge lake.

The number of drowning victims mounted steadily, and there was no way of estimating the final toll. Helicopters and Navy whaleboats scouted the submerged districts to try and check the rising casualties.

Floods also plagued the hurricane's furious path across the U. S. Overburdened streams burst from their banks, surged into homes and streets in parts of the Caro-

Ohio River At Pittsburgh Runs Out Of Banks

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Ohio River, overflowing with torrential rains, spilled flood waters over a small area of Pittsburgh today then rushed on toward Wheeling, W. Va., where heavy damage is expected tomorrow.

The backwash of Hurricane Hazel poured heavy rains into streams and tributaries feeding the Allegheny and Mononahela Rivers all of yesterday. The two rivers merge in Pittsburgh to form the Ohio.

Above Pittsburgh, along the route of the Allegheny and Mononahela, damage has been estimated in the millions of dollars. At least five persons are dead from drowning, two are missing and an undetermined number are victims of heart attacks.

The Weather Bureau at first said the Ohio would crest in Pittsburgh at 6 p. m., five feet above flood stage. Later the estimate was revised upward with the crest expected at 8 p. m. at about 12 feet above flood stage.

Even at the feet above flood stage the Pittsburgh area is not expected to be hit hard. A few dwellings along the river bank and a huge parking area are all that would be flooded.

Flood preparations were ahead at full speed in Wheeling and in other towns along the Ohio between Wheeling and Pittsburgh. The Weather Bureau said it expects damage to be extensive in Wheeling.

At East Liverpool, flood observers expected a 40 to 45 foot crest late tonight.

Disaster agencies began evacuating hundreds of families living in the path of the Ohio's swirling waters.

Neches Oil Field Shows What Dry-Hole Drilling Can Sometimes Turn Up

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Neches Oil Field, one of the most important discoveries in the nation in 1953, is frequently called the field that dry holes found.

It's the perfect example of what Ernest O. Thompson, Texas Railroad Commission chairman, has preached for years: that free enterprise, encouraged by the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance, will find oil to meet the nation's needs.

The Neches is less than a mile and a half from Boggy Creek Field, but it took more than 20 years of research and numerous dry holes to find the Neches after Boggy Creek was discovered.

The story of the persistent effort to locate this new reservoir in "old" oil country is told in a recent issue of the company's trade publication, the Humble Way.

The Neches lies in one of the most thoroughly explored oil areas in the world and is sliced in two by the Neches River.

When Humble discovered Boggy Creek in 1927, it set off a flurry of East Texas drilling. But every stepout in the direction of what is now the Neches Oil Field produced nothing but dry holes.

Eighty wells were drilled at that time in and around the Boggy Creek Field. Forty-one were dry holes. This had a discouraging effect on wildcatting in the immediate area, but Humble did not give up.

Humble made three distinct expeditions — counting its stepouts from Boggy Creek — and the third time was the charm.

In late summer of 1953, Humble spudded in the well which was to discover the field.

Meanwhile, other operators had drilled four more dry holes along the lower edges of Humble's lease block. Following the field's discovery, other operators drilled four more dry holes along the northern boundary.

These dry holes helped define the productive limits of the field. Humble credits the multiple effort of its own drilling crews and those of other companies and the oil depletion allowance with making discovery of the field possible.

Without the depletion allowance granted by Congress in 1926, the Neches might never have been discovered.

Man Killed While Cleaning Shotgun

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 16 (AP)—Police said a man who apparently had been cleaning an automatic shotgun was found accidentally shot to death in his backyard shed today.

Officers identified the gun victim as Thomas Edward Stanfill, 69, retired employee of Esso Standard Oil Co. here and native of Coushatta.

A load of buckshot struck Stanfill in the heart.

Mrs. Stanfill told police his body was found sprawled in the shed doorway. The shotgun had fallen back inside. The victim clutched steel wool in a hand and cleaning rags were on the floor.

Sulicide Verdict In Patient's Death

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 16 (AP)—A patient killed in a plunge from the fifth floor of Mobile infirmary today took her own life, Dr. H. S. J. Walker, Mobile County deputy coroner, ruled.

She was Mrs. Sadye M. Lewis, a native of Port Gibson, Miss., and a Mobile resident for the past 43 years.

No reason was given for the woman's jumping.

Mrs. Lewis is survived by her husband, one brother and two sisters.

Full Report

Rescue crews toiled in rowboats, canoes and hipboats to carry families to safety from houses already wind-battered.

As the reports of hurricane damage and distress poured in, governors of three states — Maryland and North and South Carolina — appealed to the federal government for emergency aid. They said parts of their states were major disaster areas.

The storm hit hardest at the coastal states, but it also did widespread damage inland before its remnants plowed into Canada. There, new storm centers gave it a second spurt of violence, before it faded into the northlands.

Many persons were missing, and thousands were refugees from flooded, demolished or damaged homes. Many communities were isolated without power or communications.

Platoons of emergency workers — from civil defense, the Red Cross, the Army and fire and police departments — moved into the stricken towns.

But as the vicious hurricane spent its waning fury on southern Canada, and moaned north toward Hudson Bay, the crises still lingered in some U.S. areas.

Swollen streams poured over their banks in western Pennsylvania, surging into towns, and flooding hundreds of houses and streets. Rescue workers toiled to haul the marooned to safety.

All along the wide wind-ravaged strip and on its fringes were dangling power and telephone lines splintered trees and battered buildings.

Probably the hardest hit were the coastal communities of North and South Carolina, where the mighty blow trumpeted in from the sea yesterday.

Only communications with some of these communities was by portable radio. Scanty reports told of whole towns laid waste, of hotels floating out to sea, of boats and piers piled in fragments.

At Garden City, S.C., a businessman estimated 10 million dollars in damages there alone, with 400 houses demolished. At Ocean Beach, S.C., two long rows of 195 houses were reported wiped out.

Damages in the two states will run into "fantastic figures," a reporter messaged by radio. Everywhere, he said, the violence of the storm was evident.

The hurricane vented its cruelty on inland areas, too. It ripped off rooftops, tumbled church steeples, uprooted trees, smashed warehouses, knocked ships off their moorings and wreaked other damage all along its path.

The death toll quickly exceeded that of the previous two hurricanes that swept the northeastern United States earlier this summer and fall.

At the end of August, hurricane Carol claimed 68 lives, with damages in the millions. Two weeks later, hurricane Edna killed 20 persons as it ground across New England.

That region only caught the peripheries of the blow this time, but several towns suffered some damage.

Before it hit the U.S. mainland in South Carolina, the hurricane stamped across Haiti, killing more than 100 persons there.

It slammed the U.S. coast with winds up to 130 miles an hour. Early reports showed these deaths by states:

New York 17; North Carolina 18; Pennsylvania 11; New Jersey 7; Delaware 4; Washington, D. C. 3; Massachusetts 1; Connecticut 1; Canada 30.

After the winds abated, even communities where damage was less severe still were sluggish from the impact. Much of New Jersey was in a virtual blackout, without power.

Telephone lines also were a mess in that state, as well as in the Carolinas, Virginia, parts of Pennsylvania, New York, Delaware and Maryland. Broken trees littered streets and yards.

From Suffolk, Va., came this terse description: "A wreck."

In Pennsylvania, where flooded streams poured into nearby towns, hundreds were evacuated — 400 from the town of Turtle Creek alone. West Newton's business district was a lake.

The rising waters gave a major scare to the industrial city of Pittsburgh, where the swollen Allegheny and Monongahela dump into the Ohio. But later reports indicated only flooding of small sections.

That city — like a string of other major cities, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Richmond, Va., Wilmington, N. C. and Baltimore — took a beating from the wind, with trees uprooted, porches caved in and some roofs and chimneys shattered.

Ships broke loose from moorings at Philadelphia and Annapolis, Md., where two vessels sank. Part of the roof of Washington's National Airport was torn off. Some empty planes were tossed about.

A big chunk of a historic church steeple crashed in Richmond.

As the wind ground northward across New York State, its still-powerful shafts struck down a 491-foot television tower at Elmira, ripped off a roof and caused an explosion in Horseheads, toppled a church steeple in Big Flats, picked up an anchored plane and smashed it at Syracuse.

From Saranac Lake in the northern Adirondacks southward to Norwich, many communities were without electric power. In New Jersey, a half million homes were blacked out, and 175,000 telephone lines down.

Southern Canada took a blasting, with widespread damage in Toronto's suburbs, and in other parts of Ontario, before the wind eased away into the northlands.

Along railroads and highways, from the south central coast to Canada, crews worked to clear away obstructions. Trains gradually crawled back toward normal operations. Airlines began flying again as the sun came out.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—AFL merchant marine officers and 40 Atlantic and Gulf Coast steamship lines today reached verbal agreement on a contract. It grants no pay raises, but agrees to a 15-cent daily increase in employer welfare-pension costs.

The one-year pact also provides a vacation plan that will cover ships' masters, and clarifies working conditions, according to a joint announcement.

There was no threat of a strike, although contract talks ran two weeks past the expiration date.

Over in West Monroe, the town made nationally famous through possession of a boy and dog, there is another highly interesting situation created. Three subdivisions, the Splane, Sunshine Heights and McGuire additions, have residents who either want annexation to the City of West Monroe, or who want to create a separate water district.

The water supply is the basis of the situation. West Monroe would annex these three groups and through a bond issue would be able to furnish an expanded water system that would remedy the present situation. Advocates of this solution are expected to secure signers to a petition immediately.

But the other side of the case, those who would put in their own supply sufficient to care for the needs of the three additions, are already organized and planning to proceed along their own lines. One of the chief proponents of those who want to establish their own community water supply project, is Sam Orchard.

Mr. Orchard has had legal talent prepare necessary papers which have been given the police jury and also the proper officials at the courthouse. He states that everything looks like success for the people who want their own waterworks system. A meeting is scheduled at the fair grounds in West Monroe next Thursday night, when further details will be discussed.

Mrs. Lorena Akerstrom, in charge of the Delta-C. and S. airline office in Hotel Frances, left for a well-earned vacation of two weeks Saturday. She will visit all of the Virgin Islands and anticipates a delightful outing.

When this popular and personable young woman returns, she will have some interesting stories of travel to relate, and the Pilot Club, of which she is member, will learn from her much about the places she will visit.

"Boys Love Cats As Well as Dogs," wrote in a party who asked Jes' Ramblin' publicity.

Two cars, one going east, one west, stopped in the heart of Minden when they encountered a large cat in the middle of the road. Both drivers emerged and picked up the frightened animal. After a ten-minute discussion, Lester Pilcher, of Choudrant, traveling east from Shreveport decided to take the cat home.

The other driver was Billy Jo Bagwell of Choudrant who was en route to Dallas, Tex.

Information Source Protection Is Upheld

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Metropolitan Crime Commission's executive commission today upheld managing director Aaron M. Kohn's refusal to reveal a source of information while chief investigator for the Special Citizens' Investigating Committee.

The committee issued a prepared statement saying "the failure to protect confidential sources of information would be a serious deterrent to law enforcement."

Civilian Says He Swapped Identities With GI

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Oct. 16 (AP)—A 23-year-old man wearing an Army sergeant's uniform told police he swapped identities with the owner of the uniform 10 days ago.

Police Chief Hugh Herring said the man identified himself as Clyde E. Johnson but did not list a home address.

Herring said Johnson was arrested in Hattiesburg on a tip and arraigned yesterday on charges of illegally wearing an armed forces uniform and transporting a stolen vehicle across state lines.

U. S. Commissioner Margaret set bond at $1,500, $1,000 on the uniform charge and $500 on the stolen vehicle charge. Johnson was placed in Forest County jail to await trial in U.S. District Court, which is in session.

Chief Herring said Johnson told him he had met Sgt. John W. Roe, then stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark., in Ashland, Ky., two weeks ago. They began drinking and a scheme was hatched to give Roe a chance "to spend some more time with a chick in Memphis."

Herring said Johnson's story continued:

They stayed together as they traveled through Kentucky and Tennessee, winding up in Memphis 11 days ago. Roe suggested Johnson take his place in the Army and return to Camp Chaffee as Sgt. J. W. Roe.

Johnson, who said he had served in the Air Force as a sergeant, agreed because "it sounded real daring and exciting. I'd heard of fellows pulling this trick but never had actually known anyone who did. I was curious to know if it would work and I didn't have any job or anything to worry about."

So Sergeant Roe became civilian Johnson and civilian Johnson became Sergeant Roe. They exchanged identity cards so "Sergeant Roe" could enter the Army camp.

Johnson said they figured they could get away with the stunt because Roe told him he had been assigned to Camp Chaffee only recently and no one on the base knew him yet. Besides, Johnson said, the two men were the same size and build and the deception would have been easy.

Johnson said the swap was completed nine days ago and he took Roe's car, uniforms and identification and left Memphis. Instead of going to Camp Chaffee, he said, he came to Hattiesburg "and got kind of involved in a chick myself. I should've kept rolling. But I didn't. So here I am in jail."

A public information officer at Camp Chaffee said a Sgt. I. C. John W. Roe of Hector, Ky., had been assigned three days ago to go to Camp Gordon, Ga., to pick up a prisoner for return to Camp Chaffee.

And at Camp Gordon, the duty officer said available records did not show when Sergeant Roe reported.

Chief Herring said Memphis police notified him a Sergeant Roe reported his automobile stolen last week.

Meanwhile, the real Sergeant Roe has not been located.

Ballot To Choose Solon Assailed As 'Unnecessary'

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 16 (AP)—A Caddo Parish police juror today termed an election to choose a successor to state Rep. James C. Gardner "unnecessary."

Earl G. Williamson, former president of the jury, said the election was an "uncalled-for expenditure of the taxpayers' money."

Gov. Robert Kennon has called an election in December to fill the vacancy made by Gardner's resignation to become mayor of Shreveport Nov. 9. Gardner had about 21 months to serve in the House. Williamson said whoever was elected to replace Gardner would serve during a possible 30-day session next spring and possibly would not be called upon to attend any session if an amendment to the state constitution is defeated at the polls Nov. 2.

L. S. Clawson, secretary-treasurer of the police jury, said he could see no need for sending another representative to what he termed a lame duck session of the Legislature.

Caddo Parish has three other representatives and two senators in the Legislature who could look after the peoples' interest, Clawson said.

The two primary elections and the general election he said, would cost more than $25,000. In addition, the representative elected in Gardner's place would draw a salary of $150 a month for the rest of the term—about $3,000.

Color TV sets contain more than twice as many parts as typical black-and-white sets, take three times as long to assemble and test before leaving the factory. That's why initially they will cost between $800 and $1,000.

Former Governor Makes Address To Presbyterians

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Former Gov. Alfred J. Driscoll of New Jersey told the Presbyterian men's convention here today "You folks make the atmosphere of our world—and when there are not enough of you, that atmosphere is bad."

Driscoll, a Presbyterian layman, told 5,000 delegates filling the city Auditorium "The great religious groups of our country are making a greater contribution than they realize."

The former New Jersey governor, now president of Warner-Hudnut Co., Inc., New York, acted as moderator and participant in a panel discussion with Govs. Francis Cherry of Arkansas and Robert Kennon of Louisiana, also Presbyterians.

The three governors discussed "Faith in Government."

Some 7,000 delegates and guests from 14 southern states are attending the three-day gathering, which ends tomorrow morning with twin sermons by Dr. Billy Graham, famed North Carolina evangelist, and Dr. Louis H. Evans of Chicago, minister at large, Board of National Missions, Presbyterian Church U.S.A.

The convention is the second such meeting sponsored by the Assembly Men's Council, Presbyterian Church U.S., the southern branch of the Presbyterian Church.

In summing up the governor's panel, Driscoll said: "Our task is to state our points clearly, pointedly, emphatically. But beyond that we must demonstrate that our way of life works. Let's bring out religious values out into the open."

Cherry said "Faith is the vision to see ahead to what ought to be done. But faith is also the practical valor to go to work and bring the vision to pass."

Kennon suggested we "put our faith to work."

He told them Lincoln, Washington and Eisenhower depended upon their Christian faith to accomplish their tasks and quoted Washington as saying, "True religious affords just government its surest support."

Driscoll concluded that "We can hardly conceive of faith in a country that doesn't involve faith in God."

Cotton Futures Trading Mixed; Mills Buying

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—Mixed trends prevailed this week in cotton futures trading.

Active contracts traded on the New York Cotton Exchange closed out the period at prices ranging from 33 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher than at the finish of the previous week. The distant months made the best showing.

Mill price fixing and short covering provided the market's principal support. Some buying was also encouraged by reports of an increased movement of cotton into the government loan.

Selling stemmed from several factors, not the least of which was the government's latest official crop forecast, which was somewhat larger than many in the trade had anticipated.

On Friday, bullish enthusiasm was damped by publication of an estimate by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau of cotton consumption in this country during September.

The estimate set domestic consumption at 79,000 bales for the period beginning Aug. 29 and ending Oct. 2, which figures out to 32,200 bales a day. The daily rate for August was 33,100 bales and in September last year it was 36,100.

Exports have almost caught up with year-ago totals, according to the latest New York Cotton Exchange estimate.

Grains Supported By Weather News

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—The weather gave grains their main stimulus this week, soybeans and corn scoring modest advances as rains held up harvesting of both crops.

Weather had no influence on wheat and oats and as a result they wound up the week without much price change. Lard futures staged a strong advance in sympathy with loose lard, which jumped a cent for the week to close at 14 1/2 cents.

Wheat closed 7/8 lower to 1 1/2 higher, corn 1 1/2 higher, oats unchanged to 1/8 higher, soybeans 1 1/2 higher and lard 23 cents to $1.52 a hundred pounds higher.

What Next?

In the several disastrous decades since this nation began to involve itself in international politics on a wide scale, the American people have seen their resources scattered to the winds, their armed services scattered all over the face of the earth, murdered and forced to fight a victoryless war with their hands tied behind their backs. They have seen the foreign office operated by foreign interests, not those belonging to the American people.

To cite the long list of indescribable injustices done the American people during these years would require not one editorial column, not two, but the entire Sunday edition of this newspaper with perhaps another section thrown in for "good luck."

Over the past week, some unfortunate and disconcerting information has come to the Morning World as regards American participation increasing in these dabbings into the affairs of other nations. From time to time, it has been necessary to describe the "United Nations" in its real light, that of a godless creation which uplifts not the Prince of Peace and God, but mankind who is held to be supreme. It is this organization which will, unless present events change, control the destinies of this former Republic.

In short, the Christian Church and all its teachings and its wonder in the U. S. is being replaced by a dogma adopting Christian like talk, but which no longer resolves itself in God and in His Blessed Son, Christ.

The "United Nations" will fail due to its non belief. The American people are being forcibly dragged along with this failure. The cry goes up from "U. N." supporters that the organization is composed of nations which do not worship the Lord Jesus and God and for that reason, should not be condemned as a "godless" creation. The analogy is somewhat primitive.

Does a Christian join a band of hoodlums who admittedly are out to destroy the Christian's way of life and then does the Christian defend these hoods because they are non-believers, because they belong to another church, a desperately fanatical church which is even now hoping for the destruction of Christianity?

The "U. N." supporters say, "where is your Christian missionary spirit? Don't you want to convert these people?" The answer to that is, "true, they need converting, but how does one go about converting the 'U. N.' when the American delegate offers to shove her religion aside and says to forget Christ and God 'out of deference to the Soviet Union'?"

In short, the missionaries would seem to be non-believers themselves.

In dealing with God, one must realize that indeed, He is a living God, living among the people of the earth. Many people have forgotten this consideration and in their forgetfulness, believe foolishly that man should be supreme.

God made man. He gave him brains, hands, feet, eyes and most important of all a soul. God gives man life and He can swiftly remove life. Why should man believe that he can build a tabernacle to his own folly and say, "look here, what I've built, I'm the top, there's nobody better than me!" The fish in the seas, the birds of the forests and the animals of the woods are beneath me, I'm supreme."

God has already destroyed the peoples of the earth by water. The Holy Book describes that He will remove the same by fire.

Fellow Americans—stop in your materialistic path and think for a minute if you can. God is the creator of all life, the Master of the universe. Civilizations come and go, but the Church of God and Christ have remained to span the years. Is it now proper for the United States government to hand over the freedoms of this nation, God-given freedoms, won at the cost of the blood of Americans over the years, to a godless organization, a glass house of man's perfidy?

Word came last week to the Morning World that the "International Law Commission of the United Nations" is again considering the proposed "Draft Code of Offenses Against the Peace and Security of Mankind." Since the proponents of the World Government have so far failed in their attempts to have the U. S. Senate pass the infamous "Genocide Convention," a "Convention" nonetheless passed by the American "U. N." delegate, the "U. N." has found another way to action.

On pages 12 and 13 of the Revised Codes, individuals would be tried by the "Court of International Justice" which does not designate the right of trial by jury. Article 4 of this "code" states that "a person charged with an offense in this code acting pursuant to order of his government or of a superior does not relieve him of responsibility."

Under this "code" every valiant member of the Armed Services of the United States from Generals MacArthur and Ridgway to soldiers in the ranks could be tried as a war criminal.

The "United Nations" yearbook does not include the "offers of assistance" to the Korean war. Not one American's life, nor his guns and ammunition, nor the tireless effort, blood, sweat and tears is listed by this creation which the United States continues to support. All the rest of the nations are listed.

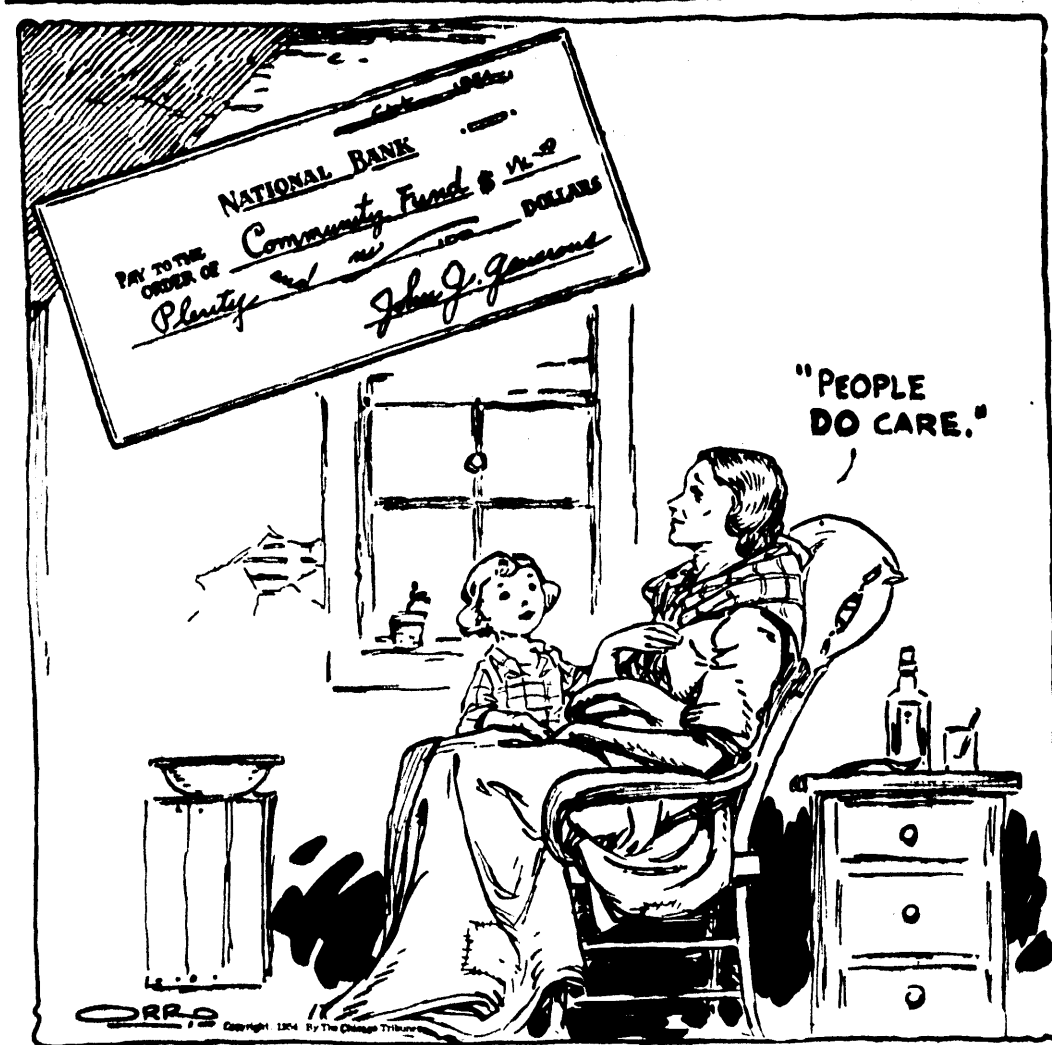

However, there was an order by the "U. N. Command" to the other nations to make their assistance available to the "Military Command of the United States", clearly implying that this nation was the aggressor. The acknowledged aim of the Soviet Union is to include Red China into the "U. N.", and then, proclaim the U. S. as "aggressor", later to try the members of the armed services as war criminals because they defended with their lives, the United States.

General Dean was frequently reminded that he was a "war criminal".

At this moment, there is reportedly an administration message to the "U. N." military command inquiring about the possibility and the feasibility of a "world army" under the banner of the "U. N." American Senators and Congressmen are, some of them, in England examining the "Parliament of the World Government".

Has man completely forgotten God, and not himself will determine the fate of the world? Has he become so supreme that he can overturn God's commandments at any occasion,

West Monroe Problems: No Water—No Dogs

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Tuesday's Monroe

Morning World carried on the front page a news item headed "West Monroe

Votes To Ban Sale of Water Outside

City Limits; No New Taps."

And the article read in part:

"West Monroe's city council last night voted to terminate the sale of water outside of the corporate limits of the city. The ordinance set July 1, 1953, as the effective date of the drastic action."

Since municipally owned utilities are not under the supervision of the Public Service Commission, it would appear that the mayor and the board of aldermen of the City of West Monroe assume that they are a law unto themselves. However, these men in the city hall have overlooked one basic obstacle to their plan to coerce annexation of Splane, McGuire, and Sunshine

Heights subdivisions to their city.

The Health Departments — parish, state and federal — will not permit the City of West Monroe to arbitrarily deprive any group of people within or without the city of water until another source of water is available. Such action would jeopardize the health of more than 3,000 people. If the mayor and city councilmen want the hot light of national publicity focused on them, cutting off the water supply would be an excellent way of achieving that end. Just as no utility company, private or municipally owned, is permitted to discontinue furnishing a vital service to a home where there is sickness, although the bills covering such service is past due and has not been paid, neither is landlord permitted to evict sick persons for nonpayment of rent.

Where matters of health are concerned, higher authorities take

It might be well for the city council to review the way the city came into possession of the original

Chappell well that still supplies citizens with water. Mr. Chappell, who put down this well, before turning it over to the city had an agreement with the then city government that when the city accepted operation of the well it would continue to supply water to residents outside West Monroe.

The proposed action of the city council, as outlined in Tuesday's World, constitutes a desperate attempt to intimidate taxpayers into annexation under threat that their water will be cut off if they do not do so. The water situation is not new, but now it is being held as a club over our heads. I don't like to be threatened... neither, I assume, do other American citizens.

If the case of the "11-year-old boy committed to the Louisiana Training Institute a few hours after he, at gunpoint, forced the liberation of his dog that had been penned up by his teacher at Ransom school" was correctly reported by the press, a grave injustice has been done this child.

Mrs. Tina G. Clark, since she is not a peace officer, had no authority and no legal right, regardless of "normal practice" as stated in the paper, to lock up a child's dog. The police and the dog-catcher are paid to do that. Upon the child's demand to release his pet, she should have done so. When she failed to do so, naturally the child thought his pet was to be killed, and in consequence thereof he took the only means that he knew to protect his dog. God bless his spunky little soul!

I don't know whether he was a good little boy or a bad little boy. As far as this case is concerned, it makes no difference whatsoever. The child's actions were brought about by his teacher, and the responsibility for what he is accused of doing rests on her shoulders, not his. American law guarantees a citizen the right to bear arms and the right to protect his property. Irrespective of what any local ordinance may say to the contrary. I don't ask mercy for the child. There's no hope of that. I don't ask, but as a qualified voter, a property owner and a taxpayer I demand that justice be done this child. I ask that other citizens join me in seeing that this wrong is rectified. Unless this situation is corrected publicly and without undue delay, I promise faithfully to use my vote and my influence to unseat those responsible for the prevailing conditions.

ALVIN ARLEDGE.

The Golden Rule

Sulphur, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Attention Judge and Jury in Joe

Cooper case—I think it is time to practice the golden rule.

REV. MURL DAILEY

he might so decide? God help us all Fellow Americans, because such would seem the case. God gave His only son to the world in hopes for peace on this Earth.

Jesus Christ lives on this Earth but the people of the Earth in many cases don't live with Him.

The ways of the nation are seemingly unchanging. Forgetfulness of God's laws, degeneration and belief that man and his puny creations are supreme will be the ruination of this nation and possibly the world.

Man was not born depraved, only deprived. He can yet come to God and save himself but he must do it of his own free will. The United States' future as a free nation clearly depends on this factor.

All the United Nations in the history of the world will not help people of the Earth. God alone is the answer. The time is growing short.

Boy Would Be Better Off At L. T. I. Than At Home

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

(The following letter was also sent to Paul Harvey who included the boy-dog story in his daily broadcast.)

Dear Paul Harvey:

Judging from your broadcasts of October 13 and 14, I believe that you need to know the truth about the little trouble that we have had in our community.

The facts are these: Last year at Ransom in West Monroe, two children were bitten. There have been several epidemics of rabies

in this part of the country, therefore, a rule was passed that all dogs without collars and a tag to show that a shot for rabies had been given, should be confined in the building on the campus and held until the Health Unit could be contacted and the pound keeper dispatched to pick up the animal.

The pound keeper did not kill the dogs but simply removed them to the pound where they were held for several days or until the owner appeared, had him vaccinated, and took him home.

One day last week a dog was placed in the building by the janitor who had previously been authorized by the principal to carry out this duty. About 8:30 this boy,

Joe Cooper, stormed into the principal's office in a rage and demanded that his dog be released that instant.

The principal asked him to be seated, calm himself and then tell her all about it. Instead he stormed out the door and almost battered down the door where the animal was held. Failing at this, he returned in a very high state of rage and announced that he was going home and get his gun.

Not long afterward he appeared again at the door of the office with loaded gun in his hands. He cocked the gun about 18 inches from her and stated again that he had come to get his dog. The several small children who were in the office at that time scuttled for cover and the principal slammed the door and called the police. When they arrived they found this boy raving, ranting, and screaming out threats.

He was taken to the office of

Circuit Judge Howell in Louisiana, in cases involving a juvenile. It is the custom to place the child in the custody of his parents until a permanent decision can be made.

His mother was unable to care for him properly and also he was in a very dangerous mood. His mother gave her consent for a hearing at three o'clock that afternoon. After the hearing, he was placed in the Louisiana Training Institute, six hours after the incident. The sentence was of a temporary nature but he had to be placed there because there was no other place for him.

Judge Howell Heard is an honorable and upright man and he would never stoop to any unethical conduct. He was thinking of the teacher, children, the boy, and not of the dog.

Louisiana Training Institute is a good school with a splendid staff. The boys are well cared for, therefore this boy would be better off there than at home. I'm enclosing an editorial from our local newspaper.

I hate to say this about the Monroe newspapers but they stretched the truth or substituted falsehoods for truth. They made a hero of this boy who endangered the lives of 420 children and 14 teachers. In one sense all of this publicity is encouraging the children of the community and of the entire nation to "go and do likewise" so they may get on television and radio and become national heroes.

Little Joe Cooper

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Little Joe Cooper is a handsome lad

but the story I relate is very sad.

Poor Joe! No father's love to make him strong to teach him right from wrong.

There's one thing more before my story will begin

Joe had a dog he loved — a pal — friend!

He loved the dog with all his heart

And he vowed they'd never be apart.

Joe's dog, a collie, loved his master, too.

Wanted to be near him the whole day through.

To school the doggie went one day.

In search of Joe, so they could romp and play.

But alas, my friends—his sad but true

Joe's sister got him a new trial which was locked up!

Of course he meant no harm, but that's the rule.

No dogs on the ground at Ransom

Joe thought of only one thing—his dog must be saved.

He saw nothing was accomplished as he raved.

So he decided his gun he would go home and get.

Maybe he could frighten them into releasing his pet!

Of course this was the wrong thing to do!

Voters Unruffled As Hot Campaign Draws To Climax

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political campaign is getting hotter. The candidates are raising their voices and extending their campaigning range. But what do the voters think about all the shouting?

Until recently, at least, they have taken it with remarkable calm.

Some political professionals, admittedly with an ax to grind, say this apathy has been sloughing off in the past few days.

The Republicans say President Eisenhower's Oct. 8 call for a GOP Congress gave their campaign a shot in the arm. The Democrats say the only apathy they find is among Republicans.

Associated Press political reporters touring the country, however, find there still is no hot public interest in the campaign—whatever its final 2½ weeks may bring—except here and there, where special issues or unusual situations have arisen.

"The 1954 campaign is a play without a villain and the comedy isn't even good slapstick," says the AP's Don Whitehead. "The politicians are working hard to keep the audience awake, but everybody seems pretty sure nothing exciting will happen in the next act either."

Much the same appraisal—voter apathy, except in certain areas where unemployment or other issues stir interest—comes from other traveling AP men—Douglas B. Cornell, Reiman Morin, Jack Bell and Morris Landsberg.

All their reports came in before there was time to assess the possible effect of Secretary of Defense Wilson's now-famous remark about bird dogs and kennel-fed dogs.

Whitehead has been in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan. Cornell has visited Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Bell is reporting on Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho and Montana. Morin's territory includes New Jersey, Delaware, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts. Landsberg has been in California, Oregon and Nevada.

Privately, and sometimes publicly, many political professionals agree with Whitehead's appraisal, written from Louisville, Ky.

"So far as I can see there isn't a compelling issue or personality around to get the mass of voters excited. Business generally is good. There's no war. Nobody seems to be very mad about anything, unless it's a man who's out of a job." Here in brief are the findings of the AP correspondents who have been in closest touch with voter sentiment:

Whitehead — So far I've seen no signs of increasing interest in the campaign, although it is likely to pick up as election day nears. With no compelling personality or issue to stir the people, the election is likely to be a contest of organization — with the better party organizations getting out the vote and perhaps making the difference.

Bell — Voters in the Southwest and Rocky Mountain States, where there are several critical Senate contests, are viewing this year's campaign with extreme apathy. President Eisenhower's flexible farm price support program had been built up as a major issue, and it has that prominence in a few states. But in others the flexible vs. rigid parity proposals don't seem to strike any campaign sparks.

Cornell — Whether there will be a pickup in interest before election day is hard to say. You get the general impression there won't be. Proprietors of barber shops and rural beer emporiums tell you their customers don't have much to say about the election.

MORIN — Registration is at a postwar low in New York City in spite of a concerted Democratic effort to stimulate it to support the party's ticket entirely composed of New York City men. In Maine, where the election already has been held, the vote exceeded 1950. But in Connecticut Vice President Nixon drew crowds of only a few hundred. Television is an invisible factor in the whole region.

Landsberg — People seem weary of politics, though there has been a definite pickup of voter interest in California, Oregon and Nevada for local reasons. Nevada suddenly found itself with a senatorial race as a result of the death of Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.).

Richland Wildlife Annual Meet Monday

DELHI, Oct. 16 (Special)—A barbecue will get the annual meeting of the Richland Wildlife Unit under way here at 7:30 Monday night at the Northeast Louisiana Livestock Auction.

Possession of a 1955 membership card to the wildlife unit, is the requisite for attendance to the affair and a card may be obtained for the price of $1.50 from any of the directors or may be purchased at the barbecue. Children accompanied by membership parents will be admitted free.

Monroey Named Lt. Governor Of Quota Club Unit

Mrs. Helen Agnew, Monroey, yesterday was elected lieutenant governor for the twenty-first district, Quota Club International, at the organization's ninth Annual Convention at the Virginia Hotel.

Other officers elected during yesterday's session include Mrs. Elsie B. Wells, San Antonio, Tex., district governor and Miss Thelma Ramble, San Antonio, Tex., secretary.

The newly elected officers will be installed during a breakfast session honoring the district governors this morning at the Rendezvous restaurant.

Yesterday's session was highlighted by a banquet at 8 p.m. at the Virginia Hotel roof, at which Reverend Father Dennis A. Curren was the principal speaker.

The election of officers was held during a noon luncheon forum honoring the club presidents. Speakers included Mrs. Hallie Mae Hollman, Waco, Tex., Mrs. Eunice Bush, Baton Rouge; Mrs. Susan G. Ford, San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. Laura E. Campbell, Alexandria.

During the luncheon a corsage was presented to Miss Elizabeth Ogden, the oldest living members of the organization in this district.

Miss Ogden, who is 82 years old, claims to have been the first woman commercial photographer in the United States. A member of the Baton Rouge Quota Club, Miss Ogden entered the photographic business with her sister in Chicago in 1899.

Delegates attending the convention represent clubs from throughout Louisiana and Texas. Delegates from Mexico were also expected to be on hand for the meeting, but were unable to attend.

The Quota Club is an international organization of executive business women dedicated to the purpose of aid of the hard of hearing, and to girls' work.

Scientists believe men would die after taking a few breaths of the atmosphere on Mars.

with him found it desirable to move to other cities.

Death ended a turbulent 54-year political career in which iron-fisted discipline was frosted with ironic comedy, and political vitrol contrasted with pleas that citizens feed the birds in winter.

He never made a political speech. He never took the stump in a state campaign. In later years, he seldom appeared at political rallies.

He made his views well known through statements—often sulphurous—to the press. He often bought advertising space to give an opponent an especially sharp blast.

To those who accused him of lust for power, he answered that his sole interest was good government. "We give Memphis good, honest government," he said. "As long as we do that we can stay in. If we didn't, the people would kick us out."

The "Boss" was often accused of favoritism. There was little business or patronage for those who didn't "get along."

But even his worst enemies agreed the city-county governments were efficient. Tax dollars went a long way. No major graft was uncovered for at least the past 20 years.

The machine's statewide power pivoted on the fact that for years bloc voting in "Big Memphis" made the city, in relation to the state, the tail that wagged the dog.

For decades, any reasonably close state race could be swung by Crump's avalanche of ballots.

A measure of power during his heyday, Crump elected a governor by giving him a Shelby County majority of almost 60,000 votes. Then he turned and defeated the same man two years later by a 48,000 majority.

But in the 1948 primary, Gordon Browning, the man Crump backed in one election and fought in the next, swept to a decisive victory over Gov. Jim McCord.

And Rep. Estes Kefauver, making his bid for the Senate, overwhelmed a Crump-backed candidate, Circuit Judge John Mitchell, despite the Shelby machine's usual good majority.

Gov. Frank Clement, with Crump support, defeated Browning in 1952 and again in '54. The extent of Crump's influence at the state capital, however, was difficult to determine.

Though Crump's power was lessened, he kept a tight grip on Shelby. He ran things from the big corner office in his insurance firm, a stone's throw from city hall.

Elected officials handled the details of government. Policy was laid by "the man on the corner," a title Crump disliked but not strenuously.

He hated to be called "Boss"—in print, at least. He argued the word automatically prejudiced voters. Still, his one-man rule was so intense not even his most intimate advisers speculated publicly on his successor.

The "people" never kicked Crump out, but the state had its boot poised once. Back in 1915, when Memphis was a rip-roaring Mississippi River town that bristled with illegal saloons, Crump was forced to resign as mayor.

Ouster proceedings were brought under a Tennessee law which provided for removal of officials who did not enforce prohibition.

Crump always insisted the ouster stemmed from his fight to force utilities to reduce rates. At any rate, it didn't hurt him politically. Barred from being mayor, though he had just been re-elected, Crump merely shuffled things around. The shuffle gave Memphis four different mayors in the space of a few minutes.

First, W. T. McLain, named mayor when Crump was ousted, stepped down. Crump was sworn in. R. A. Utley, ousted and re-elected with Crump, was sworn in as a commissioner and vice mayor. Two minutes later, Crump resigned. Utley, automatically the new mayor, also resigned. Then the city commission, at Crump's direction, named T. C. Ashcroft to fill the unexpired term.

Crump, retaining the reins of political power, got himself elected county trustee, or treasurer, an office he held for nine years, until 1924.

Long after his retirement from the official governments of Memphis and Shelby County, Crump returned to public office in 1931, serving two terms in Congress.

He never made a speech in the House, but was known as a powerful worker and a strong supporter of the Muscle Shoals water power development and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Crump was born on a farm near Holly Springs, Miss., Oct. 2, 1874. He never went beyond grammar school and moved to Memphis to seek his fortune in 1892.

He worked as a bookkeeper and a cashier and later operated a saddlery goods firm, branching into politics as a ward heeler.

He married Bessie Byrd McLean of Memphis. They had three boys: Edward H. Jr., Robert and John. All of them became associated with their father in business—but not in politics.

John, who was Crump's constant companion, was killed in an airplane crash in Grenada, Miss. in 1939.

Early in his political career, Crump became friendly with K. D. McKellar, a struggling young lawyer. McKellar was elected to Congress in 1911 and served 36 years in the Senate.

The colorful Shelby political leader was a man of varied interests, ranging from horse racing to football, to birds and boat rides.

An enthusiastic sports fan, he particularly liked to watch the horses run. He was a regular at the Hot Springs, Ark., race track. His flowing white hair and cane were familiar to Kentucky Derby crowds.

Frequently, he loaded his fellow politicians and friends into a special train and, amid singing and strumming guitars, took them to the Hot Springs races for a day.

Crump would travel anywhere in the nation to watch a topflight college football game. He prided himself on his ability to rate players and picked "Crump All-America" teams for sports writers.

Late in life, the picturesque politician became a lover of birds. He organized the Crump-Audubon Society.

From the top county office down to the school children went this directive: "Save the birds. Build houses for 'em. Feed 'em."

He also sponsored a Mississippi River steamboat ride for orphans, old folk and shut-ins. The annual cruise up the river furnished four hours of fellowship and fun also for the political leaders and business executives of Memphis who received an invitation to go along.

There were few refusals. Crump remained unwavering in his determination to have the final say-so in matters involving Memphis.

He broke frequently with former political allies who did not see eye-to-eye with him on municipal or state issues. Some, like Browning, tried to buck his will. Most preferred to drop out of the picture.

The young lady who splurges her college clothes budget on evening gowns is foolish. One is fine, for in most dormitories, there are tremendous swaps before each dance so no one ever need wear her only gown twice.

The care you give your berets won't do for this fall's hats. They're deep and have lots of shape. Allow a hat box for each, or a hat stand and plenty of space that won't be disturbed by a hunt for that little suitcase.

AEC Says Safeguards To Prevent Windfalls Now In Dixon-Yates Contract

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission says that, "after considerable negotiation," it succeeded in writing provisions into the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract "which should remove the possibility of 'windfalls' to the company."

In a still unpublished report to Congress, read today by an Associated Press reporter, the AEC described as not excessive contract terms permitting the Dixon-Yates group to make a tax-free return of 9 per cent or more on its proposed $1.5 million dollar investment in a new power plant near the Tennessee Valley.

The AEC said, however, the 9 per cent is not guaranteed and could be higher or lower if changes in construction cost estimates modified the group's investment.

The commission said it balked at the group's original proposal under which "the company would have received any profits in excess of a 9 per cent return on its equity (investment) with the AEC being obligated to pay the income tax."

Instead, the AEC said it inserted five provisions in the current and probably final draft of the contract designed to eliminate possible excessive profits. It said that the commission, "through negotiation, has obtained major concessions from the company."

The detailed report was sent to Congress to explain final negotiations for the politically explosive contract. The AEC has not released either document, although both are unclassified and pressure for their publication apparently is mounting.

An Associated Press staff writer read both the printed contract and the mimeographed AEC report, furnished to him by an official source.

The 25-year contract — the center of a political storm — calls for the Dixon-Yates group to furnish 600,000 kilowatts of power from a new steam plant at West Memphis, Ark., to be built at an estimated cost of 107 million dollars. The power would be supplied to the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace some of the TVA electricity used by AEC.

Under present cost estimates, the AEC would pay $20,746,000 a year for the power, including federal income and state and local taxes. The commission would absorb any major increases in the cost of coal and labor and would be credited for decreases.

The commission has approved but not yet signed the contract, which now is before the senate-House Atomic Energy Committee. The congressional group meets Nov. 4 for open hearings on it and to decide whether to insist upon a provision that would postpone signing the contract until next February.

The administration has asked the committee to waive the provision and clear the contract for immediate implementation. Opponents of the proposal — many Democrats and some Republicans — want it postponed.

The contract and the AEC report contain these main points:

1. The AEC would pay Dixon-Yates basic yearly charges which include $495,000 labelled as 9 per cent return on the group's proposed investment of $54 million dollars. The group is composed of the Middle South Utilities, Inc., and the Southern Co.
2. Earnings above this figure would be placed in a reserve fund from which the group could draw to make up earnings of less than 9 per cent in any year. When the fund exceeds $500,000, the companies and the AEC split the excess.
3. The AEC said a 9 per cent re-

turn compared with 9.5 per cent for major utilities in 1951 and with net returns of 5.7 and 8 per cent on present contracts with the Electric Energy Inc., and Ohio Valley Electric Corp., for power furnished to the Paducah, Ky., and Portsmouth, Ohio A-plants.

The commission said the proposed reserve fund, with provisions for splitting it up, were introduced into the contract as part of its attempt to prevent any windfall profits. About half of the companies' share, the AEC said, would go into taxes, at present rates.

2. The basic charge which the AEC would pay also includes advance payments on estimated federal income taxes, now computed at $536,250 yearly. The AEC and the watchdog General Accounting Office said this conforms to a Senate amendment prohibiting direct reimbursement of these taxes to the companies. The AEC said it is obligated only for taxes on annual earnings of $495,000.

3. The balance of the initial investment would be obtained through long-term bonds, floated through New York financial institutions, on which the AEC would pay 3 1/2 per cent interest, the payments being included in the basic charges to the AEC. The commission said the actual interest would be somewhat higher, and the companies would have to pay the difference.

The AEC report estimated that the return from the total planned investment of 107 million dollars would be 4 per cent. Over the 25 year period, the commission said, it would pay about 75 per cent of the original interest.

4. The contract contains no specific ceiling on the Dixon-Yates group's return from its investment, except through the proposed reserve fund. It also authorizes the companies to generate and market additional power from the new plant, subject to regulation by utility commissions.

The AEC said it asked the group to guarantee performance under the contract but this was rejected. The commission added that it was confident the companies would build the kind of plant it wants.

Fight Is Being Waged To Defeat Amendment For Segregation In Schools

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Definite opposition is rising in Louisiana against a vital constitutional proposal in the Nov. 2 election drafted to assure continuance of public school segregation.

The heart of the 1954 legislation declares segregation is a matter of "health and morals" and subject to control under the state's inherent police power.

After the 1954 Legislature closed shop, not too much was heard until recently about any of the 31 constitutional measures the public will decide next month.

Gov. Robert Kennon says there appears no controversy and he believes all 31 will pass.

But "Catholic Action," official organ of the archdiocese of New Orleans, is playing lead editorial with these words:

"To protect the ideals of true Democracy, which call for racial equality, citizens should vote against the school segregation amendment to the Louisiana Constitution on Nov. 2."

Thus "Catholic Action's" language has become definite after saying, at the time the Legislature went home, citizens should "examine the issue calmly and fully."

The Kennon administration and the 1954 session established state policy of doing what is necessary to assure school segregation will not die.

Leaders backing the segregation amendment are getting ready to go all out promoting public interest with poll time approaching.

A statewide campaign including television programs is being prepared, explaining need for the amendment—16th on the ballot—and how it will work.

Sen. W. M. Rainach of Summerfield, chairman of the 10-man legislative group rallying amendment support, said Louisiana has the "only sensible way" to meet the issue.

Commenting on "Catholic Action's" stand, the north Louisiana legislator asked:

"What is more Christian—to uphold a way of life under which the vast majorities of both our races are making progress and are content, or to advocate abandonment of this natural order and the substitution of integration by coercion, with the racial hatred and violence that inevitably would follow?"

Since a large section of Louisiana is Catholic, the voice of "Catholic Action" carries some influence.

Sentiments expressed in the paper's editorials certainly have approval of Archbishop Joseph Rummel, officials of the archbishop's chancery report.

The archbishop has ended segregation in New Orleans Catholic schools.

"Catholic Action" not only is the official voice of the large archdiocese of New Orleans, but the diocese of Alexandria and the diocese of Lafayette.

In Louisiana, about 35 per cent of the nation's Negro Catholics are listed—a total of some 148,000.

What will Louisiana Negroes do at the polls? Pollicians insist they have never voted as a bloc.

Dr. E. A. Johnson, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has written to the NAACP's Louisiana executive secretary, urging a campaign to turn the Negro vote against the segregation amendment. So far, the NAACP has taken no official stand.

"We believe the proposal is a little below the standards of American statesmanship," Dr. Johnson said. "By calling on the police power of the state, the proposal does not face the issue squarely."

Against all this lies the age-long tradition of this deeply southern state.

With the constitutional proposal, Louisiana is relying on police powers contained in the 10th amendment to the U.S. Constitution, to offset the 14th amendment on which the Supreme Court based its segregation ruling.

The amendment also would give the Legislature a chance to call a special election quickly, at any time, to design new judges if the Supreme Court should wreck legal barricades the state attempts to erect.

West Monroe 4-H'er Awarded Jersey Heifer In Valley Fair Finale

Yesterday for the first time since its establishment five years ago by the West Monroe Businessmen's Association, the annual award at the Ouachita Valley Fair of a registered dairy heifer for outstanding 4-H work in the parish, was presented to a boy instead of a girl.

Proud recipient of the 17-month-old Jersey heifer was 14-year-old Wallace Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. "Peck" Freeman, 1419 Ridge Ave., West Monroe, whose ambition is to own a dairy herd when he grows up.

Wallace was selected for the award on the basis of fair participation, leadership and 4-H Club project work during the past year. He gathered an enviable string of ribbons and a tidy amount of premium money at the exposition which ended yesterday in West Monroe.

His premiums amounted to $69. He won six blue ribbons on entries in the junior livestock show, two on dairy heifers—Jersey and Guernsey—three on market hogs and one on showmanship in the dairy division.

In all, he had nine hogs in the fair competition, two dairy heifers, and 11 chickens—Three White Rocks, five Johnson White Leghorns, and three DeKalbs.

The industrious youth has been in 4-H Club work for three years, and is an eighth grade student at West Monroe High School.

Although Wallace expressed surprise at winning the calf, which is the daughter of the first animal to be awarded five years ago, he was already planning the animal's show future.

"I will try to take the heifer to the district livestock show at Delhi in the spring, and then if I can,

October 30 Set For Homecoming Day At Northeast

Northeast State has chosen October 30 to celebrate the college's twenty-second annual Homecoming Day. This year's event will honor the class of 1934, Alumni President Gordon Maurice LeBlanc of Shreveport announced.

The special group will be guests of the college at the football game between Northeast State and Alabama State Teachers College at 8 p.m. on Brown Field. They are to receive complimentary reserve seat tickets in a section designated for the 1934 class.

About 2,500 invitations have been mailed to former students of the college, and others will be posted next week.

Persons knowing the address of a member of the '34 class or any other alumni are requested to telephone the office of Mrs. Evelyn Otts of the Northeast faculty. This information will make it possible for the faculty alumni committee to add to the announcement list, she said.

Both former students and graduates of the college at the time it was on the junior or senior level are eligible for membership in the Alumni Association, LeBlanc explained.

The organization has a business meeting scheduled October 30 at 6 p.m. in the Social Center on the campus. Following refreshments, the group will go to the game.

Included in the tentative night's program are pre-game activities, featuring the Reserve Officers Training Corps and half-time specialties emphasizing the coronation ceremony and an aerial display of fireworks. Evening festivities will end with a dance in the gymnasium.

Northeast's Homecoming queen and members of her court will be announced following Monday's election of the maids by the football team. The queen and her maid of honor were chosen by secret ballot of the student body.

The Student Council, headed by Perry Elder, is directing Homecoming activities. Details of events for Friday preceding the big day and other features, including a parade through the business section of the Twin Cities, will be completed by faculty-student committees.

to the state stock show at Baton Rouge. Next fall I'll show it at the fair here," he said.

Presentation of the heifer to Wallace at noon yesterday in front of the fair's main agricultural exhibit building, was made by three association officials, State Representative Shady Wall, vice-president; George Tyner, chairman of the agricultural committee; and H. B. Cannon, secretary-treasurer. Selection of the winner was made by an unidentified panel of judges.

Associate Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Audrey Dawson, and Associate County Agent W. B. Aycock, Jr., who work with 4-H Club youngsters in Ouachita Parish, were also on hand for the award ceremony.

The calf, registered as "Sybil Franchise Lass, was dropped April 12, 1953. It was purchased by Ralph Kilpatrick, Route Two, West Monroe whose sister, Myrie owned its mother, the first animal to be awarded by the group.

In association with his brother, Bobby, who is 11 years old, Wallace has about 150 hens in cages. Most of them are DeKalbs, and the remainder are Johnson White Leghorns and White Rocks.

Wallace had two heifers before winning the Jersey and his younger brother has two heifers. In addition to this they own, along with their father, about 100 head of hogs.

Yesterday at the fair was white children's day, with carnival rides priced at a special low rate. Bright, sunny weather brought out a lot of youngsters, and the rides were going well before noon, with business picking up as the day wore on.

Livestock, poultry and some of the other exhibits were moved out of the exposition buildings during the afternoon, and the carnival became the main center of attention in the closing hours of the fair's last day.

Officials released a list of winners in the women's division of the exposition, as records were being put in order and readied for storing.

Results of various competitions in the women's division at the fair in order of placing, first, second, third, unless otherwise designated:

L. B. Faulk Post, American Legion, Plans Its Drive

The regular meeting of the L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, American Legion, Monday night will be of social nature when held in the Legion home on Forsythe Avenue.

Barbecue is planned, and there will be music and entertainment. The chief business at the time will comprise discussion and laying of plans for the membership campaign.

This meeting will be in the form of a kick off for the drive that will be at once initiated.

Each Legion member is urged to bring a new member.

Visiting Teachers Go To St. Louis For Nat'l Meeting

Miss Eleona Brinsmade, visiting teacher of the Monroe city schools and Mrs. Lucile Woodridge, visiting teacher of the Caldwell parish schools, are attending a national meeting of visiting teachers, the National League to Promote School Attendance, in St. Louis, Mo.

This is the 40th meeting of this organization and Mrs. Woodridge and Miss Brinsmade have been privileged to attend the meetings of this organization in Richmond, Va., Boston, Mass., Wichita, Kan., and Washington, D. C.

The national league this year has a program planned around the following topics: The Family's Responsibility in Promoting a Wholesome School Adjustment; The Evolution and Broadening Concepts of the Attendance Service; The Child in the Economically Deprived Family and the Child in the Socially Inadequate Family. The convention is October 18 through the 21st.

Concordia Fair To Open Monday

FERRIDAY, Oct. 16 (Special)—The Concordia Parish Fair will open here at the new fair grounds Monday, October 18 and will continue through Saturday, October 23.

A parade and queen's contest to be held in Ferriday at 2 p. m. on Wednesday will be one of the highlights of the week.

In the queen's competition each elementary and each high school in the parish will send one representative to the fair to compete as parish queen.

The individual schools will select their representative and this representative will be judged at the fair by independent judges with prizes to be awarded.

This year's exposition is expected to be the largest ever held in the parish, with exhibits being housed in the new permanent buildings.

Officers and directors of the association are S. L. Winston, Jr., president; T. A. Reeves, vice-president; Mrs. Thomas B. Jones, vice-president; Willard Davide, vice-president; and Verne Richey, secretary-treasurer.

Directors of the fair association include Mrs. W. L. Wilson, Mrs. J. O. Glanton, Johnnie Beasley, W. H. Abel, O. W. Brooks, W. H. Bairnsfather, T. B. Jones, E. B. Wade, C. J. Sullivan, Bill Burris and Eugene E. Taylor.

Flanders Urges GOP Solons To Support Censure

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—UP—Sen. Ralph E. Flanders who started the Senate censure move against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said Saturday he hopes a majority of Republican members will vote for it.

The 74-year-old Vermont Republican said he hoped for enough GOP votes that censure would not become "a partisan issue."

"It would be a bad thing indeed if this turned into a partisan vote," he said in an interview. "I don't think it will be. I'm hoping for a Republican majority."

Some GOP senators already have announced their intention of voting against censure and supporting McCarthy.

Flanders also told newsmen he was "one of two senators"—and he indicated the other was McCarthy—who had not been invited to campaign for GOP candidates this year.

(McCarthy is not campaigning but has said he turned down many invitations to speak in behalf of Republican nominees.)

Flanders said, however, he would support all Republican Senate candidates, including Joseph T. Meek in Illinois.

"I certainly would vote for Mr.

Meek if I were an Illinois voter," he said.

Flanders said he plans to speak about 10 minutes when the Senate debates the report of a special six-man committee which recommended censuring McCarthy. Though he touched off the fight, he said his role is finished.

"While I am a senator and have the right to vote and the freedom to speak, the part to which I was devoting myself has been accomplished," Flanders said. "I am no longer crusading."

Army Worms Hit In Catahoula Parish

HARRISONBURG (Special)—A serious outbreak of army worms in Catahoula parish was reported this week by E. E. Johnson, county agent.

Johnson advised farmers to check their oats and winter crops in an effort to halt the spread of the pest. The worms have been found in all parts of the parish, Johnson said.

Several fields, he continued, have been completely destroyed by the army worms. He said farmers may control the army worms by dusting with 10-20 pounds of 20 per cent DDT or 10-12 pounds of 10 per cent DDT per acre.

One farmer whose oat field has been devastated by the pests, had an airplane dusting his crops. He said the worms, thousands of them, beat a hasty retreat to the turnrows in an effort to escape the air "blitz."

COED GEOLOGISTS — Setting a precedent at Northeast State are the two freshmen shown in the laboratory where they are checking specimens. First coeds to major in geology at the college are Ann Parrish of West Monroe, seated, and Sally Rushing of Rayville, standing. Both are emphasizing micropaleontology which they hope will lead to laboratory work with an oil company. Geology interest seems to run in the Parrish family as Ann's brother Gary is a senior who is majoring in that field. (Northeast State photo by Bobby Oden.)

First Coeds To Major In Geology At College Here, In Class Of 96

Among the 96 students majoring in geology at Northeast State, two are particularly conspicuous. Their claim to geological attention at Northeast State is their style of dress, which resembles that worn by women. They are freshmen coeds Ann Parrish of West Monroe and Sally Rushing of Rayville, the only women among 94 men.

In such environment their task is to concentrate upon micropaleontology, a difficult assignment for any freshman coed, even without the 94 men. The girls are setting out to prove at Northeast State that geology has also fallen before the march of modern woman's ability to expand into the field of science, and make a worthwhile contribution.

Although they have not yet begun their actual micropaleontology studies because they are only freshmen, they are enrolled in beginning geology courses and are planning a career for themselves in that field.

Actually, most micropaleontologists employed by oil companies today are women, according to John McCarter, associate professor of geology at Northeast State, who will be teaching the girls geology during their studies at college. The oil industry jobs available to women in micropaleontology are high paying, he said.

Micropaleontology is the study of very small fossils. Its application to the oil industry involves fossils which are regularly brought up in oil well cuttings during drilling. Studies made in oil company laboratories by women like Miss Parrish and Miss Rushing reveal the age of the rock being drilled, and are of great help to drillers in determining the definite zones of geological formations to which their drill has penetrated.

By correlating the information yielded by the microscopic fossils with information known about adjacent and surrounding structures which have been drilled, oil men are aided in making the many calculations necessary to determine whether their efforts are being successful. It gives them information in which they expect to discover oil.

Laboratory analyses of the fossils will also yield information of the environment in which the fossils had been originally deposited. This means that it is possible to determine whether the structure being drilled for oil was originally near the shore, near a beach, or far from the shoreline. Oil men have learned that formations which were originally formed near the beachline have the greatest oil value.

Micropaleontology work of the sort the girls hope to do is especially important in south Louisiana, according to McCarter, because of the definite rock formations that occur in the Gulf area. In places like North Louisiana the rock formations are more definite and extend for larger distances.

In oil-conscious Louisiana, where the industry forms a major part of the state's economy, young people have become very aware of job opportunities in the petroleum field. Evidence of this is the fact that geology is one of the most popular courses at Northeast State.

There are 96 regular students who are majoring in geology. In addition there are 10 geology majors who are enrolled in special night classes. These latter are mostly persons already employed in the oil industry. A major is one who intends to concentrate his college study in a given field, generally with a view to seeking employment in it after graduation from college. Besides the geology majors, many students majoring in other subjects also take geology courses. The large number of students enrolled in the classes make geology one of the most important subjects among Northeast Louisiana students.

Northeast State is meeting the growing need for geological study in this area. This year the college added a member to its faculty to join McCarter in meeting the increasing demand. He is Marcus Mapp, assistant professor of geology.

Boy Scout Troop No. 32 Dates To 1928, It Is Stated

W. W. Stevens, Council Scout commissioner, has prepared with much care a little story of troop 32. It dates back to 1928. Here it is:

The early history of Boy Scout Troop 32 is rather sketchy due to incomplete records. The first record of troop 32 is a charter application for a charter to expire February 28, 1928, indicating that troops 7 and 32 were combined or that troop 7 was changed to troop 32. Grace Episcopal Church was the sponsor and E. S. Eby was the scoutmaster.

For the quarter year ending in February, 1929, the sponsoring agent was the Parent Teachers Association of a West Monroe School. Members of this troop committee were: A. W. Riggs, state commissioner; Pat S. Hamilton, clerk of court; J. A. Rainbolt, principal of school.

The troop was re-registered the following year with Claude Harrison of Ouachita Tobacco Company as chairman of the troop committee and L. R. Simpson, safety director, Brown Paper Mill, a scout executive, Mr. Eby was still the scoutmaster.

This troop operated through February, 1933, sponsored by the Grosley P-T-A. At one time, G. W. Welch, Superintendent Ouachita Parish schools was chairman of the troop committee.

In April, 1934, the troop was sponsored by the Church of Christ of Monroe with Leon M. Fife of West Monroe as Scoutmaster. The following year C. S. Davidson was scoutmaster.

In July, 1936, the sponsoring agency became the First Christian Church with Mr. Davidson still the scoutmaster and the following well known men on the committee: E. R. Dawson, O. A. Easterling, Geo. D. Pipes, M. W. Montgomery, M. G. Moore and E. R. Whitaker.

The troop became inactive in 1938 and remained so until June, 1942, when it was sponsored by Monroe Lions Club, P. E. Massey, president with O. E. Gilcrease as Scoutmaster, and the following committee: A. B. Clarkson, Tom H. Monk, L. E. Mathis, Allen Givens and W. M. Crofton. Mr. Clarkson is chairman of the Ouachita Valley Council.

The troop has been continuously sponsored since that time by the Monroe Lions Club. Since re-activation in 1942, nine scouts have attained the rank of Eagle and 146 boys, including the present members, have obtained their scouting experience in troop 32.

During the summer of 1947, the Lions Club constructed a hut on Gilbert Street, east of the Sherouse school, which was dedicated during Scout week on Monday, February 9, 1948.

The 1954-55 charter year began on October 1, 1954. The members of the Lions Club who are serving this troop are L. N. Blair, F. L. Meyer, J. C. Loftin, J. F. Kelsa and J. B. Bradley. Working directly with the troop are W. W. Stevens,

Progressive Men To Have Barbecue

The Progressive Men's Club will hold a barbecue and open house at their new home on highway 80 four and a half miles east of Monroe, near the Memorial Cemetery, from 12 noon until 3 p. m. Louis Constanza, president, announced Saturday.

The public is invited to inspect the club house and to eat barbecue, Constanza said.

On the barbecue committee are Constanza, A. F. Canizaro, Tony Lewis, A. L. Emhano, A. E. Anzalone, and Mitchell Bruno.

Extension Of Phone Service Confirmed

JONESVILLE, Oct. 16 (Special)—The Southern Bell telephone company has completed a survey for the possible extension of phone service south of here down Black River to Glade, La.

A. B. Kessler, Bell manager in this area, said this week that the proposed project would provide phone service for about 50 rural families.

If the project is given final approval, Kessler said, the installation date of phones in the area will be late this year or early in 1955.

Fire In House At L. T. I. Is Put Out

Firemen Saturday morning extinguished a fire in the kitchen of one of the houses at the Louisiana Training Institute here, they reported.

The blaze, which was reported at 9:08 a. m. Saturday, was confined to the kitchen, where it apparently started from overheated grease. Damage to the building was slight, firemen said.

The last truck reported back to the station at 10:16 a.m. Saturday.

H.S.T. Assails GOP In Fiery Major Address

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 16—(AP)—Harry S. Truman beseathed the American People tonight to elect a Democratic Congress and end what he called a Republican spectacle of "blunder after blunder" in foreign policy and tragic surrender at home to "selfish interests."

In less than 20 months, the former President said, the Republican administration has "shown its incapacity to govern."

Truman stepped into the political arena with his only speech of the campaign, a fighting speech prepared for delivery at a Midwest Democratic political rally in Municipal Auditorium. The address was set for 7 p.m. with no live television or radio coverage. The American Broadcasting Co. will carry the speech on its radio network at 10:30 p.m. EST.

In his old, "give 'em hell" form, the former chief executive ripped the GOP for what he termed "frenzied diplomacy" that has cost us the confidence of friends and allies, for serving special interests instead of those of the people, for a "shocking give-away" of the nation's resources, for "waiting for a miracle where millions are jobless."

And under the new administration, Truman said, farmers have received just what he warned about in 1952—lower income and a cost of living at an all-time high.

"All administrations make mistakes," the former President said,
"but what concerns me greatly is the fundamental attitude and outlook of the policy-makers of this Republican administration."

"It is clear that they do not represent the best interests of our people, and in 20 months they have changed dangerously our liberal form of government to one of reaction at home and confusion abroad."

"I cannot see where there is any leadership among the Republicans to deal with the great needs of this country. On the contrary, what I do see is a hopeless drifting and a gradual surrender to selfish interests at home."

"I would not have you go home tonight in a mood of despair and gloom. Happily for us we have a simple and sure remedy. Vote the Democrats back in control of Congress."

Still recovering from an operation last June, Truman said he felt so strongly about all this that he had overruled his doctors to raise his voice for putting the nation's legislative business back into the hands of "the party that is for the people."

Under the law, Truman said, it is the duty of the government,
"even if it does not respond to elementary humanity," to act at once on any number of practical programs to create jobs and opportunities for work. Democrats, he said, would know what to do.

Cracking at Secretary of Defense Wilson's recent Detroit reference to dogs and the unemployed, Truman said that the Republicans "in unguarded moments" can't help but "reveal what they really think."

Wilson stirred up a storm with a remark, for which he apologized later, that he sympathized with people out of work but preferred bird dogs that hunted for food to kennel dogs that sat around and yelled.

Turning to the Dixon-Yates contract to build a private plant to replace power the Tennessee Valley Authority is turning over to the Atomic Energy Commission, Truman called it a good example of what Republicans mean when they campaign for free competitive enterprise. He said it is neither competitive nor enterprise but it is free—"a plain give-away of public money and national resources."

He said he personally believes
"there is a brazen attempt in the making to wreck" TVA.

GOP Solon

truly sorry . . . I wish before my Heavenly Father that I might undo this wrong. I ask your forgiveness and I assure you I will spend a lifetime repenting and trying to make amends . . .

"I have already told the officers of the party that, if they wish, I will willingly step aside to permit them to certify another candidate.
If another is chosen, I will support him wholeheartedly. If they ask me to continue, I shall carry on my campaign in my record in the 83rd Congress . . . I shall humbly abide by the decision of my party and the people of the 1st District."

The Army Times in its current edition devoted most of three pages to a copyrighted article captioned "The Strange Case of Congressman Doug Stringfellow."

The article dealt with Stringfel-low's accounts of his wartime service, as given, the paper said, in articles in Pacific Coast newspapers and on a television show (This is Your Life, over NBC) last
Jan. 24.

Stringfellow had caused the Army Times account an "unfounded attack . . . politically inspired."

Along with the article the Army Times published a campaign photograph showing Stringfellow with President Eisenhower.

Beneath the picture the caption reported that after Stringfellow's television appearance, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty wired him:

"Congratulations on the wonderful presentation of your life and many outstanding accomplishments. The President has asked me to extend to you his very best wishes and congratulations."

Hagerty was advised tonight of Stringfellow's repudiation of his claim to service with the OSS. The White House press secretary said:
"We will have no comment. 'It is a personal matter with him.'"

Motorist Traps Bandit, Captures Him—With Help

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Oct. 16
—A motorist who pretended to accept a $300 bribe to drive a gun-toting man to Memphis, Tenn., turned the tables and captured him with another man's help today.

The highway patrol said the man identified himself only as Strickland and they placed him in Bolivar County Jail at Rosedale.

Patrolmen J. T. Skelton and James Gardner said preliminary investigation showed Strickland was surprised burglarizing a bread company safe when a driver, Walter Williams, and his assistant, Bob by Mooneyham, reported for work.

Strickland flashed a gun, they said, and ordered the two men to drive him to where his unnamed partner waited. They failed to find the partner and Strickland took the truck and drove off.

Later, he met George Clay and offered him $300 to drive him to Memphis. Clay pretended to accept the bribe and drove Strickland to the home of a man identified as Jackson.

Upon reaching the house, Clay jumped from the car with the ignition keys and shouted for Jackson, who appeared with a shotgun and helped Clay capture Strickland.

Army To Set Up New Command For Domestic Front

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Army said today it will establish an overall continental Army command, headed by Gen. John E.
Dahlgren, responsible for "the ground defenses of the United States."

While the Army's announcement made no reference to the matter, the new continental Army command appears related to a Defense Department order of last summer.
That established a joint command of all military services in the United States — air, Army and Navy — for defense of the country against air attack or invasion.

Under the plan announced in August, the Air Force has been designated as the executive agency for the top "Continental Air Defense Command" and Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw appointed its chief.
Dahlgren now is chief of Army Field Forces, which is responsible for the training of individuals and units utilized by a field army.

The new command will include the functions of the Army Field Forces, but now will also embrace the operations and defense responsibilities of the six continental armies and the Military District of Washington.

Headquarters of the new command will be at Fort Monroe, Va., location of headquarters for the present Army Field Forces organization.

The direct relationship of the Army to the overall Continental Air Defense Command" is through the Antiaircraft Command which works closely with the Air Defense Command of the USAF. Heading is Lt. Gen. Stanley R. Mickelson.
His headquarters is at Ent Air Force Base, Colo., also headquarters for the new Continental Air Defense Command.

The new set-up of the Army represents a return to the "Army ground forces" type of command used in World War II days and which continued until 1947.

President Of Liberia In U.S. To Visit Ike

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—President William V. S. Tubman, of Liberia, the little African republic founded in behalf of freed American slaves, landed today for an official visit to the United States.
He was invited over by President Eisenhower.

Tubman actually arrived in the harbor Thursday night, but he did not dock until this morning. The ship line said it did not wish to risk docking sooner because of hurricane Hazel.

Hazel, said the 58-year-old visiting president, was "a most unpleasant and unwelcome individual."

An official party went down the bay this morning to welcome Tubman.

A police-escorted motorcade took him to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.
The negro chief of state declined to say anything officially about segregation but added:

"I think that segregation and discrimination in any form, anywhere, is wrong."

River Bursts Dam, Major Loss Feared

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 16 (AP)—A dam at Bolton, Ont., on the Humber River burst Saturday night and sent water cascading down the Humber Valley toward Lake Ontario. Provincial police reported.
Police were attempting to evacuate all persons in the area. It was feared all bridges over the Humber River will be washed out.

ing from "ice box ear."

Studies made by Dr. Lucia Cameron Morgan at Louisiana State College show that temperature and humidity changes have a definite effect on hearing ability.

On cool crisp days, when the temperature is at about 50 degrees Fahrenheit and the relative humidity at 70 per cent, your hearing probably is at its sharpest. But when the weather is hot and muggy or cold and dank, the old ears may not be picking up all they should.

And constant exposure to sudden weather changes could spell trouble of a more serious nature.

In Schultz's case, endless trips in and out of the meat locker may have done permanent damage to the inner ear. Kindred afflictions have been noted in railroad engineers who constantly thrust one ear in and out of the cab while the other toasts in the warmth of the fire box.

Musicians frequently complain that in sticky weather it is difficult to stay on pitch. They usually blame it on the strings, but Dr.
Morgan's research indicates perhaps it is the hearing of the audience that is off as well as the tone perception of the artists.

Dr. Morgan, a Baton Rouge speech specialist, first became interested in the effects of weather on hearing when a school for the deaf reported some children had good and bad hearing days for no apparent reason.

The 2,500-year-old advice of Hippocrates, the father of medicine, supplied a clue. "Consider what effects each season of the year can produce," he lectured his togaclad internes in 500 B.C. "For with the seasons, men's diseases, like their digestive organs, suffer changes."

While director of the speech clinic at Michigan State, Dr. Morgan got a chance to study the seasons.
She set out to find not why or ho the weather affects hearing, but how much.

Fourteen students, seven partially deaf, seven with normal hearing, were given seven hearing tests under scientifically controlled weather conditions. They spent a half hour inside a soundproof chamber, listened for a series of tones from an audiometer, which produces notes similar to octaves sounded on tuning forks. Weather conditions were different in each test, except the first and last which served as a double check.

Dr. Morgan found that in nearly all cases her subjects suffered much greater than normal hearing losses at extremes of temperature and humidity. In general, their hearing acuity was highest at a temperature of 50 and a humidity of 70, and strangely enough, almost as good at 70 temperature and 50 humidity. Hearing was worst at 200 and 90 degrees, when accompanied by 80 per cent humidity.

Perhaps Dr. Morgan's study which opens up a whole new field of investigation, will bring the weatherman back into the consulting room. Science already tells us that man does his best dental work at 50 degrees temperature in a relative humidity of 70 and his best physical work at 70 degrees and a humidity of from 50 to 65 per cent.

Man seems to hear best under those conditions too. So personnel managers who want to get the most out of their help would be wise to turn the office air cooler on full blast.

In lines of work where hearing is essential to safety as well as efficiency, weather proofing may go hand in hand with sound proofing. And perhaps someday atmospheric conditions can be controlled

Louisiana's Yam Show Opens Soon

—The 1954 Louisiana Yambilee
Sweet Potato Show will offer $1-645 in cash prizes to farmers, junior growers and women cooks.
New innovation of the sweet potato show this year is the addition of the Goldrush and Early Port varieties.

Entries in the show must be on the Opelousas High School grounds not later than 6 p. m. October 5.
All displays will be U. S. No. 1 quality or better.

Judging will be complete by 10:30 a. m. October 6. Exhibits will be eyed for conditions, uniformity, skin and flesh color, form, size, and smoothness.

Winners of the show will be announced at 12:30 p. m. October 6 at an Exhibitors Yambilee at City Park. Exhibitors will be guests of the Yambilee Association at the event. Appropriate ribbons will be awarded winning entries.

It took a day and a half to cover the distance from New York City to Philadelphia by stagecoach.

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is this A.B.C. emblem a symbol of FACTS about the circulations of newspapers and periodicals. It is the emblem of membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations* and is assurance to advertisers that the circulations of member publications are measured, audited and reported in accordance with the rigid standards that have been mutually approved and adopted by advertisers and publishers. Here's why our membership in the A.B.C. is important to our advertisers and ourselves: At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough inspection and audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: how much circulation we have; where it goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that advertisers need as a sound basis for their advertising investments. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request.

Looks 'Em Over

The Twin Cities Baseball Corporation, that group of more than 300 Monroe and West Monroe baseball fans which fields the Twin Cities Sports in the Cotton States League, is making strong plans to operate again next year—providing, of course, that there still is a league after a meeting of Cotton States directors scheduled for today at El Dorado, Ark.

Stockholders of the Sports, undaunted by the fact that league games here this year drew less than 31,000 customers when they needed 60,000 to call it a good season, are sending their representatives to today's meeting with the message that Monroe and West Monroe are not throwing in the towel. Manager Ed Head, Saul Adler, and R. D. Farr, Jr. will represent the Sports at the meeting.

Judge Emmett Hart, the Greenville, Miss., boss of Class C circuit, is expected to call the El Dorado meeting with three objectives in keeping his league alive. 1. Reduce the "veterans" a club may carry from seven to possibly three, and four at the most. 2. Hear a favorable report from member clubs on whether or not they can operate in 1955. 3. Go out for new members and an eight-team league. The league operated with only six clubs last summer—El Dorado, Greenville, Meridian, Hot Springs, Pine Bluff, and the Twin Cities.

Possibly new additions loom as Vicksburg, Magnolia, Ark., or Texarkana.

If the league votes to continue, Judge Hart will probably work out a new budget plan of a stipulated assessment for each club instead of a percentage of gate receipts as was the system last year. Clubs may also find corners to cut on their own budgets to reduce operation costs.

The Twin Cities already have held three meetings of the board of directors since the season closed, and, if today's league session shows favorable to operation next year, the Sports will immediately launch a ticket-selling campaign to insure gate success for '55. Details of the ticket drive are expected to be decided within the week, if the league decides to continue.

Next, the Twin Cities stockholders will conduct their election of new officers next month. In addition to top officials, the election will call for four new members to the board of directors.

Sports' plans for continued operation call for study on a proposal to shorten the outer gardens of Legion Memorial Stadium. It takes a 35-foot wallop for the shortest home run the way the park stands. Auxiliary fences cutting corners in left and right fields would make for a better homer-production. Then, with the major leagues showing signs of taking a more active interest in helping the minors, including financial aid, the Twin Cities will probably seek a full working agreement with some major outfit.

Right now the Sports have several assets they didn't enjoy this time a year ago. They own their uniforms, concession equipment, and field operation equipment. In addition the Sports own six ball players, holdovers from the past campaign, where they didn't own a single player when they started work last winter.

Owned by the Sports are right fielder C. J. "Chuck" Fontana; that very versatile infielder-outfielder, Paul Flores; the promising young rookie shortstop, Herman Herzog; the rookie second sacker from Tulane, Jim Nissel; center fielder, Frank Marinkovich; and Bill Halley, the righthander pitcher from Union parish.

All players here last summer on the limited arrangements with the New York Yankees were recalled by the Yanks. Bob Norden, first baseman, was released outright, and Virgil Petty, optioned here by Lake Charles, was released when Lake Charles failed to exercise its recall rights.

But all the planning now in progress depends on what the league directors do today.

Plan 6 Leagues For Basketball Here This Year

The Monroe Recreation department plans to operate six basketball leagues here this winter. Of interest is a youth league, and one for the handicapped. Jack Bessett, recreation director, said the leagues would be: 1. A youth league for boys 12 to 16 years of age. 2. A league for the handicapped. 3. A league for the elderly. 4. A league for the unemployed. 5. A league for the unemployed. 6. A league for the unemployed.

Redskins Outrush Favored Foe; Pass Counts Indian TD

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Oct. 16 (Special) The Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky, relying almost entirely on the running of fullback Millard Shirley, repulsed the battling Indians from Northeast Louisiana State College, 19 to 7, here this afternoon. It was the fifth straight win for the unbeaten Hilltoppers, and loss No. 5 for Northeast.

Shirley was just about Western Kentucky's whole show. The "Toppers" gained 207 yards rushing—less than the Indians—but Shirley accounted for 180 of those.

Without Shirley it might have been a different story as the invading Redskins out rushed the Kentuckians, 218 to 207, and had the edge in first downs, 13 to 10. Western Kentucky took the opening kickoff, and 15 plays later Shirley, a Springfield, Ky., junior, plunged over from the three.

In the second quarter the "Toppers" got possession on their 32 and hammered to the Northeast 12. Quarterback Jerry Nassano scooted through center the rest of the way.

Northeast, never out of the fight, came roaring right back against the heavily favored Kentuckians. The Tribe got possession on the Hilltoppers 46, powered to the 32 and then quarterback Danny Hoak fired a touchdown pass to Dan Andrews. Andrews also converted and Western led only 12-7 at the half.

After a scoreless third quarter, the Indians made a strong bid for victory in the final period, powering their way to the Hilltoppers' 25 and held for downs with three minutes to go in the game.

Western then stayed off chance of the Tribe catching up by driving to Northeast's 25 in three plays, one a 46-yard run by Shirley, and then Jim Gummel scooted through center to score. Gummel converted for the final point.

Score by quarters:
Northeast 0 7 0 0—7
Western Ky. 6 6 0 7—19
Northeast scoring: Touchdown—Andrews. Conversion—Andrews.
Western Ky. scoring: Touchdown—Shirley, Nassano, Gummel. Conversion—Gummel.

Alert Michigan Beats Wildcats By 7-0 Margin

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 16 (AP)—An alert, fumble-picking Michigan team took advantage of Northwestern's mistakes today to defeat the Wildcats, 7-0, before 38,585 fans for its second Big Ten victory of the campaign.

Time after time, the Wolverines stopped Northwestern drives by picking up Wildcat fumbles. Early in the second quarter, Michigan recovered a Northwestern fumble on the 23 and turned it into the game's only touchdown.

Guard Ed Meads grabbed Northwestern quarterback Dale Pienta's fumble on the Northwestern 23 and the Wolverines marched for the touchdown in seven plays with Dan Cline powering over from the 1-yard line.

Michigan 7 0 0 0—7
Michigan scoring: Touchdown, Cline. Conversion, Kramer.

West Virginia In 19-14 Upset Win Over State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 16 (AP)—West Virginia's Dick Nicholson raced 40 yards through a broken field today for the deciding touchdown as unbeaten West Virginia wrecked Penn State's hopes for a perfect season with a 19-14 upset before a record crowd of 32,221.

The Mountaineers, now owners of a three game perfect record, scored first but then had to come from behind as the Nittany Lions' basketball type offense sliced out two fast touchdowns in the second period.

Houston 14-7 Victor Over Oklahoma A-M

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 16 (AP)—Houston snapped a 7-7 deadlock with an 88-yard touchdown drive in the closing minutes to beat out favored Oklahoma A. & M., 14-7 today in a Missouri Valley Conference football game before 24,000 homecoming spectators.

Fumble made the difference in the slam-bang game with all three touchdowns springing from errors caused by the jarring line play of both clubs.

Still-Unbeaten Colgate Downs Dartmouth, 13-7

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 16 (AP)—Colgate remained in the thinning ranks of the unbeaten major football teams today by coming from behind in the second half to earn a 13-7 victory over Dartmouth on a sustained 99-yard march.

Stiffening on its own goal line in a brilliant defensive stand, Colgate took the ball from Dartmouth on downs when the Green had four cracks from inside the three mid-way in the third period.

Trailing 7-6, Colgate then drove 99 yards for the winning score, with fullback Johnny Williams dashing 49 yards to the one after taking a pitch-out lateral from quarterback Dick Lalla. Williams smashed over from the one.

Score by quarters:
Colgate 6 0 7 0—13
Dartmouth 7 0 0 0—7

4 Teams In Top Ten Pasted With Losses

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—What the top ten teams in the Associated Press' weekly college football poll did today:

1. Oklahoma defeated Kansas, 65-0.
2. Wisconsin defeated Purdue, 20-6.
3. U. C. L. A. defeated Stanford, 72-0.

4. Ohio State defeated Iowa, 20-14.
5. Purdue lost to Wisconsin, 20-6.
6. Duke lost to Army, 28-14.

7. Mississippi defeated Tulane, 34-7.
8. Notre Dame defeated Michigan State, 20-19.
9-10 Penn State lost to West Virginia, 19-14.

9-10 Navy lost to Pittsburgh, 21-20.

Allen Leads Way As Florida Trips Kentucky 21 To 7

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 16 (AP)—Dick Allen, slim sophomore doing double duty for injured Bobby Lance, quarterbacked both Florida units to a 21-7 victory over Kentucky today and a commanding position in the Southeastern Conference football race with a 3-0 record.

Kentucky traveled 72 yards to a touchdown with the opening kickoff, but Florida came right back to tie it up and initiated two more drives with Kentucky fumbles near midfield.

Allen passed 10 yards to Welton Lockhart for the first touchdown, scored the second from the 1, pitched out to Jackie Simpson for six yards and the third; and kicked the three conversions.

Kentucky moved the ball with ease until jarred loose from it, or until Bob Hardy's passes fell into Florida hands.

Hardy scored Kentucky's touchdown and converted.

The 32,000 fans in Florida Field cheered their Gators' return to the form that brought earlier victories over Georgia Tech and Auburn.

Kentucky 7 0 0 0—7
Florida 7 7 0 0—21
Kentucky scoring: Touchdown, Hardy. Conversion, Hardy.

Florida scoring: Touchdowns, Lockhart, Allen, Simpson. Conversions, Allen 3.

Demons Wallop Oklahoma Foes By 38-0 Margin

NATCHITOCHE, La., Oct. 16 (AP)—Hallback Don Miller' scored two touchdowns to lead Northwestern State College to a 38-0 victory over Southeastern Oklahoma tonight.

Miller's first score came on a 25-yard run shortly after the opening kickoff. He dived over from the one-yard line in the third quarter for the other after setting up the score with a 59-yard run with an intercepted pass.

Searle Walton raced 86 yards for his team's second first quarter touchdown and Earl Haynes converted.

Roland Smith and Dan Carr scored touchdowns in the second quarter and James McNeve scored one in the third quarter. Charles Johnson made the other Northwestern conversion.

Brown's Final Minute Scores Edge Princeton

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 16 (AP)—Everett Pearson, plucky team captain playing with a wrenched shoulder, raced 40 yards to a touchdown in the final two minutes and big Vin Jazwinski kicked the vital extra point today to give Brown a dramatic 21-20 football victory over Princeton.

Score by quarters:
Princeton 6 7 7 0—20
Brown 7 0 7 7—21
Princeton scoring: Touchdowns, Flippin 2, Watson. Conversions, Martin, Dizezo.

Brown scoring: Touchdowns, Josephson, Jazwinski, Pearson. Conversions, Jazwinski 3.

Army's Improved Cadets Tag Upset On Duke, 28-14

DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 16 (AP)—Quarterback Pete Vann worked black magic for Army's Black Knights today and the fast improving Cadets knocked Duke out of the undefeated ranks with a 28-14 upset victory. It was Army's third straight triumph after an opening loss to South Carolina.

Vann, best known as a passer, gave a remarkable display of ball handling and blossomed out as a hard-to-stop runner. But it was fast charging Army line and an Duke's running attack until late in the game.

During the first half Duke, losing the ball twice on fumbles and once on an intercepted pass, failed to come close to the Army goal, and when the powerful Blue Devils finally got rolling it was too late.

Army, hitting with lightning speed, scored two touchdowns in the second quarter and another at the start of the third to pile up a lead that Duke threatened but couldn't beat.

When Duke got its second touchdown in the final quarter to cut Army's lead to 21-14, Vann sneaked over for his second touchdown to put it beyond Duke's reach.

Score by quarters:
Army 0 14 7 7—28
Duke 0 7 7 0—14
Army scoring: Touchdowns, Lash, Glock, Chesnauskas 3.
Duke scoring: Touchdowns, Blaney, Pascal. Conversions, Sebastian, Nelson.

Unbeaten Yale Beats Cornell By 47-21 Count

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 16 (AP)—Unbeaten Yale's sophomore-dominated team, opening up for the first time this season, rolled up a 47-21 triumph over winless Cornell in an Ivy League football battle watched by 32,000 fans in the Bowl today.

Sophomores Paul Lopata, Dennis McGill, Steve Ackerman, and Dick Moneymaker registered four of Yale's touchdowns and Vernon Loucks converted after five of the Blues seven touchdowns.

Score by quarters:
Cornell 7 7 0 7—21
Yale 7 14 13 13—47
Cornell scoring: Touchdowns, Morris, Jackson, De Graaf. Conversion, De Graaf.
Yale scoring: Touchdowns, Cornell 2, Lopata, McGill, Ackerman, Brink, Moneymaker. Conversions, Loucks 5.

Tech's Bulldogs Hang 13-7 Defeat On Howard Payne

RUSTON, La., Oct. 16 (AP)—Louisiana Tech knocked Howard Payne out of the undefeated ranks with a 13-7 victory tonight.

Tech scored in the first minutes when halfback Gayle Dick swept left end for 12 yards. Early in the second period Russell Rainbolt took a handoff and went 25 yards around left end for Tech's second touchdown and Charles Anderson converted.

The Brownwood, Tex., team, which had won all four of its previous games, scored its only touchdown with four minutes left in the game when Charles Grimsland ran back a Tech punt 42 yards. Jerry Millsaps converted.

Just before the first half ended, a 77-yard pass play that went for a touchdown was called back because of an illegal receiver downfield.

Missouri Passes Down Indiana By 20 To 14 Margin

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 16 (AP)—An alert Missouri Tiger football team caught Indiana without its star man on the attack, Florian Helinski, and swept to a 20-14 victory today by making the most of the airplanes for its scoring.

Score by quarters:
Indiana 0 7 0 7—14
Missouri 0 7 7 6—20
Indiana scoring: Touchdowns, Domenick, Stone. Conversions, Helinski 2.
Missouri scoring: Touchdowns, Jennings, Hurley, Schoonmaker. Conversions, Dettling 2.

Myrtle Jet First In Keeneland Race

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 16 (AP)—Lions Chance farm's Myrtle Jet, away winging from the start, beat favored Lea Lane by four lengths in the $38,835 Alcibiades Stakes for 2-year-old fillies today at Keeneland.

Bettors who selected Myrtle's Jet in the 10-filly starting field collected $38.40, $10.80 and $5.80. Charlton Clay's Lea Lane paid $3.60 and $2.60 and Gandharva returned $3.20 to show.

Chuck Johns Leads LSU Over Texas Tech, 20-13

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
BATON ROUGE, Oct. 16 (AP)—A big, bruising Boston College football team wore down the fighting but badly outwitted Fordham Rams today and crashed through for two touchdowns in the waning moments for its fourth straight victory, 21-7.

Cothren Ramrods Rebel Offensive As 22,000 Watch

By SAM JOHNSON
OXFORD, Miss., Oct. 16 (AP)—Fullback Paige Cothren led a charging Mississippi backfield that crashed its way through a brittle Tulane line and gave the undefeated and untied Rebels their fifth straight football victory, 34-7.

Cothren blasted over twice and fullback Bobby McCool, quarterback Eagle Day and halfback Allen (Red) Multhead cracked the line for touchdowns before a homecoming crowd of 22,000.

Multhead, Southeastern Conference scoring leader, ran his total to 48 points when he blasted over from the two yard line in the first half.

Day added two points after touchdown and Cothren and halfback Jimmy Patton made the other two conversions.

Tulane's score came on a 91-yard pass interception by quarterback Fred Wilcox, who grabbed the ball on his own nine yard line and rolled up the sidelines. At Mississippi's 25, he cut back to the center of the field to dodge the last two Mississippi players and went over standing up. Wilcox converted.

Mississippi, ranked number seven nationally in the Associated Press poll, played the Tulane line at will. Fumbles halted other Mississippi scoring drives.

The rock-like Mississippi line held Tulane to four first downs, one of those on a pass interference.

Cothren plunged over from the four yard line for Mississippi's first touchdown on the Rebels' first series of plays. Patton made the extra point and Mississippi went ahead to stay. The scoring drive took only eight plays.

Mississippi scored again the next time it got the ball. This time it took 13 plays with Multhead cracking over for a 13-0 lead. Day converted.

Tulane again failed to make a first down and Mississippi started to roll again as McCool ripped off 34 yards to put the Rebels on Tulane's 24. Then came Wilcox' pass interception in the second period that gave Tulane its only touchdown.

McCool crashed 13 yards for Mississippi's third touchdown in the second quarter and Day slipped through his own left guard for three yards and a touchdown early in the third quarter.

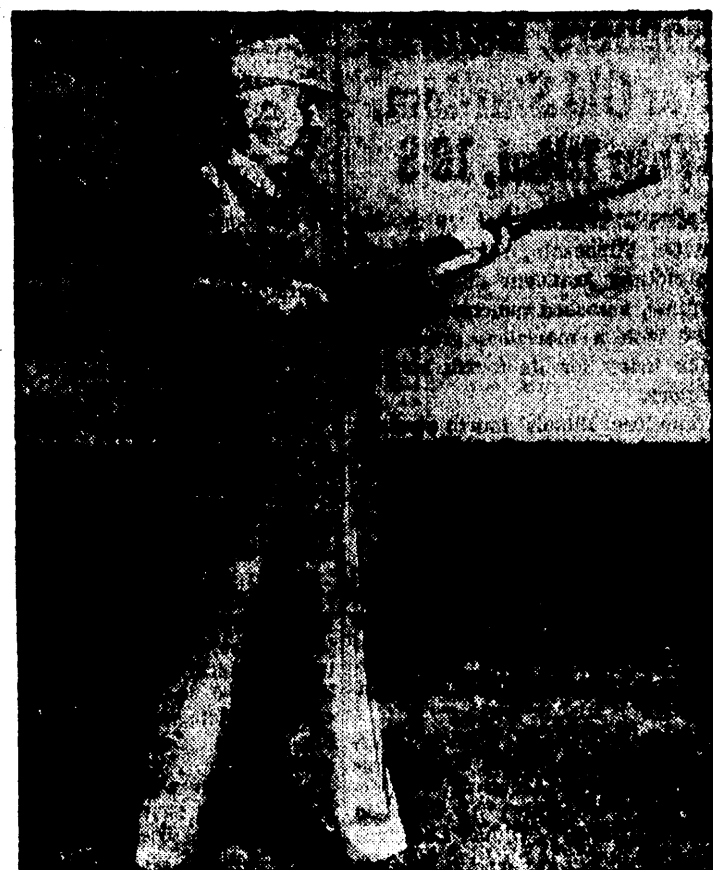

Cothren finished the scoring late in the final period when he smashed through the Tulane line for 11 yards.

Tulane: ..... 0 7 0 0—7
Mississippi: ..... 14 6 7 7—34

By MATT KRAMER
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 16 (AP)—Southern California's Rose Bowl hopefuls displayed their dazzling backfield speed to the nation's television watchers today in crushing Oregon, 24-14.

Halfback Jon Arnett, a brilliant open field runner, led the fleet victors, running up the surprising total of 179 yards by himself.

Beagle Will Display Gun Artistry Here Wednesday

Nationally famous Ken Beagle, swings into Monroe on his national tour Wednesday afternoon for his free demonstration of rifle, shotgun and pistol wizardry at the Twin City Gun Club's range at Selman Field. Beagle's appearance is jointly sponsored by the gun club and the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

Beagle, in a team that includes his wife, used 14 different types of guns in his exhibitions and is equally proficient with rifle, shotgun and pistol. His lecture on proper and safe gun-handling, which is conducted throughout his exhibition, is of special importance to youngsters just learning or planning to learn the art of handling firearms, and fathers are especially invited to have their youngsters on hand for the demonstrations beginning at 3 o'clock.

Meanwhile, shotgun enthusiasts of this area, with duck season approaching, will be tuning up their own shooting eyes in regular skeet and trapshooting scheduled for this afternoon at the Selman range.

Glen Anderson, West Monroe, was high man on the skeet range last Sunday, and T. O. "Toby" Bancroft, Sr., led in the trapshoot.

Skeet—Sid Williams, 42x50; Bert Williams, 43x50; Sid Williams, Jr., 30x50; George Franklin, Jr., 30x50; Max Brodnax, 53x75; Ross Graves, 47x50; Jim Cox, 56x75; Sonny Hayes, 31x75; Glen Anderson, 49x50; E. Newellton Mauls Washington Foes For 41-0 Victory
NEWELLTON, La., Oct. 16 (Special)—The Newellton Bears rolled to their fourth straight victory of the season last night as they clawed the Washington State Cougars, 41-0 in Newellton. (The game originally scheduled between Gilbert and Newellton to be played in Gilbert was called off by Gilbert officials earlier.)

The big fullback, Buddy Emfinger, started things off with a bang on the first play of the game by slicing through the right side of the line for 56 yards and a touchdown. The point after was made by a pass from quarterback Jerry Clark to left end Roy Brown.

The next time the Bears got the ball they had to give it up on downs on the Washington 20, but then the Pirates had to give up a safety when a bad pass from center went out of the end zone.

Newellton took the kickoff and with halfback Terry Head and Emfinger taking turns the Bears rolled on back to put Emfinger across again from the 12. The attempt for conversion, a pass, was no good.

In the second quarter, after completing a yards gaining pass to twin brother Jerry Head, halfback Terry Head ran it across from the one. The attempt to convert was no good.

In the third quarter, quarterback Jerry Clark pined out to Terry Head who went the distance of 80 yards for the score. Point after was kicked by sub-halfback Parnell Barfield. The next time the Bears got the ball, Emfinger picked up two first downs and then quarterback Jerry Clark, on a keep play, ran it 33 yards for the score. Barfield's attempt to kick the point after was short.

Victory-Starved Pitt Eleven Puts Damper On Navy

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16 (AP)—Corny Salvaterra, playing only his second college football game, scored twice and passed for another touchdown, to direct the victory-starved Pitt Panthers to a 21-19 upset victory over previously unbeaten Navy today.

Ailing Pitt coach Lowell (Red) Dawson listened to the game by radio in his hospital room.

The Panthers, directed by Tom Hamilton, a former Navy coach and now athletic director at Pitt, stormed back after trailing 6-0 in touchdowns within three minutes in the second quarter and another in the final period. But Pitt almost saw the victory go out the window in the closing minutes with a fumble deep in their territory.

Salvaterra, a sophomore quarterback, tallied on a one-yard sneak and an eight-yard scamper. He also pitched 23 yards to halfback Henry Ford in the end zone for the other score.

Navy struck for its touchdowns in the first, second and fourth periods. The difference was in the conversions. It could have ended in a tie. George Textor missed one and Dick Echard the other. Bugs Bagamery made all three for Pitt.

An outside kickoff gave Navy the ball on the opening play. In eight plays the Middles moved 45 yards for a touchdown, with Joe Gattuso crashing over from the eight.

In the second period, Echard passed 25 yards to Jack Garrow for the second Navy touchdown after a pass interception by Bill Hepworth. Navy's final touchdown came in the fourth period on an 81-yard drive with Hepworth going the final five yards.

Score by quarters:
Navy ..... 6 6 0 7—19
Pitt ..... 0 14 0 7—21
Navy scoring: Touchdowns, Gattuso, Garrow, Hepworth. Conversion, Textor.

Pitt scoring: Touchdowns, Salvaterra 2, Ford. Conversions, Bagamery 3.

California Whips Washington State In Final Quarter

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 16 (AP)—California's Bears, rolling behind the field generalship of quarterback Paul Larson, hit football's comeback trail today with a 17-7 victory over the Washington State Cougars, before 27,000 fans.

The first conference victory for the Bears was accomplished with a field goal and a touchdown in the final period. The Cougars held the Bears to a 7-7 tie for three quarters.

Larson broke the deadlock in the final period when he booted the field goal from 10 yards out. It was the first field goal completed by California since 1951.

In the closing minutes the Bears passed and plunged for 47 yards, fullback Jerry Drew went around end for the last four yards.

Washington State scored early in the second period after recovering a California fumble late in the first on the Bear 23. Quarterback Frank Sarno dove over from the one. Sarno converted to give V.S.C. the early lead.

The Bears came back just before the half ended by smashing 87 yards in seven plays. Halfback John Wilson went across from the one.

Score by quarters:
W.S.C. ..... 0 7 0 0—7
Cal ..... 0 7 0 10—17
Washington State scoring: Touchdown, Sarno. Conversion, Sarno.
California scoring: Touchdowns, Wilson, Drew. Conversions, Larson 2. Field goal, Larson.

Alabama Stuns Tennessee With 27-0 Walloping

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 16 (AP)—Alabama, with quarterback Albert Elmore doing the pitching, uncoiled a brilliant passing attack today to crush Tennessee 27-0 in a Southeastern Conference football game.

A partisan crowd of 41,800 sat in stunned disbelief as the Crimson Tide, rated no better than an even choice, rolled over the Vols for the first time since 1947.

It was the worst licking Alabama ever gave Tennessee on Shields-Watkins Field. The margin of victory was the widest since 1906 when the count was a whopping 51-0.

Elmore, handling Alabama's split offensive faultlessly, connected for three touchdown passes to as many receivers. He also picked up 107 yards on 10 runs to grab individual rushing honors.

Curtis, Wright; Cronin, Murdock In Mat Bouts

A double main wrestling event at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night brings together Pat "Big Boy" Cronin vs. Frank Murdock in one half; and Jack Curtis vs. Rube Wright in the other. Indian Chief Apache will referee both bouts.

Either match is a feature in itself, for Curtis, the ever-popular Vicksburg, is well-matched with Wright, truly an unpopular villain. The Birmingham husky has not been matched in a solo bout with Curtis, although he paired with Murdock in several relay matches against Jack and his partner, Apache.

Of the evil pair, Wright was always the one who committed the most fouls, and ranted and roared at the ringsiders while in the process; so Jack is bound to have his hands full contending with Rube's illegal tactics.

Cronin, who refereed last week's match between Apache and Murdock, was knocked out of the ring by the latter, besides having to

Graff Field Goal Enables Georgia To Defeat Vandy

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 16 (AP)—Joe Graff's 24-yard field goal gave Georgia a 16-14 triumph over weary Vanderbilt and snatched victory from the winless Commodores in the waning minutes of a slashing Southeastern Conference football battle today.

Graff, a reserve guard from Tarentum, Pa., kicked the three-pointer from a slight angle with four minutes of a slashing Southeastern Conference football battle today.

Graff, a reserve guard from Tarentum, Pa., kicked the three-pointer from a slight angle with four minutes of the hectic fracas remaining and with Vanderbilt ahead 14-13. Two conversions by Bobby Goodall, Vanderbilt's great guard, had spelled the difference, until Graff wrote the climax.

Desperate Vanderbilt rode back to the Georgia 10 in the last seconds, but Goodall's field goal attempt failed just before the game ended.

Georgia scored late in the first quarter on a 14-yard pass from reserve quarterback Dick Young to halfback Charlie Madison and got another less than four minutes later on fullback Bobby Garrard's 59-yard run. Madison made the first extra point but missed the second.

Fullback Don Hunt, carrying the running load for Vanderbilt in injured Charlie Horton, scored in the second quarter on a seven-yard sweep of end and halfback Buddy Stack went seven in the last quarter for the other.

Vanderbilt ..... 0 7 0 7—14
Georgia ..... 7 6 0 3—16
Vanderbilt scoring: Touchdowns, Hunt, Stack. Conversions, Goodall 2.

Georgia scoring: Touchdowns, Madison, Garrard. Conversions, Madison. Field goal, Graff.

Miz Clementine Wins California Derby With Ease

SAN BRUNO, Calif., Oct. 16 (AP)—Calumet Farm's Miz Clementine set a new record for the mile and an eighth at Tanforan track today in winning the $38,750 California Derby, California's oldest stakes race, having been inaugurated in 1875.

In taking her seventh stakes race of the season Miz Clementine defeated her stablemate Duke's Lea by three quarters of a length. Show Me First was third.

Miz Clementine's time for the distance was 1:49, cutting a full second off the previous record of 1:50 set by Air's Gem on May 2, 1953.

The one-two victory was worth $29,875 to Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm stable.

The entry paid $2.70, $2.30 and $2.10 across the board, forcing the track to declare a minus pool. Show Me First paid $2.10.

Miz Clementine, only filly in the race, was ridden by Johnny Longden who substituted for the ailing Ray York. She was high weighted at 117 pounds, along with Musselshell, who ran fourth. Duke's Lea was in at 111.

Five Bouts On Kallio Boxing Program Tomorrow

Cook Will Battle Vazquez Of Texas In 10-Round Main

Boxing comes again to Kallio's Arena tomorrow night, when Clarence Cook, fast-rising young welterweight from Bastrop, takes on highly-touted Joe Vazquez, Houston, in the feature ten-rounder of a five-bout card.

Rugged Charles Whitaker, Bastrop, returns to action after an 18-month layoff, to fight Tobe "Barefoot Boy" Harris, recent conqueror of Malcolm Bass in the six-round semi-final. Farmerville's Devane Garris fights Houston's Doug Miller in a four-rounder. Gene Sargent, Tallulah, goes against Leo Gonzales, Houston, in the middle four- and Jimmy Evans, Farmerville, meets Ruhl Brumley, Oak Grove, in the opening preliminary, also slated for four rounds.

Cook's opponent, Vazquez, is reputedly an action boxer, who, in his 31 professional bouts thus far, has met such stalwarts from his home state as Al Jenkins, Al Villafra, Kid Centella and Rocky Caballero. A victory over Caballero, who made such an impression here last year with his classy style and fierce punching, speaks for itself, and lends much class to the Texas record. Not only that, but Centella holds a K. O. win over New Orleans' Ralph Dupas.

In Cook, he no doubt realizes that he is up against one of the most promising welters in the country, and will go all out to solve the hard, lightning-fast left jab that Clarence employs consistently to keep rivals at punching range.

The Bastrop smoothie, who has already won eleven bouts in a row, will find every step in his fight climb a little tougher now, for each opponent will be out to upset the acclaimed boxer-puncher.

Whitaker, in the semi, really has his work cut out for him, when he meets the grim Harris. The latter looked mighty impressive in his win over Bass, but Whitaker, of whom they must have been thinking when they invented the word "rugged," fought a leather-throwing, crowd-pleasing battle in each of his former appearances here. Some fans were of the opinion that Bass was defeated by Harris because he fought a defensive battle until it was too late, or because Harris' reach kept him at a distance. Whitaker, a rushing, aggressive fighter, is of just the opposite caliber, so their tussle should be a real thriller.

Ferriday, Sicily Island Seem Sure For Playoffs

SICILY ISLAND, Oct. 16 (Special) — Attention Louisiana football teams!

There's a couple of powerhouse grid teams in the eastern section of the state that may be heading your way come playoff time for the Class A and Class B titles.

Ferriday, the state Class B champion last fall, has moved up into Class A competition and has run rough-shod over all opposition thus far this season.

And a Class B eleven, Sicily Island, which lost only to Ferriday by a 14-0 score last fall, is making a big splash in Class B circles, wrapping up five consecutive victories.

Ferriday hurdled its only obstacle to the district Class A title last week by humiliating the defending north Louisiana champion Rayville eleven 33-6. Previously, they had blasted a good Winnboro team 38-0. Block of Jonesville fell easily 47-7 and Bunkie 40-6.

Sicily Island has been almost as impressive in scoring five straight wins. The Islanders got over their biggest obstacle in the first tilt of the season, beating Newellton 19-13 in a thriller. Newellton, featuring Buddy Emfinger, a 200-pound plus bulldozer, was a victim of 10 fumbles, a tribute to the vicious Island line play.

The game of the year in this section may come off November 5, when the Ferriday powerhouse meets Sicily Island at Ferriday. Ferriday will rule as the favorite, but might encounter its stiffest opposition of the regular season. Ferriday, with a strong forward wall, has as fleet a set of backfield men as any team in the state in halfbacks Guy Hill and Wilburn King, fullback Tommy Purvis and quarterback Clyde Webster.

If there is a weakness present, it's the lack of a passing attack, which is in four games, they haven't had to resort to passing. Jimmy Marks, a second-string quarterback, has looked impressive on passes after Ferriday has already taken a commanding lead. Coach Johnny Robertson's Bulldogs run from the T formation, practically running all their opponents off the field.

At Sicily Island, Coach Raymond Peace features a "Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside" in fullback Fay Thurman and seatback R. K. Miller. In addition to handling the line-ripping up the middle, Thurman also does the team's passing and about half the Island scores this year have been the result of aerials. Miller is a squirming, twisting runner that refuses to be knocked off his feet and can find a hole or make his own. He is also dangerous on kickoff and punt returns and is an adept pass receiver. A junior, he'll be back to haunt opponents next fall too.

The Island forward wall is anchored by 200-pounder Walter Knolls at center, William Mount at tackle and Huey Nelson, captain of the team, at end.

Peace's team runs from the Notre Dame box formation, a hold-over from his playing days at Louisiana Tech.

There's one thing for sure, there will be plenty of scouts on hand to watch the district hopefuls clash in Ferriday November 5.

Hooper's Passing Sparks Baylor In Washington Rout

WACO, Tex., Oct. 16 (AP)—Billy Hooper's greatest game carried Baylor to a 34-7 triumph over Washington today as the once-maligned quarterback passed for three touchdowns and scored one himself.

Faking the Huskies like a cat shark on a river boat, the squat young man with the buggy-whip arm hurled the ball for a tremendous 244 yards, with scoring shots to Henry Gremminger, Charley Smith and Del Shofner. The other Baylor touchdown came late in the game after an intercepted pass with Reuben Saage hammering over from one foot out.

Washington scored on Baylor reserves in the final period with a 76-yard drive engineered by passing Bob Cox. The score came after Baylor was penalized to its one and Jack Kyllingstad smashed over.

Baylor appeared entirely too anxious to atone for two defeats in a row. The Bears were continually offside or the backfield was in motion.

A crowd of 22,000 watched the intersectional game played in Indian summer weather.

Score by quarters:
Washington 0 0 7 7
Baylor 7 0 14 13-34
Washington scoring: touchdowns, Kyllingstad, Conversion, Derby.
Baylor scoring: Touchdowns, Gremminger, C. Smith, Hooper, Shofner, Saage. Conversions, C. Smith 2, Berry, Morris.

Uclan Avalanche Buries Stanford In 72 To 0 Rout

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16 (AP)—U. C. L. A.'s unbeaten Bruins today buried Stanford under a 72-0 score, the worst drubbing in the history of one of the oldest schools in the west.

A deadly pass defense and a spectacular ground attack by the team routed No. 3 in the nation last week literally crushed the Indians under an avalanche of 11 touchdowns.

As the U. C. L. A. homecoming day crowd of 70,555 spectators filled out of the Coliseum historians dug back into the record book to find a parallel.

They had to thumb clear back to 1901 and the first Rose Bowl game to find the next worst Stanford licking—a 49-0 score rolled up by Michigan.

Four times in the first half the Bruins intercepted passes from Stanford's quarterback, John Brodie, and four times they wheeled away for touchdowns to build up a 24-0 lead at the half.

Then the rout set in. The Bruins scored three touchdowns in the third period and four in a fourth quarter massacre.

McCaig-Richards Motors bested Contractors' Equipment two out of three games with total pins and three points. Watson, getting a 179 game and a 473 series, led the motor boys. K. Creighton, having a 189 game, and Turner, showing a 469 series, were the Contractors leaders.

Monroe Brick Company, with Danna showing the way, stopped Seagram Seven Crown two games to one with three points. Danna had a good night with a 193 game and a 555 series to lead the brick boys. Al Hoffman, posting a 172 game, and a 492 series for R. Moore were Seagram's leaders.

Twin City Gravel blocked the Railway Express by winning two out of three games with total pins. J. K. Clower showed best for the gravel boys with a 183 game and a 475 series. Boudreaux and Watson each shot a 150 game and tied for high series at 377 each to lead Express.

Girault Insurance made a clean sweep of their three games and four points from Old Taylor. Massee, having a 193 game and a 514 series, was tops for the insurance boys. Lou Schlekau, getting a 168 game, and J. Higgins with a 446 game, led Old Taylor.

Adler Tire Company and Rol Tan Cigar split even in their four points with the cigar boys taking two games and the tire boys getting one game and total pins. Burson, having a 183 game, and Ray Coss with a 481 series, led Adler. Wiley, showing a 168 game, and Reynolds, 461 series, were best for the cigar boys.

COINCIDENCE

Northwestern State College footballers Don Millen, halfback, and Bill Little, tackle, were All-State players on the Bossier high class "A" runners-up in 1950. The team that beat Bossier in the final game, by 7-0, was Baker. Jerry Epperson was captain of Baker's eleven that year, and Dudley Downing was an all-stater on the team. Both are now three-year grid lettermen at NSC where, as far as Little and Millen are concerned, the past is best forgotten.

Terps Depend On Bielski To Stop North Carolina

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 16 (AP)—Fullback Dick Bielski carried Maryland almost alone for 30 minutes on his broad back and churning legs before the rest of his team could get rolling to a 33-0 victory over North Carolina today.

Bielski, 207-pound senior from Baltimore, bulldozed 21 yards in three straight rushes for a touchdown the first time Maryland had the ball.

In the second quarter, he carried the ball seven times for 50 yards to get Maryland to the five. He worked the ball again to 16 before a typical penalty and fumbled pitchout gave North Carolina the ball.

Maryland finally went 92 yards in eight plays to score with Bielski doing the key blocking late in the third quarter. The second and third teams made it a rout with three touchdowns in the last quarter. Bielski toted the ball 13 times in his little more than half a game and gained 102 yards.

Halfback Ronnie Waller, who had messed up twice earlier by failing to fall on a fumble and trying to take a punt away from a teammate, redeemed himself in the second touchdown drive. He scored from five yards out.

Maryland scoring: Touchdowns, Bielski, Waller, Selep, Dar, Nusz. Conversions, Bielski 2, Selep.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 16 (AP)—The first-half finesse of Ronnie Clinkscale and the second-half power of Tay Taylor and James Swink kept Texas Christian in the Southwest Conference race today as the Horned Frogs outlasted fired-up Texas A. & M., 21-20.

Some 15,000 fans saw the Frogs grab a quick lead and hold on to break a six-year jinx at Kyle Field with the triumph. The victory kept the Frogs, once-beaten in conference play, in the midst of the hectic chase for the conference crown.

Clinkscale, T. C. U.'s brilliant senior quarterback, guided the Frogs to a pair of first-quarter touchdowns that hinted at a rout of A. & M.

But the Aggies stiffened in the second half and came back to score three touchdowns of their own against the jittery Frogs.

Score by quarters:
T. C. U. 14 0 7 0—21
Texas A. & M. 0 0 6 14—20
T. C. U. scoring: Touchdowns, Clinkscale, Engram, Swink, Conversions, Pollard 2, Crouch.
Texas A. & M. scoring: Touchdowns, Kettler 2, Kachuk, conversions, Kettler 2.

Irish Fight From Behind To Whip Michigan State

By JERRY LISKA
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 16 (AP)—Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, trailing 13-0 after 12 minutes, outlasted Michigan State 20-19 as the underdog Spartans missed an extra point in the final 65 seconds of a rain-soaked thriller today.

Battling vigorously to prevent a modern Notre Dame disgrace of losing four straight to the same team, the Irish rallied for touchdowns in each of the last three periods and staggered to victory only because Michigan State failed to convert after a dramatic closing touchdown.

After the Irish seemingly had the game under control with two touchdowns by halfback Joe Heap in the second and third periods and halfback Paul Reynolds in the fourth, Michigan State struck 58 yards for a third Spartan touchdown in two plays.

Thus with 1:05 left, fullback Jerry Planuts had it in his kicking foot to tie the score.

But his kick went wide of the goal posts and the Irish gained their third victory against one defeat.

A two-touchdown underdog, Michigan State nearly played Notre Dame off its feet in the opening period with two touchdowns by halfback Clarence Peaks on a 4-yard run and a 46-yard scoring pass from Earl Morrill to end John Lewis.

Planuts converted after the first score, but missed after the second and again after Bert Zagers romped 14 yards for the third Spartan touchdown in the closing seconds.

Michigan State 13 0 0 6—19
Notre Dame 0 7 7 6—20
Michigan State scoring: Touchdowns, Peaks, Lewis, Zagers. Conversions, Planuts.

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Heap 2, Reynolds. Conversions, Schaefer 2.

Gophers, Battling For Old Stardom, Whip Illini, 19-6

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Unbeaten Minnesota, marching back to oldtime grandeur under a new regime, smashed punchless Illinois 19-6 with a merciless ground attack today for its fourth straight victory.

The loss, Illinois' fourth straight, plunged the defending champions to a new low over the last decade and marked the first time in 65 years of football that the Illini lost their first four games.

Minnesota, 11th ranked in the nation, ran rampant against a bewildered Illinois line that never solved the brutal power plays of Bob McNamara, John Baumgartner and reserve fullback Ken Yachel.

Operating Coach Murray Warmath's split T with a sledgehammer efficiency, Minnesota sent McNamara over from the three in the first quarter. Darrel Cochrane from the one in the second quarter, and Baumgartner from the 10 in the third.

Illinois' offense, in a season-long paralysis, came to life only once in the third quarter when J. C. Caroline banged over from the three to top a 73-yard Illinois march.

The victory was Minnesota's second straight in the Big Ten.

Score by quarters:
Illinois 0 0 6 0—6
Minnesota 7 6 6 0—19
Illinois scoring: Touchdown, Caroline.
Minnesota scoring: Touchdowns, Bob McNamara, Cochrane, Baumgartner. Conversion, Soltau.

BUFFALOES WIN 5TH
AMES, IOWA, Oct. 16 (AP)—Colorado's undefeated Buffaloes, blessed with raw power and blazing speed, poured through Iowa State 20-0 today for their fifth straight football victory.

Unbeaten Arkansas Trips Texas Longhorns, 20 To 7

AUSTIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—The fired up Arkansas Razorbacks, a band of fast moving opportunists, took a long jump toward their first Southwest Conference title in eight years today, smashing the once proud Texas Longhorns, 20-7.

The convincing triumph, the first for Arkansas over Texas on the Longhorn field since 1938, gave the Razorback's their fourth straight victory — three of them in conference competition.

Two fast interceptions and recovery of a Texas fumble sent Arkansas rocketing to a 20 to 0 half time lead, the most a conference opponent had held over Texas since 1939. Preston Carpenter, blocking back of the only league team using the single wing, set off the fireworks with a first quarter interception. He picked it off on the fly at the Texas 20 and raced across for a touchdown.

Substitute tailback Buddy Benson riddled Texas with end sweeps following a Longhorn fumble, and the Razorbacks swept 49 yards in 11 plays to score as Benson went the final yard around left end.

Fullback Henry Moore intercepted a Texas pass on his two and returned to his 19. Arkansas was set back on two plays, then Moore burst through on a quick opener winging 82 yards almost before Texas knew what had happened.

Texas got its touchdown on a one-yard smash by Don Maroney at the end of a 35-yard drive.

Score by quarter:
Texas 0 0 7 0—7
Arkansas 7 13 0 0—20

Texas scoring: touchdowns Maroney, conversion Lansford.
Arkansas scoring: touchdowns, Carpenter, Benson and Moore. Conversions Carpenter and Benson.

CAMERA TIPS

By AUBREY DALY

DOES MY CAMERA TAKE COLOR PICTURES? . . . That's a question asked more and more lately. And the answer, for the most part, is "Yes!" Most of the inexpensive cameras today can and will get good results with Kodachrome film. Just be sure you use the correct type of color film for your particular camera. There are only a few of the cheapest cameras that won't take any type of color pictures. With some cameras, with an F7.7 or F8 lens, color can be used but pictures are restricted to bright sunny days and subjects of light color. For the answer to your color problems drop in any time and let's talk them over. Color is lots of fun. You should try it!

Explorers Club Meets Saturday For 2nd Lecture

The newest organization in Monroe for pleasure and "armchair travel" will feature its second program on October 23 when its members meet for dinner on the Cherokees Terrace of Hotel Frances.

Winifred Walker, photographer-lecturer, will take her audience to Australia with her 16mm. Kodachrome film entitled "Home to Australia." Mrs. Walker was born in Australia, is a graduate of the Presbyterian Ladies College of Sydney. She became a naturalized American citizen after her marriage to Rev. John C. Walker.

Mrs. Walker has circumnavigated the world twice and flown the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. She has been in all the states of Australia and the U. S. A. and all provinces of Canada. She has recorded on film the habits, homes, work and play of the people living in Hawaii, Fiji, Samoa, New Zealand, Egypt, Ceylon, Arabia, Scotland, Wales, Italy, Switzerland, and many other countries of both the eastern and western worlds.

Enthusiastic audiences have acclaimed her at Constitution Hall in Washington and at Town Hall in New York.

Only those who have obtained memberships in The Explorers Club will have the privilege of seeing and hearing Winifred Walker. However, the membership is still open, and those who wish, may yet enroll for this season. Seven programs remain and the membership for 1954-55 will be closed with this program on the 23.

The Explorers Club in Monroe has as its local director Miss Elizabeth Langford. More information on its organization can be had by calling 2-1465, or writing to 306 Bernhardt building.

NEW YOUTH GROUP FORMED—Young people are organized into the B-Hi-U, meaning Baptist High School Union. The first group in the state which may lead to many more later is the expectation of these young people. Leaders are shown in the picture. At extreme left is Gayle Mallette, music and educational director of the church; Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor; Miss Betty Fisher, musician, and Mrs. W. F. Everitt, youth sponsor.

State Police Report

Eleven of the 30 arrests made by state troopers during the past week were for speeding in trucks and eight others for speeding in automobiles, according to the weekly report of arrests by members of Troop F, Louisiana state police. Other offenses listed in order of the number of arrests included drunk driving (6), reckless driving (3) and disturbing the peace (2).

Charged with speeding in trucks were: Roy S. Wood, 30, 205 Remis street in West Monroe; Martin J. Covington, 31, Pineville; Fred W. Brown, 40, Route 1, Alexandria; Charlie Catchings, 32,

School Tax Vote Called By Board

FERRIDAY, Oct. 16 (Special)—The Concordia parish school board, faced with the possibility of an 8-month school term, unanimously voted Wednesday to call an election for an additional three-mill school tax.

The tax, which would be voted on in January, would bring in $24,000 Concordia parish now has a seven-mill tax, the lowest of any parish in this district.

Jesse S. Burris, parish superintendent told the board that the state legislature had changed the distribution plan of state funds in a way which favored the south Louisiana parishes.

It was stated that there was a movement afoot to call a special session of the legislature to assist parishes which under the present rules would only have enough money for eight months of school this year.

A delegation appeared from the Rotary Club of Ferriday, requesting for $750 to pay for work on the permanent fair building being erected in Ferriday. The request was presented by Joe Pasternack, Eugene Taylor, and George Comer.

After considerable discussion on whether the board had the funds for this project, it was agreed to give the money since the fair was for educational purposes.

Rub paraffin or liquid wax on the slides of drawers and on the ropes of windows which stick.

Audio-Visual Aid Conference Set

NATCHITOCHES, Oct. 16 (Special)—An educational conference designed to help schools in the administration and utilization of audio-visual aids will be held at Northwestern State College on Friday, Oct. 22. It was announced here today by Dr. Leo Albritton, dean of the NSC school of education.

All public school superintendents, supervisors and principals and most teachers are invited to attend, according to A. B. Davis, state supervisor of audio-visual education, whose offices are in Baton Rouge.

Principal speaker at the meeting will be Mrs. Camilla Best, supervisor of audio-visual aids for the Orleans parish school board, whose subject will be "Trends and Techniques in Audio-Visual Education."

Theme of the conference is "To Improve Learning Experiences." The visiting school personnel will be welcomed to the campus by Northwestern president, Dr. John S. Kyser, following a short talk by the presiding officer, R. J. Stoker, principal of the Pleasant Hill high school.

Group meetings will follow the general session in the morning. Registration will be held from 8:30 to 9:15 a.m.

NOMADS MEET MONDAY—The Swami Santha No. 102 Nomads of Avudaka will have very important darbar on Monday night, in Castle Hall. Rani Katie Smith wants all Nomads to attend this important darbar and make final plans for Nomal Ceremonial in November.

Lawrence Gibbs To Give Laymen's Talk In Church

Lawrence Gibbs, well known radio broadcaster and for some time prominent member of Gordon Avenue Methodist church, will fill the pulpit today at 11 a.m. with a talk as layman, the day being so designated in all Methodist churches. His topic will be "Delinquency or Normal Youth."

When asked to fill the pulpit by his pastor, he informed him that while he can broadcast at the studio, that he has no one to face, but that in a church he has an audience. But his pastor responded, "I can talk in pulpit but cannot broadcast. I think you and I had better swap jobs a while!"

Mr. Gibbs in on the official church board and also chairman of several important committees at Gordon Avenue Church.

HOMEcoming ROYALTY—St. Matthew's Parochial school, when holding its big annual party for alumni and present students, which will include a game with Junction City, will have as queen of the occasion Connie Tichell (above left) and her maid, Joyce Macknik. ## Former Eros Man Receives Degree

EROS, Oct. 16 (Special)—The executive council of the Georgia Dental Association recently chose seven Georgia dentists to receive the association's Honorable Fellow degree, based on outstanding professional service. Dr. Theron A. Grant, Savannah, Ga., one of the seven chosen, formerly lived at Eros.

He was born and reared at Eros and graduated from the Eros High School, and for a while practiced dentistry here after finishing dental college.

Dr. Grant's mother, Mrs. R. H. Grant, and two sisters, Mrs. A. M. Harper and Mrs. J. O. Manning, still live here.

Dr. Grant has headed both the Savannah Dental Society and the First District Dental Society.

Handicraft Classes Held For Adults

Jack Hesketh, director of the Monroe recreation department, said Saturday morning that handicraft classes are being held in the recreation center each Friday afternoon for adults. The classes are from 1 until 4 p.m.

No charge is made for the classes, which are open to the public. A nominal fee is charged for the material used, he said. "Many useful articles are being made by those who attend," he added. The instructions are under the

Rep. Brooks Will Give Address At Louisiana Tech

RUSTON, Oct. 16 (Special)—Rep. T. Overton Brooks of Shreveport, congressman from the fourth district of Louisiana, will deliver an address at Louisiana Tech at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

L. V. E. Irvine, chairman of the programs committee of the college, said Dr. Paul T. Hendershot, head of the department of economics at Tech, will preside at the convocation.

Representative Brooks has served nine terms in congress. He is at present a member of the armed services committee of the house of representatives.

The assembly program at Tech will include the following:

Organ prelude by Carolyn Hawkins of El Dorado, Ark.; the National Anthem, led by Joe Caskey of Arcadia; invocation, Rev. Preston Holly, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, Ruston; vocal solo, Mrs. Mary Wallace of the Tech music faculty; introduction of the speaker, L. J. Fox, sociology professor at the college, and an organ postlude by Miss Hawkins.

Fun for All

Life has been a lark for the younger set this week with the Shrine Circus and Ouachita Valley Fair providing "fun for all." Featured today are several children enjoying the gaiety of the circus and thrill-rides at the fair.

ABOVE—Kirt Touchstone, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Touchstone, Jr., and his cousin, Elton Squyres of Longview, Texas, find the new pony carts at the fair delightful.

BELOW—From left, David Trousdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Trousdale, Jr., Stuart Miles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Miles, and John Stubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. King Stubbs, are admiring Mrs. Portis Sims' "little jockey dogs" which performed at the circus.

Abram Morehouse Chapter, DAR, Plans Unveiling Of Memorial On October 26

Abram Morehouse Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, will unveil a memorial to Abram Morehouse and Josiah Davenport at Mer Rouge on October 26th.

The marker, a granite shaft with inscription commemorating the Prairie Mer Rouge settlement of 1806, will be at the edge of Mer Rouge proper in a triangle at the turn of the road leading to Bastrop. The exact spot is on the line of old Belle Grove Plantation and is about equally distant from the places where the residences of Morehouse and Davenport were erected.

Patriotic music and the bugle call by members of the Bastrop High School band will announce the ceremony. Mrs. W. E. Hicks, State Regent Louisiana Daughters of the American Revolution, will be present to formally dedicate the memorial and serve as honorary chairman of the event. Mrs. J. B. Shackelford, state officer and Past Regent of Abram Morehouse will direct the proceedings and introduce the featured speaker, Thomas Davenport, prominent Monroe attorney will give a brief history of Mer Rouge.

Mrs. Conrad McDuffie, chapter regent, and W. T. Blackwell, citizen of Mer Rouge, will welcome the assemblage. The significance of D.A.R. markers will be explained by Mrs. W. M. Nolan. Mrs. George T. Madison will make the presentation of the monument to the citizenry of Mer Rouge and Joe Davenport, Jr., will voice the acceptance.

The patriotic rituals, pledge and creed will be led by Mrs. J. A. Davenport and Mrs. T. H. B. Rankin. The religious emphasis will be expressed in the ritual by Mrs. A. H. Davenport, chapter chaplain, with invocation by Rev. Floyd Durham, prayer by Rev. Richard Cook, and benediction by Rev. Arthur A. Nelson. Mer Rouge pastors of the Methodist, Episcopal and Baptist churches.

The juvenile personnel of the ceremony has been selected from among descendants of Josiah Davenport. For flag bearer and color

Girl Scout News

Some of those new troops we mentioned last week are off to a good start, with registrations already in for new troops 12 and 30. Troop 30, third grade Brownies at Millsaps School, have Mrs. J. H. Kelly and Mrs. Clail Thornton registered as leaders and the following girls who will soon be invested as full-fledged Brownie Scouts: Annabel Blackston, Kerry M. Dowdu, Gaye Ann Gilliland, Barbara Hoff, Jateen Ann Kelly, Hazel Mae Love, Judy Mahoney, Diane Moore, Pamela Roberts, Laura Stewart and Dotty Thornton.

Fourth graders at St. Matthews have Mrs. Wendell Owen and Mrs. Jerald R. Parsons as leaders of Brownie Troop 12 and Mrs. T. J. Canizaro and Mrs. Wm. L. Bendell, Jr., as members of their troop committee. The girls who make up this group are: Susan Bendell, Paulette Buttitta, Rose Canizaro, Linda Ann DeStefano, Dianne Dyer, Mary Frances Elias, Adria Landry, Donna Jean Marra, Barbara Mulhearn, Cheryl Owen, Lynda Parsons, Cecilia Jean Reeder, Bernadine Semmes, Lupe Tellez, Anna Marie Tichell, and Georgette Varino.

Mrs. Edmond Middleton and Mrs. Charles R. McBride are leaders of a new Brownie Scout troop at Plum Street School, where more than 20 girls will soon be registered. Troop doesn't have a number yet.

An enthusiastic meeting of mothers at Lexington School resulted in the formation of two troops for beginning Brownies, third grade. We don't know just who the leaders of both groups will be, but will soon find out and let you know.

Another meeting proved that Barkhill - Paulk mothers are interested in Scouting. Definitely, leadership was secured for third and fourth grade troops, and possibly for others. Again, we don't have all the names.

New third graders at Georgia Tucker have Mrs. J. A. Clark and Mrs. Earl Wills as leaders and a very active troop committee. The troop began meeting last week at Grace Church Parish House.

How about the girls in your neighborhood? Are they getting the opportunity to be Scouts? Can you do something about it?

One opportunity for "doing something about it" is the training course now going on at the office on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Anyone may attend, with no obligation involved.

It's lots of fun to learn along with others who are doing the same kind of work. Try it.

It's not only new troops that are important. It's even more important that girls have the opportunity to continue their Scouting experience. Often there has to be a change of leadership, and again we don't know all of them.

Mrs. Tom King and Mrs. W. L. Hill are the new leaders of Troop 43, sixth graders of Georgia Tucker School, who meet at Grace Church Parish House. These girls are on their way toward first class rank. Many of them attended day and established camp, took cooking lessons and took part in the swimming program last summer, earning a number of badges to apply toward advancement.

There's a latex-alkyl paint that will make one section of Junior's wall a chalkboard. It can be cleaned with soap and water; comes in many colors.

Mrs. Morgan Hostess To Lambda Kappa

RAYVILLE — Mrs. Fred Morgan was hostess to Lambda Kappa Club meeting this week.

After a brief business session, the president turned the meeting over to Mrs. R. R. Rhymes, who introduced Mrs. Berdell House, of Monroe, speaker for the afternoon. Mrs. House gave us an interesting talk on "Charm or Trying To Be Ones Best." She said in part that some of the requisites to Charm were happiness, poise, and cleanliness.

Mrs. Morgan served a salad plate to the following members: Mrs. J. Y. Abrash, Miss Robbie Binion; Mrs. G. D. Cain; Mrs. Lorna Collins; Mrs. Richard Downes; Mrs. Carl Earle; Mrs. T. L. Gates; Mrs. Richard Hatch; Mrs. E. E. Keebler; Mrs. Horace Mangham; Mrs. John Morris; Mrs. Floy McKay; Mrs. Homer Norris; Mrs. R. R. Rhymes; Mrs. Douglas Robinson; Mrs. J. C. Sartor; Mrs. J. M. Shamblin; Mrs. H. J. Stodg-

Federated Garden Club Organized At Archibald

Archibald's Friendly Garden Club is the name selected for the newly formed garden club which was recently organized by members of the Archibald Literary Club.

Mrs. E. B. Knotts, fifth district director of the federated clubs, also a member of the Wisner Garden Club and Mrs. C. R. Adams of the Winnboro Garden Club assisted in the organization of the new federated club.

Suggestions on raising money from various projects and means of beautifying the community were given by Mrs. Knotts.

Mrs. Adams explained the relationship between the federated clubs.

Officers who were elected for a period of two years were: president, Mrs. W. G. McKay; vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Logan; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Frank Brunson; recording secretary, Mrs. E. J. Archibald.

It was decided that the club will meet the second Thursday in each month at 3:30 p. m. Hostesses at the organizational meeting were Mrs. W. L. Hill, Mrs. W. L. Acklin, Mrs. Frank Brunson and Mrs. Herman Grant. The garden club has chosen as its flower the red rose.

Committees appointed by the president to serve during the next two years are: Mrs. Tom McKay, horticulture; Miss Pearl Archbald, civic and roadside; Mrs. J. A. Logan, ways and means; Mrs. E. J. Archibald, Mrs. T. B. Bar-more and Mrs. K. K. Corkern, nominating; Mrs. Herman Grant, flower show; Mrs. J. W. Logan, yearbook; Mrs. E. J. Archibald, publicity.

Citizenship Stressed By Pierian Club

Mrs. Edwin Conger and Mrs. C. E. Shepard were hostesses for the Pierian Club at the Community Center on Tuesday afternoon. Roses and hyacinths were used to decorate the hall.

A display table held pamphlets and material on American Citizenship. On another table was an artistic arrangement designed for use on a Thanksgiving table. A horn of plenty, flanked with pumpkin and sprays of ripe cereal, was overflowing with choice fruits in brilliant hues.

Mrs. J. P. Causey, president, opened the meeting with the prayer. During the symposium of club work that followed emphasis was placed on the Department of Citizenship with an interesting report by the chairman, Mrs. Edwin Conger. She called to mind an astonishing number of phases of community service in which the Pierian members participated during the past year. She expressed the particular pride of the club in that the citizen of the year had been selected from their number again this year by the Lion's Club. Mrs. B. E. Barham was so designated in 1953 and Mrs. R. E. Barham in 1954. She closed her report with a resume of the Flag code.

Mrs. E. M. Barham, secretary gave the interesting report from the State President, Mrs. Carl L. Stewart.

The Norma Overby Scholarship Fund was explained by Mrs. Neil Mott. Mrs. A. B. Conger paid tribute to Miss Overby, a Morehouse Parish citizen in whose memory the fund was established.

Mrs. A. H. Valentine gave the new press Book Rules. Of interest is the fact that one fifth of the points obtainable will be for "Selling Federation" to the public. The 1953 press book prepared by Mrs.

Martin-Logue Wedding Is Solemnized In Tallulah

At the First Baptist Church in Tallulah Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock Miss Helen Louise Logue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Logue was married to John Earl Martin with the Rev. Irvin Cheney officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with magnolia foliage and seed pods and pandina sprays. Tall baskets held bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles in floor standards completed the pretty setting.

Mrs. Edwin Courtney rendered the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Nolan Daughtry of Vicksburg who sang "My Hero," "Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "O Promise Me."

The bridesmaids, Miss Mickie Alford of Vicksburg and Miss Bobbie Jean Parker of Sontheimer, La., wore identical dresses of green, crystalline fashioned with fitted bodices, low necks and flared panels in front of bodice and skirts of ballerina lengths. The matron of honor, Mrs. Mark James Chaney of Tallahassee, Fla., was dressed in bronze crystalline styled exactly like the maids. They all wore strands of pearls, gifts of the bride and carried cascade bouquets of bronze mums. The flower girl, little Pamela Paxton, also wore bronze.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was wearing a gown of nylon net over taffeta with panels of lace, worn with a lace bolero and long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet of pearls and she carried a shower bouquet of French carnations and chrysanthemums.

James Martin served his brother as best man and the ushers were Merle Gustafson and Charles Edward Powell. Mrs. Logue chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of mauve lace over taffeta with which she wore lavender asters. Mrs. Martin, mother of the groom wore navy crepe with a white carnation corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Logue entertained with a reception in the church annex. The refreshment table had a cut work cloth and was centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles in crystal candelabra. Miss Andree Ann Walker of Vicksburg presided at the punch service and was assisted by Nan Virginia Parra.

Logue, sister of the bride. The three tiered wedding cake, topped with yellow rosebuds, was served by Mrs. Frank Knox of Vicksburg and Miss Jerry Ann Byram had charge of the bride's book.

Following the reception the couple left for a trip to Dallas. For traveling the bride wore a suit of rust wool with brown velvet hat and reptile accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Martin are graduates of the Tallulah High School and he attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. They will reside in Tallulah where both are employed.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Miss Jackie Scott, Miss Jo Ann Louis, Mrs. L. V. Scott, Mrs. B. B. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Logue, Mary Bonnie Daughtry, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Daughtry, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Alford, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Joy and son, George Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thompson, Mr. Clarence Thompson, Mrs. A. L. Hixie and Albert Hixie Jr., Miss Doris Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoseman and children, Doris Ann, Bobby and Jerry, all of Vicksburg.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harper of Yazoo City, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Logue and Patsy of Edwards, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. James Holloway and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Harris of Dallas, Tex.

YWCA Activities

Open House

On Monday afternoon the committee for "open house" met at the Y to make plans for the occasion which will be on October 28th, Thursday, 7-10 p. m. This occasion will also be a very special time for it will be the observance of the 25th year of organization of the YWCA.

In October 1929 a group of women with Miss Jordana Flournoy as their leader met to organize the YWCA. Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. Ed Ellison, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Mrs. C. Elliott Thompson, Mrs. Metris Bell, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, president of the YWCA, Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, president of the Y-VES' Club, Miss Mary Riser, president of the B. & P. Girls' Club, Miss Ernestine Hickingbottom, president of the YRG's, and Miss Nettie Marie Baele, president of the Y-Teens, are the members of the committee. This will be a very happy and festive occasion and all members of the YWCA and friends will share in this "open house." At this time members for the board of directors will be elected.

Y-VES' Club

On Wednesday morning Mrs. B. L. Mulhern and Mrs. Ruby Trammell served as hostesses for meeting of the Y-VES' Club with the following members, and guests present: Dorothy Kight, Margaret Powell, Lillian Smith, Irma Haddad, Margaret Van Fossen, Aline Persful, Cay McWilliams, Julie Gimler, Gerda Gorman, Kathaleen Eason, Kay Hood, Dorothy Perkins, Marian Hanks, Ruby Trammell, Patricia Booth, LaVerne Klemme, Hazel Johnson, Birdie Mae Mulhern, Virginia Gibbs, Lona Keith, and Ruth Gerson, Sue Stewart, Bernice Bartlett, and Louise Adams.

Cay McWilliams, president, presided at the "annual business meeting" and as she thought for the day read the purpose of the YWCA "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God." The purpose of the club was read: "to promote fellowship among the members and offer stimulating, educational, and social programs and to promote the program of the YWCA."

Reports for the year 1953-54 showed the great activity and the stimulating, educational, and social program and the fellowship as revealed through the growth of club membership.

The club has sponsored classes, maintained a nursery for children of club members on club meeting day, assisted the YWCA in refurbishing the kitchen and in the dining room. At this meeting officers for 1954-55 were elected: president, Mrs. Hewitt Johnson, first vice president, Mrs. O. V. Persful; second vice president, Mrs. B. Eason; third vice president, Mrs. J. B. Woodburn; secretary, Mrs. Victor Schoonover; treasurer, Mrs. H. M. Kight. On October 27th, the next meeting date, there will be an installation service for the new officers and the "charter members" of the club will be honored.

Y-Teens

As a part of the community service work of the Y-Teens the girls have folded about 15,000 sheets of Christmas seals for the Ouachita Parish TB Association and are to fold about 8,000 more sheets. The Inter-Club Council met on Saturday with president, Nettie Marie Baele, presiding. The meeting was opened with a devotional given by Sandra Brown. The officers were elected: vice president, Joy Goza, and secretary - treasurer, Ann Edwards.

Pat Williams acted as secretary for this meeting. Plans for an all-day picnic, the world fellowship program to be held on November 8th at the YWCA for the rally and recognition of the Y-Teens, and the election of Y-Teen hostesses for open house on October 28th at the YWCA were all presented and discussed by the

PTA Council Plans For Conference

The Ouachita Parish P-T. A. Council met Wednesday, October 13 in the Mitchell School Auditorium. Mrs. G. W. Jones, president of the council, called the meeting to order with Mrs. Aimee

Cook, principal of Mitchell School, opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Betty Cox led the group in singing "God Bless America," and Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Jack Gatlin, president of the Mitchell P-T. A., welcomed the nine schools represented.

Schools and the attendance were Mitchell, 12; Highland, 12; Swartz, 8; Millsaps, 7; Woodland, 6; Crossley, 6; Logtown, 6; Claiborne, 4; and Leuwil, 4.

Committee reports were given as follows: Secretary, Mrs. T. L. Stout; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Murphy; workshop, Mrs. Floyd Temple; budget and finance, Mrs. M. C. Wooley.

Mrs. F. D. Lutton, Mrs. Aimee Cook, and Mrs. G. W. Jones led a group discussion on parent education. The theme for this year is character and spiritual education. A committee of three: Mrs. Floyd Temple, Mrs. M. C. Wooley and Mrs. G. G. Horrell was appointed to select a speaker.

Delegates to the district conference to be held November 4 at Sherrouse School are: Mrs. M. C. Wooley, Mrs. Jimmy Green, Mrs. Huddle Grant, Mrs. Guy Logan, Mrs. E. W. Crumb, Mrs. L. E. Heath, Mrs. V. O. Wilson, Mrs. C. L. Crowell, Mrs. Kirby Wade, Mrs. Betty Reid, and Mrs. Ralph Murphy.

A motion was passed that the council cooperate in every way with the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, the Monroe Police Jury, the Monroe News Star and Mrs. Yvonne Herron, state editor of the Monroe News-Star, in their efforts to stop the sale of objectionable comic books.

Mrs. V. O. Wilson, membership chairman for the council, discussed the duties of a membership chairman and the methods of applying those duties. She stated that the main objective of a membership chairman is to promote and procure active, continuing and participating membership.

Mrs. Chester DeCuir and Mrs. Claris Rae Landrum presented a skit, "The Sources of Security," after which the meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

The next meeting of the council will be held December 8 at 9:30 a.m. at Claiborne School.

Visitors Feted At Bridge Party

Mrs. John H. Allen, Jr., entertained Wednesday night with a desert bridge for Mrs. Paul Looney Miller of Couchwood.

High score was won by Mrs. Aileen Guthrie and consolation went to Mrs. Miles Sager.

The guests were: Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Miles Sager, Mrs. Fred Frazier, Mrs. Billy Edmundson, Mrs. Aileen Guthrie, Mrs. Durwood Griffin, Mrs. Frank Breese.

If you fix celery for the holiday table, don't throw the tops away. Of course the no-so-pretty parts go in the turkey dressing anyway, but the leaves make a nice addition to the dressing, too.

BARGAINS YOU HAVEN'T SEEN IN 15 YEARS!

Tremendous Values!

EARLY FALL

"More power to your dollar!"

We've "aged" our stock . . . and every piece we own which was not bought and delivered to us on today's LOW MARKET has been cut to the bone . . . cut below wholesale cost in most cases . . . or way below today's prices in every case. We're sacrificing this less desirable part of our inventory to kick it out fast and make room for Fall Shipments contracted for in the June Markets.

Everything we are offering in this gigantic clearance is a whale of a bargain even at today's lower market prices! This is your chance for spectacular savings if you will shop every floor carefully and find the things you need. This is only a partial listing . . . it would take many pages to list everything!

News From The Public Library

Each week a number of new titles are added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Among the recent acquisitions are books to appeal to every type of reader. "Soldier of Fortune" by Ernest K. Gann will be read because of the popularity of the author's former book "The High and the Mighty." However, it is a wonderful story in itself and one that will appeal to all who love adventure. The scene is Hong Kong and the time is the present. You won't want to miss "Soldier of Fortune." Another book which is interesting from start to finish is "Katherine" by Anya Selon. This is the story of Lady Katherine Sympson and the court of England in fourteenth-century England. It is woven on a rich tapestry and is a vivid creation of this period. "Hatchet in the Sky" by Margaret Cooper Gay is a thrilling historical novel of the early days of the northwest territory (that is the old northwest). It is the story of the adventures of a Scotsman, David Bruce Alexander Calhoun and his life in the New World. All who like historical novels will want to read this. "The Man Who Never Changed" by John Seely is the heartbreaking story of a man who set his mind on one goal and let nothing turn him aside. It will be enjoyed by all who are interested seriously in the field of music.

The non-fiction titles are extremely interesting and should appeal to a variety of readers. There are two new books of poetry, one is extremely light and is called "The Love Letters of Phyllis McGinley." The other is more serious and consists of the selected poems of Mark Van Doren. More and more books about foreign countries are coming out. "Anahuac" by Marc Chadbourne is a fascinating account of a journey to Mexico. "Indonesia, Land of Challenge" by Marguerite Harmon Bro. The author of this book just returned from a year and one-half in this fascinating country and has written a perfectly fascinating story of her travels. "Report on Africa" by Oden Meeker is considered the authentic book on Africa today and should be of

Crape Myrtle Club Begins Activities

SONDHEIMER—The Sondheim Crape Myrtle Club was entertained by Mrs. E. V. Parker, Miss Eunice Howard, parish home agent, told of "Personality Development in Families using attractive posters to bring out dominant characteristics. Others contributing to the program were the hostess, Mrs. Frank Guiolette and Mrs. Alfred Hoenke, the club reporter.

It was pointed out that steps will be taken to contact each member absent and encourage their attendance at the November meeting.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess to Mesdames Floyd Parker; F. Guiolette; A. Stewart; F. Gilley; G. Yining; F. Conley; T. K. Bradley; H. Rushing; P. S. Lee; A. Hoenke; Miss Eunice Howard.

Roberts-Petty Vows Exchanged

SIGMA ALPHA CHI FROLICS—Fraternity rush week at Northeast State filled the social calendar with a variety of activities. One of the most enjoyable affairs was a chicken barbecue supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Gentry, whose generous hospitality meant a perfect evening for the organization's members, sponsors, and rushees. Seen in the picture at left are, left to right, Miss Dixie Brown of West Monroe; R. C. Whitaker of Bastrop; Capt. James Marshall of Northeast's military department and a Sigma Alpha Chi sponsor; Dean William M. Smith, another faculty sponsor; Mrs. Herschel Gentry, Mr. Gentry, and Bobby Howell of Minden. Center picture indicates an interesting conversation revolving about Miss Sally Ann Hayes, fraternity sweetheart. The men include Percy DePrang of Bossier City; Reese Peterson, Neville High School graduate, and Frank Heyl, Ouachita Parish High alumnus. It must be a good story which Maj. Durwood Cann, Jr., is telling as the group in picture at right gives smiling approval. Seen around the big fireplace in the den are, left to right, Bobby Brown of Bastrop; Lavelle Ray of Monroe; Major Cann, professor of military science and tactics at Northeast and fraternity sponsor; Charlene Miller of West Monroe, and Martha Jane Oden of Monroe. ### Best HD Club Will Be Named Score Sheets and Records. The fair is over. Now, we must finish up our year's work in the Home Demonstration Clubs by getting in record and score sheets and turn them into agent's office by October 31st. The best club in 1954 will be determined by these records and score sheet.

Reorganizing The Club For 1955. Keep in mind, good officers and leaders are essential to a good club. The house furnishing leaders, the nutrition and food preparation leaders, and food preservation demonstrations at the club meetings. Select those who are able and will come take training for this work.

Son's books and Christmas cookies are ready if your club want to use them — get them from my office.

Acorn Squash

The acorn squashes are plentiful this time of the year and are one of those yellow vegetables from which we may get vitamin A — try them. Here are two ways you may cook them:

Baked — Cut into halves — remove seeds and fiber holding seeds. Sprinkle with salt, a little pepper, and sugar. Then place a tablespoon of butter or oleo in each half. Place on tin and bake at 350 degrees until tender. (Test with a fork). Serve hot.

Another way is to bake halves until tender (no seasoning) then remove center and mix with one tablespoon finely chopped onion, one teaspoon green pepper, a little chopped celery, two tablespoons butter, one - fourth cup grated cheese, one cup soft bread crumbs, salt and pepper to taste. Return to shells and bake until brown.

Pointers On The Use of Frozen Foods

Since our supply of fresh vegetables are gone from the garden, the home freezer will have to supply our needs. The proper cooking procedure for frozen foods will aid in serving a good quality food from the freezer. Let's review a few suggestions we should observe:

Recent trends indicate the advisability of placing frozen vegetables in tap water, then allowing the vegetable to come to a boil. This is a change from the long established rule for placing the block of frozen vegetable in boiling water. Both methods are advocated by reliable authorities. If a pressure cooker is used it is wise to follow exactly the directions for cooking frozen foods as given by the manufacturer.

Do keep frozen foods solidly frozen until ready for use.

Do not refreeze thawed foods (except bread). Instead, use them as soon as possible after thawing.

Do usually thaw frozen vegetables before cooking. Cooking in the frozen state is the best method except for greens which should be partly thawed to permit steam to reach all portions equally for uniform cooking, and for corn on the cob which should be thawed completely before cooking. Otherwise, the corn cooks before the cob thaws, and if the cob is still frozen, of course the corn will not stay hot. Other completely thawed vegetables change in flavor, soften in texture and shrink greatly when cooked.

Do follow package directions for thawing and cooking frozen foods insofar as practical.

Do use correctly sized saucepan — covered — for cooking frozen vegetables. When cooking two packages use a wide enough pan for the blocks of vegetable to be placed side by side, not atop one another. A wide, covered skillet is better for this purpose than a deep kettle of smaller diameter.

Do not use too much cooking water for vegetables. Use the small amount specified on the package, and cook in a covered saucepan.

Do separate the frozen block of vegetables with a fork as they come to a boil and begin to thaw. This makes for more even cooking throughout.

Do not boil vegetables too rapidly over high heat, as this tends to break the vegetables, and to evaporate the cooking water too quickly. After vegetables come to a boil, reduce heat and boil gently, covered, until vegetables are just tender.

Do not overcook frozen vegetables. They require only about half the cooking time needed for garden or market vegetables. Count cooking time from the moment at which the block of vegetables is broken up and the water boils.

See you next Sunday.

Scientists believe men would die after taking a few breaths of the atmosphere on Mars.

Mrs. Hodge Entertains Book Club

Mrs. E. A. Hodge was hostess to the members of the Current Literature Club when it met Wednesday at a local restaurant.

The president, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr., presided over the business meeting. Members voted to add the name of Mrs. L. A. Fluesmeier to the list of associate members of the club.

An interesting "round-table discussion" was held after the topics "Infancy to Five Years and The Child From Five to Ten" were introduced by Mrs. E. A. Hodge and Mrs. B. F. Maxwell.

"The Gentle House" by Anna Perrott Rose was then reviewed by Mrs. R. B. Bailey. This entertaining book was written by the author of "Room For One More" and the story centered around the problems of a refugee boy now living in the United States.

Those present included a guest Mrs. W. C. Scott, and the following members: Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr., Mrs. L. E. Pettit, Mrs. Max Watts, Mrs. B. F. Maxwell, Mrs. B. R. Simpson, Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr., Mrs. L. M. Frey, Mrs. H. W. Tolson, Mrs. C. B. Ackel, Mrs. R. B.

Bailey; Mrs. J. C. Massey; Mrs. E. A. Hodge.

Canasta Club Fetes Members

LAKE PROVIDENCE—Mrs. Jack Bell, Mrs. John Rolfe Howard and Mrs. W. M. Knobles were honorees at a shower when Mrs. Sedric Wilson entertained the Wednesday canasta club at her home on Lake Providence. Separate tables, marked with attractive place cards, designed to whom the girls were intended.

Mrs. Walter Tomlinson won high score and traveling prizes in the game, and Mrs. W. J. Erwin, second high.

Guests for the shower and cards were Mesdames W. B. Cone, W. J. Erwin, Russel Fleeman, Brady Oswald, W. B. Hagland, Sr., John J. Salemi, Jr.; L. E. Townsend, Jr.; Max F. Stockner; Kelso McCendon; William Harbor.

BOBBY PIN MECHANICS
PORT HURON, Mich. (AP)—While boating in Anchor Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bonsall sheared a pin on their outboard motor.

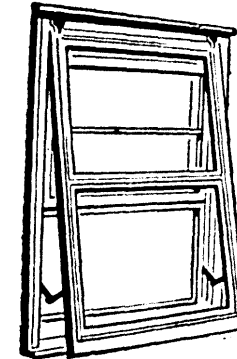

They didn't return by nightfall and their relatives notified the Coast Guard. After an all-night search, the Coast Guard spotted their boat merrily chugging toward home, a new pin fashioned from Mrs. Bonsall's bobby pins.

BUICK BONUS

Higher resale value

Year after year, Buicks have always carried a high resale value. But the 1954 Buick has an even bigger edge in its year-ahead styling. It will still be fresh and new-looking when other '55 models come out. So the new Buick you buy today will keep you plenty of dollars ahead when you trade it in.

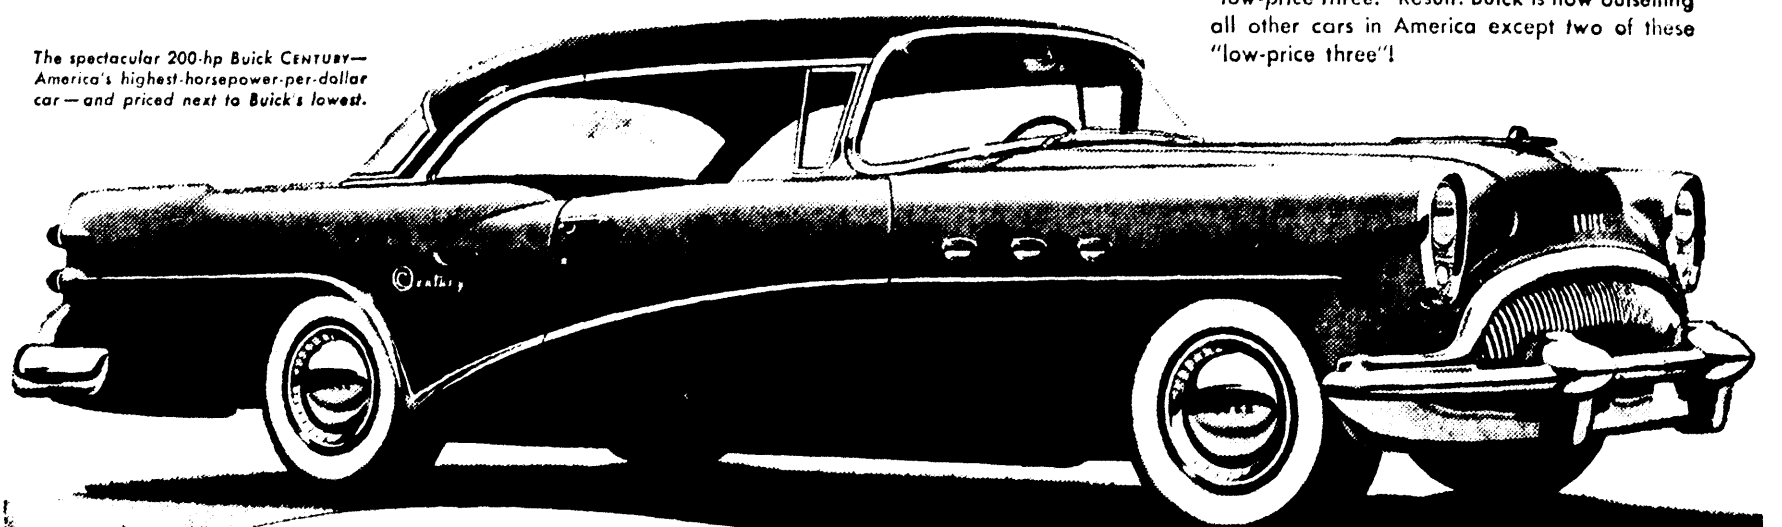

BUICK BONUS

Tomorrow's styling today

You can see it on every new Buick on the road — glamorous new-day styling keyed by that broad panoramic windshield that most other cars won't have till 1955 or later. And with this advanced styling, you get Buick's record-high V8 power, luxurious room and comfort, that famed Million Dollar Ride — and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Result: Buick is now outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three!"

The spectacular 200-hp Buick Century — America's highest-horsepower-per-dollar car — and priced next to Buick's lowest.

Franklin Parish HD Clubs Have Achievement Day

WINNSBORO, Mrs. Alice T. Teddie, Franklin Parish Home Demonstration agent, reported that 110 members of the 14 Franklin Parish Home Demonstration Clubs took part in the Achievement Day program last week at the American Legion Hall in Winnsboro. The day's activities were under the supervision of Mrs. D. B. Fuller, Parish H. D. C. president.

Many outstanding exhibits showing the accomplishments of clubs and club members were on display.

These exhibits included canned goods, cooking, clothing, arts and crafts, and miscellaneous items. Booths and individual exhibits of the Franklin Parish Home Demonstration Clubs may be seen at Tri-Parish Fair which will be held in Winnsboro October, 20-23.

Outstanding feature of the day was a style review in which 31 Home Demonstration ladies modeled house dresses, tailored suits, "dress up" dresses, aprons, dusters, house slippers, childrens clothing, hats, bonnets and purses.

The Achievement Day program included invocation by Rev. H. K. Stringer, pastor, Temple Baptist church; introductions by Mrs. Alice T. Teddie, Home Demonstration agent; pledge to American Flag, Mrs. Eloise Mason, vice-president; National Anthem, Mrs. Ray Brazell, song leader, greetings, Gilbert Hower, Post Commander, local American Legion; welcome, Mrs. D. B. Fuller, president; U. N. flag presentation; Bertha Nan Scott, president of 4-H executive council; music; Irene Fallin, assistant H. D. C. and her 4-H members; "Let's take a Trip to Alaska" by Mrs. Harold Brown, Clarks, La., Homemaker; roll call of clubs, Mrs. C. B. Dixon, acting secretary; summary of 1954 council work, Mrs. Roy McIntyre, Jr. president; better use of light bulbs, Mrs. Katie Monroe, REA home service representative; preparation of a meal on an electric skillet, Miss Betty Jane Hodgkins, La., Power & Light home service representative; films and tape recordings, local County agents, and the style review by the Home Demonstration Club ladies.

FOR CHRISTMAS

You can make Christmas decorations at home with a new kit featuring styrene crystals.

The crystals are placed in the kit's steel molds and immersed in boiling water for three minutes. When they are cooled and opened, they produce plastic pieces in ball, star and bell shapes. The kit also contains sequins, pins, chenille and other decorative material.

Keep sinks, drains and tubs free of grease and disagreeable odors by pouring ordinary hot salt water through them once or twice a week.

Evans-Haygood Vows Pledged

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Haygood of Enterprise announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ruth Haygood, to C. F. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans of Harrisonburg.

Mrs. Joyce Fox and Donald Peters were the couple's only attendants. The bride is a graduate of the Enterprise High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Harrisonburg High School.

LAZY SUSAN

A new Lazy-Susan is a revolving, heat - proof trivet, ideal for use under snack food platters, casseroles and even television sets. It is made of hardboard, holding up to 400 pounds of weight. Some regions in the Olympic Peninsula, northwestern Washington, have forests so thick that the sun never reaches the ground.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: They say you never know a man until you marry him. How true! We have been married only a matter of months and every hour has had its rude awakenings. What kind of early training has a man had who feels once a month is enough for a bath, thinks tooth brushes are only for show and deodorants are for sissies? That's my husband!

He thinks cleanliness is a matter for the exterior only and is fussy about a clean, white shirt every day and keeps his suits pressed neatly. Now, don't tell me to tell him to bathe more often and to brush his teeth, because I couldn't hurt him or be so blunt. He should have learned those things with his ABCs. However, I hope you can give me another "out." — A Daily Bather

P.S. And he can't figure out why my kisses are so short!

Whom do we kid, kiddo? Didn't you come within kissing distance . . . before you were married? The lack of bathing, toothbrushing and deodorants should have been apparent long before the trip to the altar . . . or were you so hep on getting a man that love lent its own fragrance?

My old psychology background smells a rat, since this is an olfactory sort of a problem. You are gunning for your husband's mother and her lack of training of her boy aren't you? Since his early training, or lack of it, isn't going to make the present or future situation any sweeter, it is up to you to "hurt your husband's feelings," if need be and be blunt.

And, you'd better do it while he still is trying to please you, or you'll be stuck in the onion patch as long as you are married. Tell him the frosting is worthless if the cake is no good, and to begin his cleanup campaign from the skin side, out. No tooth brushing, no kisses. No deodorants, no hugs. No baths . . . the davenport, Period.

Dear Ann: For more than three years I have had an on-and-off romance which recently got to the point of planning marriage. Suddenly, however, my fiancé called everything off, giving me only the excuse that he was not ready to be tied down. He is in his late 20s and I am six years younger. He is more than comfortable financially. With all his faults, he is the only one I care for.

My family and friends tell me to forget him because he is immature and childish. This I will know but I am willing to cope with the situation. Please tell me what I can do.—Hopeless Especially, because the young man is "comfortable financially?" Don't be a fool. Marriage to an emotionally immature man is like being married to a child. He'll pout, he'll cry, he'll go his own selfish, self-centered way. He will be jealous, unreasonable, unreliable. If life and things do not suit him he'll escape to his happier dependent years through drink or other women.

If you really want to help him, and yourself, give him up. If he has any good in him and wants you, he will grow up emotionally—with help, if necessary—in order to marry you.

Any other way, he isn't worth the handkerchief into which you are weeping.

Mrs. T. E. C. — As long as your husband still visits (and he should) make peace at any cost, if you do not, it means trouble ahead in your own little family. Not worth it.

A. J. G. — Since you feel you sincerely love the girl, tell her so when and if you do meet her again. If she returns your love, she will forgive you and find a way to see you again.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.

For Chic Look
Avoid Frills

The tall older woman who long for a tiny, delicate, Dresden doll look doesn't realize that she can be striking in a way her smaller sisters never can be.

Instead of wearing fussy trimmings and ruffles, which she feels make her look more feminine, she could acquire a smart, sophisticated appearance by choosing clothes with slimming lines and smooth fabrics.

Especially if she's heavy, the taller woman only emphasizes her largeness with print dresses, small handbags and generally tiny accessories.

Wide, flaring cuffs and huge collars are fashion features that look well on the large woman. Frequently, she must avoid sales and skimpy material. An inexpensive dress or coat does nothing for her, since she needs quality material and lots of it to look well in her clothes.

If she chooses a two-piece dress with a full skirt to prevent calling attention to her heavy hips, she must make sure the jacket is slim, to cut her height in half.

The tall woman must make sure her undergarments are supplying enough support for her figure. Her bras and girdles must be selected very carefully to provide her with basic, firm lines.

Keeping her height and weight in mind at all times will help the older woman to acquire the stunning look so often associated with the statuesque type of woman.

DEMOCRAT WOMEN IN DRIVE—Mrs. Juliette B. Martin (right), wife of Secretary of State Wade O. Martin, presents an arrangement of magnolias to Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, register of the State Land Office and only woman holding an elective state office. The magnolias are the official flower of Louisiana, which traditionally votes Democratic. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Moore are two Louisiana women in the party currently campaigning to "drop a dollar in the hat, help elect a Democrat." The drive is being made in connection with National Democratic Women's Month, September 22-October 22, proclaimed as a time "for observance and celebration for Democratic women." The observance commemorates the admission of women in 1919 to the national executive committee, highest council of the Democratic Party. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Moore are working with Miss Lallage Feazel of West Monroe and Mrs. Edgar Stern of New Orleans, co-chairmen for Louisiana.

League To Discuss Amendments At Monday Meeting

On October 18, at 7 p. m. in the district court room, second floor of the Ouachita Parish Courthouse, the League of Women Voters of Monroe will hold an open meeting at which the 31 proposed constitutional amendments will be discussed.

Representative Gilbert Faulk will read each amendment, after which he, Representative Shady Wall and Senator James Sparks will have the opportunity to make comments about each amendment.

There will also be opportunity for comments and questions from the audience.
Digest of the amendments with League commentary will be distributed to each person present. This is a public service under the auspices of the voters service committee of the League of Women Voters of Monroe.

Soon the newly enlarged Sterlington Bank will be completed and we are looking forward to the opportunity of extending you an invitation to see it. The expansion you will see will not only surprise you, but will make you very proud to live in a community and to have had a part in the phenomenal growth that the Sterlington Bank has enjoyed during its brief five years of existence. We recall the formal opening of the Sterlington Bank October 4, 1949, with total resources of $196,399.36 and only two employees. Today, only five years later, this bank has eight employees and total resources of $3,009,653.89. There is always a reason for an outstanding record in any business. We have strived to give a better banking service and to operate a more friendly bank during these years. We earnestly believe this policy has been the main factor in our tremendous growth. The new addition to the Sterlington Bank will exactly double the size of the present building. We renew our pledge to our friends and patrons to give you an even better banking service in the years to come.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.
Soc. U. S. Pat. Off.

1. WHICH DISLIKE MORE GOING OUT ALONE—MEN OR WOMEN?
MEN ☐ WOMEN ☐

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Women, according to an "attitude study" by psychologist Lassner. This was more marked in going to movies than plays. One woman fully explained it when she said, "There's much more of an atmosphere of romance at the movies." Much more than "atmosphere," I'd say. But, of course, I'm only speaking from hearsay!

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Girls grow faster than boys, both mentally and physically. Thus, a ten-year-old girl is mentally "older" than a ten-year-old boy. Also, girls study more, engage in fewer outside activities, and have higher social ambitions than boys. These latter traits may be due to environment and what people expect of girls.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. A survey by Columbia University states that 10 per cent of school children are in need of mental counsel—some schools report 60 per cent! Yet, 80 per cent of schools have no discussion of mental health problems, 85 per cent have no teacher trained in mental hygiene, and 17 per cent have no mental hygiene program of any kind. Yet, we wonder at school failures and juvenile delinquency!

Flood Control Contracts Let On 2 Projects

JONESVILLE, Oct. 16 (Special)—The Tensas levee board, despite considerable opposition in Catahoula parish, let the contracts this week on two flood control measures proposed south of Jonesville.

One of the projects, a levee south of Jonesville to offer partial protection from floods to about 40 farms, drew the fire of some parish citizens. Petitions signed by 1-100 citizens of Catahoula and LaSalle parishes, caused the department of public works to withdraw its financial support of the project.

The other project, a floodgate on the connecting slough between Grassy Lake and Black River south of Jonesville, will be constructed with the aid of department of public works funds.

That agency will provide only engineering and technical aid on the small levee, termed the Ackland to Utility levee.

Low bid on the Grassy Lake floodgate was $28,560.50 by the Morrison Construction Company. Low bid on the Ackland-Utility levee project was $23,924.95 by the C. W. Vollmer Construction Company of Harvey, La.

Parish citizens opposed the small levee on the grounds it would raise water stages on the lands not included within the levee and would hinder efforts to secure a levee for the whole parish.

A. C. James, levee board president, said "The levee board regrets the fact that there has been some opposition to the project, but in view of the fact it has been well established that the public's money will be well spent, and not one single individual prejudiced by this levee, the board felt that it had no alternative but to give this small amount of protection to the area."

A protest meeting was held in Harrisonburg and the LaSalle parish police jury voted opposition to the small levee. After the department of public works withdrew its financial aid, the Catahoula parish police jury also voted disapproval of the project. The Tensas levee board originally appropriated $25,000 for the project and since the low bid did not exceed that figure, voted to continue with the project.

Fancy Gloves Wash Easily

This fall finds the color and texture range in gloves brighter and more interesting. The seasonal shades include bright red, orange (in several hues), charcoal gray, sapphire blue and the pastels—pink, blue, yellow and green.

Making their return again are gloves made of suede nylon and dacron. In a more delicate vein, you have the luxurious-looking Angora, soft wool jersey and vicara gloves. Fancy string gloves (plain or trimmed with pearls or rhinestones) add a bright note to any glove wardrobe.

Shortie gloves are even more popular than ever with bracelet trimming at the wrist. Some are trimmed with beadwork and metallic braid, while dressier shorties feature intricately designed pearls and rhinestones.

To complement the popularity of velvet-lined wardrobes, a new rayon fabric resembling thick piled velvet has been introduced for gloves with a velvet look, and this fabric is entirely washable.

The time-conscious woman will be interested in knowing there's a shortie glove that has an open curve at the wrist for easy watch glancing.

Jeweled gloves are safe to wash, provided you don't rub the gloves and scratch the fabric with the decorations.

For badly soiled gloves, wash them on your hands! (It's easier to spot tiny finger tip smudges this way.) Use warm soapsuds and give your gloves at least three sudings and four rinses to remove all grime and soap.

Squeeze (never wring) excess water from your fabric gloves. Then, roll them in a towel and shape them gently.

Temperature of the burning end of a cigarette is between 1200 and 1325 degrees Fahrenheit.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

Garden Lovers
Busy At Work

In some areas we're finding buds dropping from susanquas. If the roots of the plants got too dry, this will surely happen and you'll have few blooms. Most of these shrubs are simply loaded with buds. Unless we have an early frost, this will be another beautiful susanqua year, as the last two have been. This is such a versatile plant. It can be used for front planting to extend the lines of the house or for screen planting.

They're not as fast growers as pyracantha, ligustrum, and photinia, so you'll need patience to wait on them filling in space.

Garden Jobs

It seems the camellias are getting a bad scale, now. Spray with oil emulsion, using the summer weight as given on the outside of the container. Wash off in about 24 or 36 hours.

It's just not time to fertilize or transplant your shrubs now. Fertilizing now during this warm weather will cause the plants to pull on new growth that will be killed by the frosts. Save that plant energy. Fertilize in January or February, then you'll have spring growth that you need.

Don't forget the pink and white scilla when you buy that bulb. The pink doesn't multiply quite as fast as the blue and white but it's very beautiful. This is one of the bulbs that like acid soil, will come up through the mulch so therefore can be planted in your shrubbery beds. Scilla comes back year after year and will live and bloom in semi-shade.

Here And There

If you're interested in a wisteria plant, contact Mrs. Dennis, telephone 2-0132. She will give these to the first ones who ask. Of course you'll not transplant these until after some rains and frosts.

The Kent Beards on Lakeside Drive have just completed a most attractive brick patio, doing all the work themselves. Dot says she finds a patio valuable in muddy weather because the children can play outside without ruining their shoes.

As the work progresses, I want you to follow with the Leo Terzias (3407 Loop Road) as they develop their landscape plan. We worked up together. They have a beautiful setting on one of the loveliest bays in the United States, but they have a dangerous situation when parking a car on the busy Loop Road. So, we planned a wide concrete drive with an extra space putting out to the left. This part is for backing the car so the driver can head out into the traffic. To balance this extra ramp that is curved on the inside, we planned a planting of crabapples on the other side of their yard, carrying out the same curve. It's a long time plan, as most plans are because few of us can plunge into that much expense all at once. The owners are interested, enthusiastic, and well read and I'm looking forward to watching their plans grow. The E. T. Regans, 3600 Breville have an interesting garden. The house is quite modern and the planting goes with the house. I'm watching the mimosa planted by an iron post. Mrs. Reagan plans to keep it pruned to a fishing pole, which can be done with a mimosa. In fact you can make that tree do most anything you want it to.

Dollie and Sam Scott, 602 Bres, have some small cherry laurels they'll be glad to give to new home owners who need them. These too, must not be transplanted until after more rains and frosts. This is a lovely shrub for screen planting.

Food In The News

Food plentiful as honey, shrimp, poultry and eggs, cauliflower, broccoli, turkeys, cabbage, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, lettuce, and cheese. This is a good time to boil your shrimp and get them in the freezer. I find they're about thirty cents cheaper per pound than usual. Did you know your shrimp take up the seasoning better if you'll let them cool in the water in which they were boiled?

The pecans are falling. As soon as they dry—that's the best time for putting them in the freezer, or canning them. This is about the easiest food to freeze. Just put them in freezer bags, seal and put in the box. When you're ready to use the nuts, let them thaw in the bag.

Dates And Doings

A slip cover workshop Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. at the agricultural building—come and bring your scissors, needle, thimble and a lunch. We'll be through about 3:00 o'clock. If you can't stay all day, wait and plan to come to the next class. We'll make an entire slip cover from beginning to end.

Mrs. Ben Coulter from Winnsboro will give you instructions for drying plants and show you how to make dried arrangements on the Around Home Show Tuesday, 2:30. KNOE-TV. This will be a rare treat for home makers.

On KNOE-radio, beginning Monday housewives will have forty-five minutes of homemaking. First Mary Margaret McBride at 9:00. Top tune of the day at 9:05. Yours truly at 9:10 and then Beth Breese will visit with you for thirty minutes. Note that's a change of time for both Beth and me, and I'll be with you five days a week instead of three.

See you next Sunday.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

I have been discussing a question about which we should like your opinion. Are all men equal? G.K.

ANSWER: No. All men are not equal—at least, not in every sense. You have only got to look at the world to realize that.

For example, all men are not equal intellectually. Some have more brains than others. All men are not equal socially and economically. There are vast differences among the inhabitants of the world in regard to such matters as wealth and culture and standards of living. It is a fact that in an age when the production and distribution of goods have attained a new high level, some people are living in plenty luxury, while others are denied the bare necessities of life and are facing actual starvation. But in another sense all men are equal—and this is in the deepest sense of all. For all men are equal in this, that whether they are rich or poor, high or low, cultured or uneducated, they are lost sinners in the sight of God. As the Bible says, "There is no difference: for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:22, 23).

And all men are equal in this, too, that God loves them all and in His Son Jesus Christ has provided salvation for them all; for the Bible says again, "There is no difference... for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Romans 10:12, 13).

Here is the true equality of men. It is not in culture or class or color, but in the saving grace of God through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Some Plant Bulbs
In Wire Baskets

The column has been asked about planting bulbs in wire baskets as a protection from rodents. We have mentioned this several times as the only way to save tulips and some other bulbs like lilies from mice, rats and squirrels. The people who should know best tell us that moles do not eat bulbs but that mice and rats do the damage by following the mole runs. Anyway, one of the most beautiful tulip gardens your columnist ever saw was planted in what is known as quarter-inch "rat wire" baskets. The gardeners were determined, both husband and wife to have tulips, and they planted the bulbs every year in these "baskets." They were flat contraptions with a bottom and three sides, and the sides stuck out of the ground an inch. We did not know to plant tulips six to ten inches deep in those days, so they were planted about six inches deep. Squirrels got into them one year from the top and dug out some tulips, so wire tops were put on the next year and taken off just as the leaves began to show. Some one who saw the garden remarked "Such attention must be deserved," for the flowers were always perfect. The secret of this was, however, that the soil was perfect!

Nowadays, people make rolls of this galvanized quarter-inch "rat wire" which has been cut in strips from ten to sixteen inches wide and plant bulbs in these circular cages with no bottoms. Apparently the moles do not get low enough to enter the cages. Galvanized wire does not rust, and the cages last for years. Again, the "secret" of the success seems to your columnist to be that after a gardener goes to the trouble to make baskets to plant his bulbs in, he will take the trouble to see to it that the soil is right. A set of bulb cages or baskets is very useful at least for protecting very choice bulbs. You can always know just where the bulbs are, too, and it helps to know where to plant other flowers in the design of your beds and groups. Annuals and biennials which you plant each year as a carpet for the bulb groups will always get planted exactly over the bulbs in the fall.

More Anemones

The St. Brigid, De Caen and other anemones which follow the early Anemone blanda we discussed last week like much the same growing conditions: a soil with plenty of humus in it. If you can get it, very old thoroughly decayed cow manure is good. The English and French florists who raise anemones for the flower markets in London and Paris follow this stable manure in a furrow and plant over it. Use peat moss and plenty of bone meal and a complete fertilizer if you cannot get anything better. However, be sure that your bed for anemones is either raised or on a slope to the south. These flowers of the wind will not stand wet feet. If the soil is gritty, all the better. If it is heavy clay, you had better mix some very coarse sand with it. It is worth while to protect anemones with something on the north and west sides to bring them into bloom early. They will not stand for close quarters, and, if you grow them in a cold frame, the ash must be arranged so as to let in plenty of air. It is best to prepare the soil and fertilize it. Then soak it well and let it settle and dry out some. When you plant the roots, be sure to firm the soil around them with your fingers. The commercial growers always plant "on a firm bed" instead of on freshly ploughed ground. In addition to the kinds mentioned above, there is a beautiful little red anemone from Spain called The Scarlet Windflower of the Pyrenees (A. fulgens). All anemones are real dazlers in the spring. They are so cheap that you can buy new ones each year if they do not stay with your permanently.

Children grasp colors before they can read. A book painted red for his red hat, a brown one for his brown jacket may make the job of hanging up his outdoor clothes more appealing. Make the books low, strong and long.

In Armed Services

SEWANEE, Tenn., Oct. 16 (Special)—Ralph T. Troy, sophomore at the University of the South and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Troy, has been awarded the cadet rank of airman second class in the air force reserve officers' training corps and will serve as an assistant squad leader.

His rank was awarded on the recommendation of the cadet group staff with the approval of the air force staff. Demonstrated leadership ability and academic achievement were the basis for the appointment.

Cadet A2e Troy is one of 78 sophomores enrolled in the second year basic air force ROTC course at Sewanee.

FORT HOOD, Tex., Oct. 16 (Special)—Private Leonard F. Riser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Riser, Route No. 4, Winnsboro, La., is serving with the famed 1st armored division at Fort Hood, Tex. He is a member of Battery "A" of the 91st armored field artillery battalion, which recently distinguished itself in the annual artillery firing tests.

Battery "A" made the highest scored record on the battery firing test since the 1st armored division was reactivated at Fort Hood in 1951.

All the artillery batteries of the division take this test, in which live high explosive shells are hurled at a simulated enemy. The problem is set up to determine the ability of an artillery battery to operate independently and efficiently in support of a friendly task force.

Private Riser serves as a cannoneer for Battery "A".

2 Weeks

Starting on Monday, and for the next two weeks the Federated Garden Clubs of the Fifth District are sponsoring the Sears Book Club membership drive. Sears, Roebuck and Company has given us the privilege of sponsoring this project as a means of raising funds so that we may carry on the objectives of the federated garden clubs in the district. In return for this sponsoring and effort to secure book club members we will receive the entire proceeds collected from the sale of memberships during this two-weeks period.

Committee members from garden clubs throughout the district will assist Mrs. Jean Ward, Sears Book representative, at the attractive book booth daily for these two weeks. In order to put this project over with a bang it is very important for everyone to join themselves and get someone else to join the book club. This is an opportunity for good books for the entire family, that no one should miss. I suggest that you get in touch with your club president for more information concerning this project. The books offered are most worthwhile. The selections are absorbing and informative new books of fiction and non-fiction and a wide assortment of children's books. Two authors on the list have been awarded Pulitzer prizes. Many of the books have been sold to Hollywood and many are on the nation's best seller list.

On Wednesday, October 20, Alice Walworth Graham of Natchez will be on hand to autograph her new book "Indigo Bond." The Winnsboro Garden Club presented an all blue-ribbon flower show at the center this week. Mrs. B. G. Coulter was awarded first place in the arrangement section. Mrs. Coulter designed a dramatic line—mass arrangement of deep red gladioli with a focal point of red coleus tinged with chartreuse and the seed pods of the bush morning glory. The background color was soft yellow which complemented the yellow green in the pods and coleus. The arrangement was set on a black scroll base.

Mrs. C. R. Adams was awarded second place. Using a tall cylinder shaped brown jug, Mrs. Adams created a most effective vertical arrangement of barberry, with a focal point of bronze chrysanthemums. Background color, soft gray.

Mrs. Guy Kincaid was awarded third place. Against a chartreuse background, Mrs. Kincaid created a monochromatic arrangement in tints, shades and tones of yellow, using zinnias, marigolds and celosia as a focal point. A round brass container was used and set on round bases finished in the natural wood color.

In the horticulture section, blue ribbons were awarded to Mrs. B. T. Lanier for ageratum and purple salvia and Mrs. W. O. Gwin for giant zinnias.

Fairs and flower shows are going on all over the district. This coming week Tri-Parish Fair in Winnsboro, October 20 to 23. Morehouse Parish Fair in Bastrop, October 20-23, and the Lincoln Parish Fair in Ruston.

By Jimmy Fidler

By CLIFTON WEBB
(Guest Columnist)
"Unwebbean"

HOLLYWOOD, October 16—The public clamor to read my autobiography having reached a high pitch since the project was announced some six years ago, I wish to state through Jimmie Fidler's column a word of explanation and offer apology and encouragement.

I could plead the press of my motion picture performances. Off to Rome to make "Three Coins in the Fountain." Back to 20th Century-Fox studios for "Woman's World." Here, there, everywhere in the service of my eager and demanding public.

However, this would be a puerile excuse. Untrue. Undignified. In a word, "un-Webbean."

I must report that I have a title and six chapters, a point I had reached some three years ago. If this bleak announcement strikes universal consternation, pause, reader, and hear me.

I have discovered that it is impossible for me to retail the events of my life in a Lincolnian spirit of "malice towards none." Truth is a desirable quality in an autobiography, though obviously not indispensable, and candor, I have found, compels me to put certain persons and events in a revealing rather than a flattering light.

Now truth is all very well over a well chosen and prepared dinner, but putting it between the covers of a book is to veritably send an engraved invitation for a book in rebuttal.

Were I to tell my story in a glowing spirit of Christian charity it would be, I'm afraid, lacking in the true flavor of the personalities of my associates and myself. It would be a dish without seasoning. Not dull, mind you, but deficient in the elan characteristic of my life and times.

I must say that on the whole there is not much to be found in my memories which I need recall in a spirit of self reproach. Success has been something of a habit with me from my earliest beginnings and has permeated all aspects of my life. But the human mind is a strange organ and the long string of successes of other years seem now to be somewhat worn and, well, trifling, while the defeats seem freshly minted and as acrid as ever.

I believe I have space to relate the crowning triumph from the rack of triumphs I have been fortunate enough to enjoy. It was many years ago in a musical show in New York. In one of the numbers I danced in the ballroom style with a lady then one of the most celebrated performers on Broadway. As we swirled and swayed before the audience, she lost an undergarment considered, I believe, vital to modesty in any circumstance and certainly of the very first importance to a dancer. A less poised individual might have panicked, but with a composure which might endure comparison with the "thin red line" at Waterloo, I delicately danced my partner to a point where I could retrieve the treacherous garment. Then, mindful of modesty's fragile balance, I very gently danced her off the stage. With a gallantry acquired through protracted residence in France, I was able to present the lady with her missing attire. I believe I then achieved the very pinnacle of savoir-faire by remarking: "It appears, madame has dropped her handkerchief."

Such anecdotes lose their real flavor, I am afraid, when told with names. But this points up the essential problem of writing one's autobiography. The heroine of this stirring event is now married and a mother. The mother of two daughters and a son. How then is one able to detail her humiliation in cold print? The very obvious reply is, one cannot. It would rob the incident of all glamor and Beat Ceste would become simple Bo Jest, a fellow of sound instincts in tipping his hat, but lost when it comes to kissing a lady's hand.

After due reflection, with all these factors weighing upon me, I have decided that it is incumbent upon me, until time has further thinned the ranks of my earlier associates, to defer my memoirs. If it is true that "dead men tell no tales," it is indisputable that they do not initiate lawsuits.

To the ordinary mind, such a resolve may appear to border upon the morbid, but participants in great events early learn to accept

ONE BIG QUESTION — Pointing to the "Big Question"—who will be selected by the throngs who will visit and vote for their favorite King and Queen at St. Matthew's Our Lady of Fatima Carnival on November 9 and 10 is Mrs. R. E. Schott, Mrs. Harold DeMers looks on with amused interest.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Now You Can Throw Away Part Of Your Tubby Hubby

Gather around, girls, because this next 12 days we are going to concentrate on taking a few pounds off Tubby Hubbies. Although you may love every bit of your Tubby Hubby, you would love him no less a few pounds lighter.

In fact, he might appear even more attractive to you if he lost those extra pounds because you, too, are human. It's a cinch that he would feel better, have a much greater chance of avoiding the chronic diseases of middle age and be much more likely to live to a vital old age.

Obesity is usually considered to be 20 per cent more weight than normal, while overweight is 10 per cent above normal. In the United States there are about five million people who are obese and another 20 million who are overweight. The mortality rate of the group classed as obese is one-and-a-half times higher than that of normal weight people. Among the heavier of the obese class, the mortality from heart disease is twice that of slimmer persons.

May Reduce Blood Pressure Fat people are more likely to realities. I have played death scenes in motion pictures frequently. Indeed, in "Three Coins in the Fountain," I am stricken presumably fatally, and the possibility of my demise is a consideration in "Woman's World." I have played "them" in such sufficiency, that I fear the actual event may become something of an anti-climax. Not to me, of course, but to the earth's teeming billions. Therefore, I have no hesitance in employing this least palatable of nature's inexorable facts to the advantage of my autobiography. It is the prerogative of an artist.

Marine Corps League To Elect Officers

The northeast Louisiana detachment of the Marine Corps League will hold its annual election of officers Tuesday night.

Election will be held at the Marine Corps League home at Bernstein park. Plans for Marine Corps birthday dance, November 10, will also be discussed. All members are urged to be present.

It's sensible to have some sort of mail box inside the front door. It should have a section for mail you've brought in and one for mail you hope your husband will mail on the way to work. It'll soon become a habit for him to check there.

suffer from heart disease, circulatory troubles, diabetes and other degenerative diseases. Sometimes a simple loss of weight will reduce high blood pressure to normal, although of course it is not always as easy as that.

For the next 12 days I will print the menus for each day in this column. These menus are for men who wish to lose weight. Perhaps your husband will not see them but you can use them as your daily menus because the meals are well-balanced. If you wish to eat a few extras, and can afford the calories, do it on the side. Don't tempt him. If he is cooperative, give him the outline so that he can follow the menus at lunch.

Watch For Menus

The first day's menus will be printed in the Morning World starting Monday.

My Tubby Hubby Reducing Diet will give a loss of from 7 to 12 pounds in 12 days' time. If you would like to have this diet in a convenient pocket-sized booklet, send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Tubby Hubby Diet Booklet. ### Local Bands To Participate In La. State Fair

An estimated 3,500 high school bandmen from 75 cities and towns in the Ark-La-Tex area will march down the streets of Shreveport in the 1954 Louisiana state fair band parade on Saturday, Oct. 30.

Members of the Neville and Ouachita Parish High Schools bands will participate in the parade this year, state fair officials have been notified.

Downtown Shreveport streets on this Saturday morning by tradition are given over to the two-hour procession of bands. This year, the band parade will be held on the second Saturday of the annual fair, since the opening day, Oct. 23, is crowded with events such as the Louisiana Tech vs. Northwestern State football game and parade, Legislators' Day and Press Day.

After the parade, Oct. 30, the bandmen are invited to see the State Fair grandstand events, and will have an opportunity to see the many educational exhibits and take part in the fun events on the fair grounds.

King, Queen Who Will They Be At Catholic Carnival?

An especially new feature channeled for "fun and feud" is scheduled for St. Matthews — Our Lady of Fatima carnival beginning November 9 when a king and queen will be selected to this honor. The winners will be jeweled crowned and appropriately gowned in royal robes in everything.

This friendly rivalry gives promise of lots of fun and will bring on, we are told, a campaign nothing short of the spectacular in the field of vote-getting. This booth is sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of Progressive Men's Club with Mrs. R. E. Schott and Mrs. H. De Mers in charge.

Adult Activities Of Twin Cities Y. M. C. A. Expand

The adult program of the Twin Cities Y. M. C. A. continues to increase in the number of activities and also the number of participants. Al Newburn is chairman of the adult program committee.

The men's physical education class meets Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, in the Northeast Louisiana State College gymnasium from 5:30 to 6:30 p. m. Program includes physical conditioning, calisthenics, basketball, fundamental body control skills, and volleyball. Participants are requested to bring shorts, tennis shoes and towel.

Dr. Ben Oliphant, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, is leading a weekly men's Bible study course which is proving most interesting and inspirational. This group meets each Wednesday evening from 8:00 to 9:00 p. m. in the YMCA at 217 Broad St. They are approaching their study of the Bible from an interdenominational and non-sectarian point of view. Group discussions and question and answer sessions also play a prominent part in this study.

John Cale is directing the study of music appreciation which is being conducted on a coeducational basis. This program is for all adults (men and women) who are interested in music and is designed to help develop a better understanding and appreciation of all types of music. The program includes everything from general behavior trends in a concert hall all the way to understanding the components of a symphony.

Additional Y. M. C. A. adult groups slated for early organization include a men's garden club, bridge for beginners and advanced, and industrial management club, and an outing club.

Adults desiring to participate in any phase of the above mentioned programs can register by calling the Twin Cities YMCA, 5-2353.

Annexation Foes Make Plans To Meet Thursday

The residents of the Splane, McGuire and Sunshine Heights additions of West Monroe, who oppose annexation to the city, and who desire to create a separate water district, will meet in the Ouachita Valley fair main building Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. All who desire to sign up and lend their influence against any annexation project, are urged to attend.

It is explained by Sam Orchard, one of leaders in the anti-annexation campaign, that it is required to get 25 per cent of the resident property owners and 25 per cent of the assessed property valuation, in order for annexation to the city. It is not believed that this can be achieved, he said.

It was stated, Mr. Orchard said, that if a new district were created there would be no fire protection.

He stated this is untrue for fire plugs through the area are planned.

A rumor that enthusiasm over the idea of the forming of a separate district is waning is also erroneous, Mr. Orchard stated. He said that he gets calls day and night by enthusiasts and that it appears that the plans formulated will be put through successfully.

Papers required from a legal standpoint have been presented to the police jury and also are in the hands of officials at the courthouse.

An exceptionally large list of signers are on the petition and many more are anticipated this week, Mr. Orchard stated.

Keep Powder Puff Clean

Any dermatologist will tell you the importance of a clean powder puff. If your skin is to remain sparklingly clear, it must be kept immaculately clean. In addition to keeping it freshly scrubbed, this means using a powder puff that's fresh as your newly laundered lingerie.

The soiled powder puff, besides being a drawback to any woman's grooming routine, contains old make-up, powder and oil. Once soiled you run the risk of dangerous infection each time you press it to your skin.

No well-groomed woman would ever think of using her comb and brush day after day without washing it. She knows the damage they can do her hair and scalp. Nor would she ever use her toothbrush several times a day without rinsing it to prevent the spread of bacteria in her mouth.

Why, then, shouldn't she be as particular with her powder puff. Her good skin is certainly as precious to her as her glossy hair, or nice, white teeth.

You've noticed you use your powder puff much more than your brush or comb. Besides regular application of your make-up, you make several "touch-ups" during the day—before lunch, after daily coffee breaks.

Complete each day's grooming with a fresh, clean puff in your compact. One firm effort quelled cotton squares that slip into any size compact.

Besides using them as powder puffs, cotton squares saturated with witch hazel, then placed on the eyelids work wonders for tired-looking eyes.

Oregon's Crater Lake is 2000 feet deep.

RAILWAY CLERKS TO MEET
Ouachita Lodge No. 588 Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, etc., will hold its regular monthly meeting in Missouri Pacific Booster Hall, 7:30 p. m. Tuesday October 19th, 1954. All members are requested to be present as important matters pertaining to the membership will be discussed.

Crisp underskirts are wonderful under full winter skirts, too. But be sure they are crisp. Regular or nylon horsehair, though it's more expensive than starched muslin, will last and last. Check for whipped seams for the sake of hose.

Houseflies are useful in cross-pollinating celery plants.

'Hell Below Zero' Stars Ladd In Antarctic Tale

Alan Ladd, film's No. 1 action star, reportedly rises to new heights of adventure at the bottom of the world in Columbia Pictures' "Hell Below Zero," a Warwick Production filmed in color by Technicolor and due Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre. Joan Tetzel is featured as Ladd's feminine lead, while Basil Sydney and Stanley Baker round out the cast of principal supporting players.

In "Hell Below Zero," Ladd is seen as a hardy American adventurer who signs up as mate on an ice breaker heading for the polar seas to rendezvous with the whaling fleet. Miss Tetzel is traveling to the Antarctic on the ice breaker to investigate the suspicious death of her father, co-owner of the great whaling enterprise.

"Hell Below Zero" was actually filmed with the whaling fleet in the Antarctic. The desolate beauty of the polar wastes, the exciting chase and slaying of the whales, the whole terrifying iciness of the bottom of the world are said to have been captured in "Hell Below Zero."

In the film, Ladd plunges into what is reportedly a hornet's nest of trouble when his man-hunt implicates the girl's former fiancé, son of her father's business partner. Ladd, transferred to a whale catcher to get him out of the way, finds himself wedged tightly in the ice pack; the "rescuing" ice breaker crashes into it deliberately. Both crews are marooned on the ice where Ladd comes to grips with the killer in a titanic death struggle with ice axes as weapons.

Said to be Ladd's topmost adventure, "Hell Below Zero" is jam-packed with action. Some of the unprecedented thrills in store for theatre audiences are a great whale-hunt, the axe-battle on the ice, a raging polar storm, the collision between killer-ships and a battle in the ship's hold.

Ladd, who has established himself as a world-wide favorite, proves once again his right to be adjudged the No. 1 action star. Miss Tetzel, the American actress who was the reigning favorite of the London stage in "The Little Hut," is an attractive heroine.

The spectacular adventure was penned for the screen by Alex Coppel and Max Trel from Richard Maibaum's adaptation of the novel "The White South," by Hammond Innes. Mark Robson directed "Hell Below Zero" for producers Irving Allan and Albert R. Broccoli; George W. Willoughby acted as associate producer.

When they first begin to develop figures, many young girls are embarrassed and slouch to conceal their femininity. It's a natural habit, but should be eliminated as quickly as possible when a girl is ready to be herself, not a tomboy.

Enumerators In Farm Census In 2 Parishes Named

Announcement of the appointment of census of agriculture enumerators in their respective parishes was announced Saturday by two crew leaders, Ernest W. Kelley listed appointments of enumerators to serve in Union parish and Stephen H. Guenard named those to serve in East Carroll parish.

Those selected to serve in Union parish were: Mrs. J. A. Denton, Farmerville; Henry Henderson, Lillie; Mrs. M. C. Robinson, Bernice; Mrs. John F. Tucker, Farmerville; Gladden E. Dean, Farmerville; Robert C. Murry, Marlon; Mrs. Joyce H. Pouncey, Lillie; Mrs. Audrey M. Farrar, Farmerville; Mrs. Hazel C. Long, Downsview; Mrs. Fred Wade, Farmerville; Mrs. Ethel Upshaw, Marlon.

On October 19, the enumerators for Union parish will report to the Union Parish Trade School, Farmerville, for a four-day training session.

Enumerators appointed for East Carroll parish were: Mrs. J. T. Collins, Transylvania; Mrs. Mary H. Howington, Lake Providence; Mrs. Bertha Teague, Transylvania; Mrs. Georgia R. Townsend, Lake Providence; Mrs. Myrtle C.

Morris, Lake Providence; Mrs. Nell Catherine Bonner, Lake Providence; Mrs. Mary Celeste Mangum, Lake Providence; Mrs. Helen Doris White, Soudheimer; Mrs. Sylvia Waxman, Lake Providence; Mrs. Virginia Lee Voelker, Lake Providence; Mrs. Thelma E. Dawdy, Epps; Mrs. Naomi McPherson, Epps.

The enumerator is the "infantry man" of the census organization. It is his duty to locate every farm within the area assigned to him, interview each farm operator and obtain an accurate record of all farming operations as well as information covering farm facilities and equipment and related items. Enumerators work a minimum of eight hours daily and must be available evening work if necessary to complete their assignments.

On October 19, the enumerators for East Carroll parish will report to the city hall building, Lake Providence, for a four-day training session. They begin enumeration of the farms in their districts on October 25, 1954. It is expected that the enumeration will take from three to four weeks to complete.

Teachers Of 9 Parishes Will Meet At N. W.

NATCHITOCHES, Oct. 18 (Special)—High school science teachers from nine Louisiana parishes will converge on the Northwestern State College campus this Monday for a special meeting regarding both the industrial and teaching training of young scientists to alleviate the existing shortage in that field.

According to Dr. W. G. Erwin, president of the Louisiana Academy of Sciences and a member of the NSC faculty, the problem of supplying the young scientists needed in our country continues to be a serious problem facing our educational system, and it is hoped that meetings of this kind may bring answers to some of the existing problems.

Getting underway at 10 a.m. in the Natchitoches high school auditorium, the meeting will be conducted by John Manning, science teacher in Natchitoches school, who is director of the Northwestern State College regional division of the state academy.

Part of the planning at this meeting will be the urging of the various science clubs in the regional area to select a project to be worked up and exhibited at a science fair to be held at the college, probably the latter part of March. Dr. Erwin, who heads the college biology department, stated.

The science teachers will be welcomed to the campus by Dr. John S. Kyser, Northwestern president. Representatives from Grant, La Salle, Natchitoches, Calhoun, Concordia, Red River, Winn, Rapides and Sabine parishes will attend the meeting.

For success in cake baking, sift flour carefully before measuring. Pile the sifted flour lightly into a measuring cup; use a spoon and do not pack down. Level off the flour with a spatula or straight-edged knife drawn across the top of the cup.

The number of television stations in the United States has increased from 123 in 1952 to 356 in 1953, reports the 1954 Encyclopedia Americana Annual.

JULIUS CAESAR—Louis Calhern enacts the Roman dictator Julius Caesar, Marlon Brando his devoted friend Mark Antony, and Greer Garson his wife, Calpurnia, in "Julius Caesar," M-G-M's excitement pitched filmization of the great Shakespearean drama, which opens October 24 at the Jim Theatre for a four-day run. Others in one of Hollywood's most distinguished star casts include James Mason, John Gielgud, Edmund O'Brien and Deborah Kerr.

Special Showing Of Julius Caesar To Be Held Here

Monroe has been selected by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer pictures as one of the first localities of its size to see the famous production of "Julius Caesar," according to an announcement from the manager of the Jim Theatre, where the film will be shown. The much-honored picture, will open a special four-day engagement on October 24. Performances will be continuous.

"Julius Caesar" is the first Shakespearean movie that has become a popular, mass appeal box-office hit. Being a story of mob violence, assassination, intrigue and the overthrow of a dictator, this Shakespearean film has exciting entertainment qualities. This, together with the notable cast—Marlon Brando, James Mason, John Gielgud, Deborah Kerr, Greer Garson, Louis Calhern and Edmund O'Brien—has lifted "Julius Caesar" out of the classical category into a popular movie.

There will be no advance in the prices for this special showing. "Julius Caesar" already has become Hollywood's "most honored picture." It was awarded "best picture of the year" honors by the National Board of Review, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the New Jersey Association of Teachers of English and many other groups. The British Film Academy awarded its "Oscars" to Brando (Mark Antony) and to Gielgud (Cassius) for their performances.

I UNDERSTAND MAMIE'S BROTHER HERBERT IS GOING TO GIVE ME A BIRTHDAY PRESENT, MOON. DO YOU KNOW WHAT IT IS?

NO, BUT WHATEVER IT IS, I BET IT WON'T COST MUCH MONEY.

YOU'RE MAKING A WHAT, HECTOR?

A THUMBSAVER. IT SAVES YOU THE TROUBLE OF TRYING TO THUMB A RIDE.

I'LL SHOW YOU HOW SIMPLE IT WORKS. YOU JUST PICK OUT A CAR GOING YOUR WAY AND HANG THE HOOK ON THE BUMPER-LIKE THAT.

THIS WILL MAKE RIDING A PLEASURE FOR WILLIE.

BUT HE'S GOT A AUTOMOBILE OF HIS OWN HE CAN USE FOR THAT.

CERTAINLY, BUT ALL THE TIME HE IS RIDING IN THIS IT WILL BE A PLEASURE FOR HIM TO THINK HOW MUCH GAS HE'S SAVING.

LOOK, MOON, I PUT A HORN ON IT, TOO.

HONK!

HONK!

CRASH!

WHOA! WHOA!

WUMP!

WHADDAYA MEAN, MOON BUSTED MY BIRTHDAY PRESENT?

WELL, IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE ME, WILLIE, JUST LOOK AT MY HEAD.

WHEN KRASNA, JACK AND JAXON SURPRISE THE REDS, A BATTLE STARTS AND SOME OF THE REDS ESCAPE IN THEIR PLANE!

SMILING JACK

SUDDENLY THEIR RED PLANE EXPLODES!

WHAT? YOU SAY YOU HAD PUT A TIME BOMB IN THE RED PLANE, DR. FUSION?

IT WAS A CHANCE TO DESTROY MY VITAL RED MISSILE DATA! I HID TH' SECRET PAPERS WITH TH' TIME BOMB!

IF YOU HADN'T RESCUED ME I WOULD HAVE BEEN FORCED TO FLY BACK IN THAT ILL-FATED PLANE!

WHEN TH' RED LEADERS FIND TH' WRECKAGE, THEY'LL THINK I DIED WITH THEIR "COMRADES"!

OH, DR. FUSION NOW THAT YOU ARE A "DEAD" MAN, YOU'LL NEVER BE PUSHED AROUND BY REDS AGAIN!

NO MORE WILL THEY FORCE SECRETS OUT OF YOU BY MAKING THREATS ON YOUR PARENTS!

and TOM MASSEY

WE'RE THROUGH THE TUNNEL! RUN FOR THE CABLE

LISA, COME ON--

THE JOKER !!

HERE'S THE CABLE CAR!
JUMP IN EVERYBODY!

IT WON'T

WE'VE GOT

PULL!

BULLETS WON'T STOP THE GORILLA AND HE'S ALMOST ON TOP OF US!
